Christmas Carolers Enjoyed
Anyone who may have had their radio on K.T.R.H. Christmas morning really received a treat. The Christmas carols played that morning were all played in eight different languages. The composers were Bob Stevenson, sports reporter for that station and E. A. Gillum. Many of us remember Mr. Gillum, when he owned Lavaca Muldoon Brangus ranch on the Weimar farm road. He was employed by the Bank of Southwest in Houston and was Choir director for a large Lutheran Church on San Felipe St. in Houston. Many times he entertained the youth groups from his church with outings at his ranch. He passed away in the fall of 1969 at the age of 48, shortly after his wife's death. My family counted ourselves blessed for having known such a fine Christian man.

Guests for Christmas dinner in the I. W. Fuller Jr. home were: Mr. and Mrs. Alton Brown Sr. and Alton Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Webb and Jason, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Fuller Jr., and Mrs. Ruth Fehr. They enjoyed opening gifts and playing games.

Sheridan News Missed
I would like to express my appreciation to my readers who have mentioned to me that they have missed "Sheridan News" during the last two weeks. Because of the early Saturday deadline during the holidays and a rush at the Upholstery shop, I was unable to meet the deadline.

Albania, Europe's most dogmatic Communist country which lives in virtual self-isolation, admits few visitors. Forbidding entry to men with long hair or full beards, and to women in short skirts, flared trousers, and other "displays of decadence." A hairy arrival may be whisked off to the airport barber for a welcome-to-Albania cut. National Geographic says.
