On Tuesday afternoon, March 14, twenty F.H.A. members and nine cosponsors participated in a fashion show at the Sheridan P.T.S. meeting. The P.H.A. members modeled the various articles of clothing that they made in class.

The cosmetology students displayed on each other the hair styles that will be in style this season. The cosmetology students also displayed their models that they took to contest in Houston three weeks ago.

Among them were David Cardenas and Karen Schneider, who after intense thinking guessed that it was Pamela Linne Black. Doe Doe Pratt said that he wasn't sure but it could be Lisa Parker. Paula Baumgarten and Valerie Benge had a hunch that this cute little girl was Patricia Fields. Ava Kallina seemed to think that it was Pam Stovall, while Leslie Harrison incorrectly guessed it was Darlene Lee. Also, Susan Drikk, Cindy Barrios and Laurie Bubala took a wild guess that it was Stephanie Yvonne Rhodes.

Although there were many incorrect guesses, Phillip Schorlemmer, Sonia Hernandez, Roger Meisner, Veronica Woods, Jerma Munoz, Jeff Argo, and Delbert Jarvis were correct. Each of them knew without a doubt that this week's mystery baby is Stephanie Yvonne Rhodes.

So it is a senior at Rice High School this year and has been active in sports and school organizations each of those years.

Junior-senior prom is a success

By Lisa Corman

After school on Thursday, March 10, some of the juniors from Rice High School began decorating the commons for the big extravaganza Saturday night. At the break of dawn Friday, the juniors began straggling in one by one ready to decorate.

Decorating was going just fine until the band arrived and the water began to flow everywhere. Everyone scurried around trying to save decorations which were lying on the floor. As the day came to an end, the decorations were almost completely but everyone would return Saturday to put the final touches on the scenery.

Saturday at 8 p.m., 137 students attending the Junior-Senior Prom.

Raider nine lose two in Weimar tournament

By Stacey Holden

The Raiders participated in a double elimination tournament held in Weimar March 10 through March 12.

Alex Ramirez, in a losing effort against Rockdale, had three strike-outs and gave up seven hits. The Raider defense had four errors. In the top of the first inning, Rockdale jumped out to an early lead as the first three batters connected for base hits, and all three scored. The next three batters were retired in order.

Two Raiders reached bases in the bottom of the first as a result of being hit by the pitcher, but they were unable to score. Rockdale was retired in the second with no scoring. The Raiders started a rally in the bottom of the second, and were able to push across two runs on six hits. They left two stranded on the bases.

In the top of the third, Rockdale got two more runs on two hits, making the score five to two. They added another unearned run in the top of the sixth, and again in the top of the seventh. The Raiders had five more hits throughout the game, but they were unable to score. The final score was Rockdale 7, Rice Raiders 2. For the Raiders, Ellis had two for four; Corman had two for four; Munoz had two for three; Brown had one for one; Soto had one for three; and Ramirez had three for three.

In their second game of the double elimination tournament, Rice met Edna. The Raiders scored first in the top of the third as Ellis led off the inning and got on base on an error. He advanced on the bases when Saulnier grounded out to third, and scored on a base hit by Ramirez. The score was 1 to 0, but Edna tied the game in the bottom of the fourth, getting one unearned run. Edna went ahead in the bottom of the fifth when they scored one run on two hits. The Raiders came alive in the top of the sixth and pushed across four runs with three hits. Edna scored one run in the bottom of the sixth. The Raiders led going into the seventh inning, 5 to 3. Edna scored five times in the top of the seventh on one hit. Going into the last half of the seventh, Edna led 8 to 5. Rice was able to score two runs on two hits, but Edna won the game with a score of 8 to 7. Corman was the losing pitcher for the Raiders. Hitting for the Raiders were Ellis with one for four; Saulnier one for four; Ramirez one for four; Spaniel two for four; and Wunderlich one for four.

The Raiders are showing improvement in each pre-district game. District will begin on March 29.

Science fair is here

By Julia Rosprim

All the work of doing science projects is now finished. The fourteen students from Rice High School who are participating in the El Campo Science Fair are ready to go.

Many long hours have been put in by the students and their sponsor, Catherine Balazsek. The work they have been doing over the last few months has been sometimes exciting, at times nerve-racking, and almost always a fight against deadlines. Many valuable lessons have been learned during this time, especially having to cope with each others attitudes. But everything is behind the students now. The science fair is here.

The El Campo Science Fair is being held Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week. Set-up for the displays is Wednesday. Judging takes place on Thursday. On Friday morning, students competing in the science fair will visit the Wharton County Junior College science department. The fair will be open to the public on Friday afternoon from 1 to 5 p.m. The awards assembly will be held Friday evening at 8. These people are proud of their work and would enjoy having you see it. If you have a chance, come on over to El Campo and show these students good luck at the regional science fair. Watch in next week's paper for a complete review of the results.

Who's Zat?

By Becky Benge

Can you guess who this bundle of joy in the big bonnet is? If you are finding yourself puzzled, don't fret because many other people could not place the name of the mystery baby with the face.

Among them were David Cardenas and Karen Schneider, who after intense thinking guessed that it was Pamela Linne Black. Doe Doe Pratt said that he wasn't sure but it could be Lisa Parker. Paula Baumgarten and Valerie Benge had a hunch that this cute little girl was Patricia Fields. Also, Susan Drikk, Cindy Barrios and Laurie Bubala took a wild guess that it was Stephanie Yvonne Rhodes.

Although there were many incorrect guesses, Phillip Schorlemmer, Sonia Hernandez, Roger Meisner, Veronica Woods, Jerma Munoz, Jeff Argo, and Delbert Jarvis were correct. Each of them knew without a doubt that this week's mystery baby is Stephanie Yvonne Rhodes.

Save electricity on air conditioning.
Tune it up before you turn it on!

Be kind to your air conditioner—and yourself. This year call a qualified technician before the hot weather begins so you can have the entire system cleaned and put in first-class condition. An air conditioner running at top efficiency uses less energy, and therefore will help you save money on your electricity bill.

Dealers say that many air conditioners two or more years old may be operating at greatly reduced efficiency if they have not been properly serviced. As a result, you could be spending a lot more than you need to run the unit—a steep price to pay for neglecting the checkup that should be done each spring.

If you'd like more information, ask for our booklet, "How to Save Money on Your Air Conditioning." It's available free at all CPL offices.
