WCJC Madrigal Concert Friday

WCJC Madrigals, and experiment in sound, a musical montage. What does all that mean? Just this states Tom Phillips, director of the Wharton County Junior College Madrigals: The group is going to experiment with sound equipment - lots of microphones, speakers - special sound effects, etcetera. The performance will be Friday, May 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the Dusen-Hansen Art Theatre. "We are calling this experiment: 'Surround Sound'."

It should be a musically "fun" evening assures Phillips who stresses, "again, the performance is free to the public and will be held at the campus theatre in the Dusen-Hansen Fine Arts Theatre at 7:30 p.m. on May 8."
