Ole Time Get-Together Brought Back Memories

Sunday, March 23rd, the Family Living Committee of "Ole Time" presented a program to promote family togetherness. The event was held in the Columbus High School cafeteria with approximately seventy people in attendance.

The program, entitled Ole Time Get-Together, opened with historical aspects of family life and family life education presented by Dr. Betty Jo Smith, Family Life Education Specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Hopkins of Garwood then gave her presentation on tracing and recording one's family tree.

Next came some interesting tales of long ago, told by Bernice Koliba, and Mrs. Clara Aronk, retrace some personal anecdotes from "the good old days." The final speaker was Houston Police Lieutenant Tom Adams, who spoke briefly on methods to deter burglary of one's home and about crimes commonly committed against the senior citizen.

After the program, everyone was invited to share an old fashioned lunch, served by Mrs. Helen Obenhaus and Mrs. Albina Pavlicek.

Last, but not least, as the saying goes, guests were treated to entertainment by the very talented Travis Street Methodist Church Jug Band of La Grange.

"The Ole Time Get-Together brought back memories of 'the good old days,'" said Leslie Adams, reported for the Family Living Committee.

Xi Pi Psi Program Qn Venezuela

The country of Venezuela was the program topic for the Xi Pi Psi meeting on March 25 at Ernie Sommerlatte's home.

Presented by guests Mrs. Joe Anderson and her daughter Tulle Joan Brummer, a slide film and commentary described the Christmas customs, farm lands and flowers, homes of the rich and poor, and scenes of waterfalls in the thick greenery of the Rain Forest. Tulle Joan has resided in Venezuela for five years, teaching English at Merida University and she brought woven baskets and a miniature lake home made by the natives. The life and geography as described by the guests made everyone feel as they too had visited this interesting South American country.

Officers were elected during the business meeting. Leading the group next year will be president, Ernie Sommerlatte; vice president, Kay Clipson; recording secretary, Jean Williams; treasurer, Pat Cook; corresponding secretary, Jo Ann Mahalic; extension officer, Cherry Corman.

Hostess Ernie served refreshments made by Pat Cook as everyone enjoyed a social time. Reporter.
