House of Rep. Moves To Balance Budget

[By Cong. J. J. Pickle]

The world didn't stop, but for the first time in 12 years the House of Representatives did something meaningful in its efforts to balance the budget for fiscal year 1981.

Before 1975, Congress had no system to approach the budget in a unified manner. Spending bills were voted upon piecemeal, and only after all the dust had settled did the final tally on our budget become known. In 1975, 1 and over 200 members of Congress worked for the establishment of a Congressional Budget procedure.

From 1976 to 1979, this procedure worked to some degree, but it did not result in a balanced budget. This year all parties plan on its working in order to balance the budget.

While we have had 12 years of federal deficit spending, our economy has been wrecked by inflation. I think that not only does the deficit cause inflation by increasing federal borrowing, but also by creating an inflation psychology in all citizens who see no reason to have any faith in government actions to fight inflation when the government will not control its spending habits.

The House action came on the final approval of the Fiscal Year 1981 budget. Under the Budget Act, Congress passes a resolution by May 15 that sets but a spending plan before any spending bills are acted upon.

The total House figure for 1981 budget is $613.8 billion. This is a tremendous amount of money, but then again our national economy is over the $2 trillion figure. The important thing is that the budget provides for a $2 billion surplus.

The final budget version passed 225 to 193. It was a good sense of satisfaction to finally vote for a balanced budget. I think that most Americans agree.

May Marks Tornado Time

Texas Medical Association "Health Tips" reports that April, May and June are prime time for twisters. May seems to be the worst month of all and the hours between 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. are the most dangerous time because that is when it is easiest for thunderstorms to form and create tornadoes, according to weather experts.

When a tornado warning is issued, the TMA urges people to get inside as quickly as possible. If you are inside, open windows on the side of the house away from the storm's approach if there is time to do so. If the house has a basement, take refuge there near the wall in most sheltered and deepest part. If there is no basement, take cover in the smallest room with stout walls. Even a closet will do. Or lie under a heavy piece of furniture against inside walls near the center of the house. Seek shelter away from windows and upper floors of buildings. Keep listening to a battery-powered radio for emergency bulletins.

If away from home, take shelter in a steel-framed or reinforced concrete building. In open country, move away from the tornado's path at a right angle if you know you can outrun the tornado which can move up to 70 mph. If unable to escape its path, lie down flat in a low place that is reasonably safe from flash floods, shield your head and cover your face with clothing to prevent suffocation from dust. Do not stay in a car, trailer or mobile home. Stay out of buildings with wide-open roofs, such as theaters and gymnasiums.

Corpus Christi Redfish Hatchery To Be Built

Better fishing for Texas coastal anglers, through the production of up to six million baby redfish per year for stocking coastal bays, now appears imminent following completion of a unique cooperative agreement between the Gulf Coast Conservation Association (GCCA), the Central Power and Light Company of Corpus Christi, and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The world's largest salt water fish hatchery designed for production of red drum (redfish) will be constructed near the warm water outlet of the electric company's plant at Flour Bluff, south of Corpus Christi.

Thirty acres of land, and thermally enriched outflow from the plant, will be provided by the company.

Cost $450,000-$500,000

Construction costs, estimated between $450,000 and $500,000, will be provided by the sportsman's group, primarily through funds provided by non-profit foundations. More than half the required costs have already been committed, according to [illegible] Welch, vice president of the Corpus Christi chapter of GCCA and principal organizer of the project from its inception.

Operational expenses, including salaries of supervising Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists, will be funded through a grant from the state's fastest growing sportsman's organization.

"The Central Power and Light Company is particularly pleased to participate in this program," said Scott Murray, CP&L Manager of Environmental Protection. "We have long been aware of the potential use of our thermally enriched outflow, and in fact are already cooperating with Texas A&M University on a mariculture project researching the production of shrimp in hatchery ponds. We see the redfish hatchery as proof of the bright future of warm water outflow utilization in improving Texas fishing."

No specific starting date has been announced, but most construction planned has been completed.

Keepers Possible In Year

"This is not just something for the distant future," emphasized, Chuck Weil of the GCCA. "Redfish grow at a rate of about one inch every 10-15 days for their first few months, and a one-year old redfish averages 14 inches. At two years he's 20 inches long; in three years well over two feet long. We're already seeing increased numbers of small redfish in the bays as a result of the state's stocking. think what it can mean when we have ten new hatchery ponds at Flour Bluff that can triple previous production."

By manipulating light periods and temperatures, hatchery brood fish can be induced to spawn in spring, summer, and fall. Normally redfish spawn only in fall. One female in the 25-30 pound class can produce about 15 million eggs per spawning period, and hatching rate averages around 80 to 85 percent.

Freshwater Trotlines Still Must Be Tagged

After Sept. 1, freshwater trotline fishermen in Texas will benefit from somewhat liberalized trotline regulations, but they can expect some tighter enforcement as well according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

A new regulation adopted recently by the Parks and Wildlife Commission retains the former 100 hook limit; but specifies that a person may use more than two trotlines to make up the total. Current law limits trotliners to only two lines, totaling 100 hooks.

David Palmer, field operations supervisor, reminded fishermen they still must mark their lines with legible tags bearing the angler's name, address and the date the line was placed in the water. The line must be redated every 90 days to keep it current, Palmer said.

Abandoned, outdated or unmarked lines are subject to being confiscated by game wardens, Palmer pointed out. This regulation is designed to help keep the state's public waters open to all fishermen, as abandoned trotlines are a nuisance and can be hazardous.

Palmer also said state law prohibits setting any trotlines in the vicinity of public boat docks, swimming beaches or any public place commonly used as a swimming area.

Catholic Church Plans Annual Bazaar June 8

Members of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church in Eagle Lake have started plans for the annual Bazaar and Picnic Dinner to be held at the Eagle Lake Community Center on Sunday, June 8th.

Barbecued beef and sausage and all the trimmings will be served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. for $3.00 for adults and $1.75 for children under 12 years. Curb service will be provided in the pavilion area for adult plates only.

There will be recreation and entertainment throughout the afternoon and an old-fashioned auction will highlight the afternoon activities.

Father Tom Hanus and parishioners ask everyone to mark the date and to make plans to attend this gala event.

Coin Phones Set For 25c

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.'s "Telephone Times" reports that conversion of the state's 80,000 coin telephones to the 25-cent rate is now complete, and the changeover is expected to boost customer service through reduced repairs.

Jim Ward, district staff supervisor-public services in San Antonio, said about 80 percent of coin phone users are using quarters now instead of nickels and dimes.

"Since quarters don't bend easily, they rarely get stuck in the chute," Ward explained. "But dimes are bad about hanging up in the mechanism, and they have caused a lot of our repair visits in the past."

So the fewer dimes dropped into the phones, the better.

The Texas Public Utilities Commission granted the 25-cent rate effective last November.

Mike Benedict Named New Columbus Basketball Coach

MIKE BENEDICT

Michael O. Benedict, former Eagle Lake Middle School coach from 1977 to 1979, has been named the new head basketball coach at Columbus High School.

Benedict, a 1977 graduate of Texas A&M, "spent the 1979-80 season as a junior varsity basketball coach at Mart High School near Waco. He will be taking over a Columbus team that reached the Class AA state quarterfinals last season.

Head basketball coach Cliff Wilkins will be leaving Columbus to take over a similar position at New Braunfels High School, which was a Class AAA school this year.

Wilkins coached 2 seasons for the Cardinals and produced the runner-up team to the district champion and state finalist Rice Raiders in 1978-79; and a District champion and state qualifier this past season. The Cards lost to Boling in the quarterfinals of the state tournament at Austin in March.

The coming season should prove to be quite a challenge to Benedict in his first year as a varsity coach. The Cardinals will be losing three seniors from their starting line-up including 6'-5" postman John Johnson, an all-state performer, and both guards, Jay Toliver and Clifton Glover.

A pair of returnees will give Benedict something to build his team around including 6'-6" Kenneth Johnson, who will be a junior; and 6'5" Todd Baumgart, who will be a senior.

Columbus I.S.D. Superintendent John R. Saul is anticipating good results with the addition of Benedict to the Cardinal coaching staff.

"We are very pleased to have Benedict coming to Columbus High School, said the superintendent. Several respected coaches in the area have given him strong recommendations, so we are anticipating that the hiring of him was an asset to our staff."

Besides his duties as basketball coach, Benedict will also be junior varsity football coach.

Benedict and wife Sally are happy to be moving back to Colorado County where they can renew many old acquaintances.

"The job is a great opportunity for me," according to Benedict, who is looking forward to working with the Columbus staff. "It will also be nice to get back in the area and be close to the many friends Sally and I had during our stay there."

The Benedicts are expecting their first child in mid-summer and hope to move to Columbus in early August.

New Girls Cage Coach

Also added to the Columbus coaching staff for the 1980-81 year is Frank Rivey who will help coach varsity football and head the girls basketball program.

Rivey will fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Coach Randy Schulte who also turned in his resignation in April. Schulte, who coached at Columbus for the past eight years and has been coach of the varsity track team for the past four, is leaving his position to sell insurance.

Sealy Loses Bi-District To Willis 9 to 0

The Sealy Tigers, representing District 20AA in the State playoffs, lost a bi-district baseball game to Willis 9 to 0 on Tuesday and are eliminated from further action. Willis will now move into Regional play.

The Tigers, who shared the District title with the Columbus Cardinals, won the right to advance to bi-district play by knocking off the Cards 8 to 4 in a one-game playoff in Columbus last Saturday afternoon. Both ended the regular district schedule with 10-2 records.

The big blow for the Tigers, coached by Bobby Rivers, came in the fourth inning of their bi-district contest when they gave up seven runs. Willis added two more in the sixth to ice down the victory.

Men's Softball League Slips Back Into Action With Play Mon. & Tues.

Rain Postpones Two Nights Of Play During Last Week

The Rice Area Men's Softball League was finally able to resume its summer schedule on Monday of this week after having two nights of action postponed because of rain.

Despite the sunshine most of the day Monday, the field was not in the best of condition for playing. But, because of some hard work from the Morris Morales Painting crew, city utility director Buddy Jacobs and a couple of other volunteers, the infield was molded into near perfect condition for play Monday night.

Though the outfield still had water standing in it, which hampered play somewhat, play resumed and action was as exciting as ever.

On Monday night, the Lakers played their first game of the season and defeated Everett Anderson Manufacturing. The Baptist picked up their first win of the season by knocking off the Sluggers in the second game of the night, and in the finals Morales Painting beat the Knights of Columbus.

Tuesday night, Duncan beat Lakers, Garwood defeated Anderson, and KCs topped the Baptist.

Men's Softball Coaches Meet Tonite, Wed.

A meeting of men's softball league coaches will be held tonight (Wed.) at 7:55 in the concession stand at the City Ball Park with rescheduling of rain-outs the main topic of discussion.

The meeting will be held rain or shine, so coaches or a representative should plan to attend.

Seven of twelve games scheduled for last week were rained out and with the soggy field and threat of more rain this week, more games could be postponed.

The league is set up for two rounds of play this summer with the first and second round winners meeting in a best-of-three playoff series at the conclusion of the season.

A rain-out must be made up prior to the end of the round that it was scheduled in. The first round ends on Wed., June 4th, so all rain-outs should be rejoyed by that date as a first round winner can be named.
