CPL's Coleto Creek Plant Has Boiler Freeze

- Early morning, January 11th, CPLh Coleto Creek Power Station near Victoria, had a boiler line freeze, and as a result, the plant was knocked out of service leaving CPL with insufficient reperation for all customers to be served at that-moment. CPL immediately dropped nterruptable industrial cusomers, called other industrial customers to ask for voluntary curtailment and had to drop other circuits to meet load. As of 9:00 oblock Jan. 11th, things were beginning to stabilize somewhat by importing additional power from outside CPL System and getting units at CPL that were in cold shut-down brought up for service.

This was a system-wide All customers are asked to coluntarily reduce load to help the situation until things are back to normal.
