Holiday guests

For the 4th of July holiday, guests in the home of Mrs. Ada Ward and V. J. Kana family were Rev. Ray Widacki and Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Ward of Chilton.

Miss Alvina Winkler, sister of Mrs. Ada Ward, of San Antonio was honored on her birthday by nieces, nephews and their families and friends, who gathered for the occasion. A delicious covered dish dinner was served.

Out-of-town guests were from San Antonio, Houston, Smithville, Schulenburg, Pearland, Chilton, and Eagle Lake, Texas and New Orleans, Louisiana.

Walker grandson visits

Clifford Gotcher, 11, grandson of Leonard and Dorothy Walker of Eagle Lake, came for his first birthday.

Last weekend his parents, Major William and Dixie Lee Gotcher, drove here from their home in Albuquerque, NM, with their other son, Matthew, who soon will celebrate his first birthday.

Jennifer Krenek has party

Little Miss Jennifer Lea Krenek celebrated her third birthday on Friday, July 9 at a party given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Krenek, at their home in Garwood. "Happy Birthday" accessories and balloons decorated the party area on the lawn.

The honoree enthused her guests as she excitedly opened her gifts before blowing out the candles on her Twenty Third birthday cake. Refreshments of cake, chips, dip, M&M's and Kool Aid were served. Jennifer's guests to help celebrate the occasion received "goody sacks" as party favors before departing.

Special guests were the birthday girl's sister, Nicole, and her grandmothers, Mrs. James Gertson of Eagle Lake and Mrs. Joe Krenek of Garwood.

Each of her little guests received "goody sacks" as party favors before departing.

Large arrangement of white, pink, and yellow flowers adorned the main altar, and mixed foliage marked the family pews. The simplicity of the floral decorations accented the magnificent beauty of the sanctuary.

Mrs. Bobbie Swain presented a prelude of bridal music and accompanied soloist William P. Carpenter as he sang "The Lord's Prayer." "Trumpet Voluntary" was played for the processional, and the recessional was "Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee."

For her wedding, Miss Danklefs selected a formal gown of white organza and Alencon lace. The molded bodice was a cluster of lace with a wedding band neckline enhancing a sheer yoke of English net. The traditional sleeves came to a point over the wrists, defined by lace appliques. The full A-line accented skirt fell softly to a train of chapel length edged with Alencon lace. To complement her formal gown, she chose a fingertip veil of white illusion edged in re-embroidered Alencon lace falling from a modified Juliet cap of matching lace.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white Freesia, Fleurs d'Amour, Queen Anne's lace, and Juliana lilies accented with air plane plant.

Bridal Attendants: Matron of Honor was Mrs. Susie Bruggen of Houston; and Maid of Honor was Miss Peggy Stallman of Houston. Mrs. June Danklefs, sister-in-law of the bride, was bridesmaid.

Her attendants were gowned alike in floor length deep coral silk chiffon featuring a blouse bodice with short sleeves and peplum waist. They carried bouquets of mixed Gerbera daisies in yellow, coral, peach, and red with the groom's table held a large round German chocolate cake iced and decorated with chocolate frosting. Houseparty members were Mrs. Robin Thomas, Ann Williams, June Thomas and Chi Omega Sorority sisters of the bride, Laurie Brooks, Sabrina Rhodes, Martha Michie, Missy Chapman.

The bride is a graduate of Rice High School and Texas A&M University, where she was a member of Town Hall and president of Chi Omega Sorority. She is employed as a purchasing analyst with Shell Oil Company in Houston.
