Debra Cooper, Robert Sheppard exchange wedding vows April 9

Miss Debra Lynn Cooper became the bride of Robert Arthur Sheppard in a candlelight ceremony performed Saturday, April 9 at seven o'clock in the evening at the First Baptist Church in Eagle Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cooper are parents of the bride. The groom's parents are Mrs. Roberta Sheppard of Houston and Robert Arthur Sheppard, Jr. of Hopewell, New Jersey.

The Reverend Melburn Sibley led the couple in pledging the traditional marriage vows before an altar resplendent in candlelight and spring flowers. An altar below the baptistry was filled with a formal arrangement of spring wood fern and plumose surrounding three unity candles. To either side of the altar area were tall tree candelabra holding tiers of candles rising from large arrangements of wood fern and plumose.

Tell grecian columns were placed to either side of the chancel rail. Each column held an immense urn of mixed spring flowers in all tones of lavender and purple. Nougat arrangements of fresh spring flowers in lavender and purple decorated each pew reserved for family members. The entire central aisle was decorated with large bows of candlelight lace and satin cascading to the floor from the top of each pew.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, was elegant in a designer gown of candlelight chiffon designed with a portrait neckline and a bodice of re-embroidered Alencon lace over heavily beaded English net. The full bell sleeves of Schiffler embroidered lace heavily embellished in pearls and crystals were caught with deep petal point cuffs. The entire front panel of the floor length skirt was embroidered Schiffler and Alencon lace that swept back to accent diminutive bands of pleated ruffles that covered the entire cathedral train.

The bride wore a Victorian picture hat that secured a short bluish veil of silk illusion. She carried a large cascading bouquet of bluish bridal roses, dendrobium orchids, French heather, white lilies, purple sennata caught with gypsophelia caught with candlelight lace. The cascading effect of her bouquet extended to the slipper hemline of her gown.

Complimenting the bride's attire was the traditional something old, antique hat pins; something new, a pearl necklace; gift from her parents; an antique lilac lace handkerchief from her grandmother, Mrs. Marie Cooper; and something blue, her garter.

Bride's attendants
The bride's attendants were Mrs. Johnny Jobe, matron of honor; Mrs. James Brune, Jr. and Miss Elizabeth Berger, bridesmaids; and Misses Melanie Wiese and Mellicent Morton, cousins of the bride, were junior bridesmaids.

All were identically attired in floor length gowns of candlelight chiffon. Each gown was designed with a bodice featuring an off-the-shoulder ruffle and a full chignon cummerbund at the waist. The A-line skirt fell into a deep hemline ruffle that swept back into a demi-train that was attached at the waist to create a bustle back.

The attendants carried full Victorian cascading bouquets of gladioli, elegance carnations, sennata statice, gypsophelia and heather in shades of deep purple. Accenting each bouquet was candlelight lace and purple velvet ribbon.

Serving as flower girl was little Miss Merideth Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Anderson. She was attired in a floor length gown of candlelight organza designed along similar lines as the gowns of the older attendants. She carried a natural willow basket of mixed spring flowers in varied purple tones.

Serving as the groom's best man was Jim Plaznick. Groomsmen were Johnny Cooper, brother of the bride and

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sheppard

Donald Ray Wiese, the bride's uncle. Junior groomsmen were the bride's cousins, David and Richard Wiese, Lance Grigar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Grigar, and Mrs. Michael Grigar, who was the ringbearer for the ceremony. Serving as ushers were Michael Grigar and Mark Anderson.

All men in the wedding party were identically attired in candlelight tuxedos and each wore a cluster boutonniere of mixed spring flowers in purple tones.

The bride's mother chose an empire gown of azure blue chiffon over taffeta that featured a jeweled neckline with a flowing chignon overlay. She wore a purple cattleya orchid corsage. The groom's mother selected a smoky rose gown of lace and organza fashioned with a high handkerchief neckline. A soft Victorian ruffle framed the bodice front and extended over the shoulders. She also wore a purple cattleya orchid corsage.

Special guests present for the wedding were grandmothers of the bride, Mrs. Marie Cooper and Mrs. Mae Reagan; aunt of the bride, Mrs. Donald Ray Wiese; also Mrs. Michael Grigar. Corsages of lily-of-the-valley were worn by the grandmothers. The bride and her mother presented cymbidium orchid corsages to Mesdames Wiese and Grigar. Other special guests that were honored by being presented corsages of purple dendrobium orchids and spring flowers were Mesdames Milton Morton, Lawrence Berger, Mark Anderson, William Farris, Howard Wiese, Ed

Rehearsal Dinner
The wedding party and special guests of the Cooper-Sheppard wedding party enjoyed a dinner at the Farris 1912 following rehearsal Friday night, April 8. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ray Wiese, aunt and uncle of the bride, were hosts for the occasion.

Following an invocation by Mark Anderson, the guests were seated in the hotel dining room for the salad course of spring garden leaf lettuce and vegetables with a spicy Italian house dressing. The buffet dinner followed with a menu of coc au vin, seasoned garlic rice, baked green beans with cheese and onion topping, hot rolls, and a dessert of chocolate mousse topped with whipped cream, toasted pecans and cherries.

After dinner festivities included the traditional exchanging of gifts by the honored couple and their attendants. A surprise to Debra and Robert was beautiful tribute paid to them by Donald Ray Wiese on behalf of Debra's family.

attendants bouquets with the bride's bouquet filling the lower level creating a massed display of lavender and purple blossoms framing the cake. The top tier of the cake was centered by a delicate crystal branch holding two crystal doves. This delicate glass art work was a gift to the bride and groom from the bride's father.

A long buffet table in the hotel solarium was skirted in a candlelight ivory floor length cloth covered in candlelight lace. A silver compote filled with gladioli, heather, statice, freesia, tulips and gypsophelia in purple tones formed the centerpiece. To either side a pair of antique gold mirrors reflected the candlelight of two large silver five-branch candelabra. A wedding buffet of smoked turkey breast, miniature sweet-sour sausage, chicken-a-la-gratin in pastry shells, sausage and cheese rolls, assorted party breads, spreads and relishes, fresh strawberries, a hoop of Blue Grass cheese and an array of garden vegetable sticks and garden vegetable dip was served from all silver appointments. A silver coffee service and silver punch service were placed near the table on an English walnut serving table.

Champagne was served from bars in the Drummer's Room and the second floor mezzanine. Organist Herman Dahl provided music throughout the reception for the pleasure of those attending.

Following the festive reception the bride and groom departed for a flight to Las Vegas where they remained for their honeymoon. Upon returning, they have made their home in Houston where Mr. Sheppard is employed by Eagle Groceries. He is also the co-owner of the Alief Batting Cages.

White gladioli in standing baskets and arch candelabra flanked the altar. Aisle candelabra were decorated with white carnations and greenery.

Betty Merita and Don Merita provided the musical selections.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her cousin, Dick Appling. She wore a traditional gown which featured a Queen Anne neckline accented with lace. Lace accents marked the leg-of-mutton sleeves and tiered skirt. Her veil fell from a wreath of silk flowers and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Johnson, Cranek united in marriage

Miss Jeanenne Marie Johnson and Thomas C. Cranek exchanged wedding vows in a candlelight ceremony at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon on Saturday, April 23 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Nada.

Mgr. Victor G. Schmidt, officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. W. S. Johnson of Louise and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Louis V. Cranek, Jr. of Garwood.

Attendants
Karen Besdek of Louise attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids included her sister, Glynna Henderson, Cindy Carlston, Sheila Vajdos and Deanne Marek, all of Louise; and Donna Cranek, Sharon Andress and Maria Cranek, all of Garwood.

The bride's attendants wore pink formal gowns which featured off-the-shoulder ruffled necklines, cummerbunds and ruffled hemlines. They carried nosegays of spring flowers.

Christie Cranek of Garwood was the flower girl and Kirk Henderson was the ring bearer.

John Schneider of Garwood served the groom as best man. Groomsmen included the groom's brother, Larry Cranek, Rick Leopold, Marvin Wied and Gale Thompson, all of Garwood.

Witnesses for the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. James Cranek of Garwood.

Garwood; Kenneth Staff and Thierry Hoffman, both of Nada; and Riekey Ramsey of Louise. Ushers were Eddie Balusek, John Seifert, and Gerald and Gary Cranek, brothers of the groom.

Reception follows
Following the ceremony, a dinner and dance were held at Nada Hall. The houseparty consisted of Kim Courville, Marsha Knebel, Donna Ramsey, Doris Koenig, Joetta brother and sister-in-law of the groom.

Fresh pink carnations decorated the double three-tiered wedding cake. A bridge connecting the two sections rose above a fountain bubbling with pink water.

The groom's German chocolate cake was decorated with chocolate roses. An arrangement with a bride and groom inside a tractor was placed beside the cake.

Following a wedding trip to Orlando, Florida, the couple will reside in Louise. The bride is employed by First State Bank of Louise and the groom is engaged in rice farming.

A rehearsal dinner was held at Staff's Catering.

Keith Austin honored on third birthday

Keith Willis Austin was honored on his third birthday with a swimming party held at the Gene Jones' residence on April 30.

Pac Man was the theme used throughout the party. The chocolate cakes, Mr. and Mrs. Pac Man, were decorated by his mother, Tammy Austin. Guests were served sandwiches, chips, punch, ice cream and cake after the birthday boy opened his presents. The children then enjoyed an afternoon of swimming.

Upon their departure, Keith presented his friends with a bag of assorted candy. Special guests included his grandmother, Barbara Roan, and his Aunt Judi and Uncle Bill, all of Houston; Aunt Paula and Uncle Tim and cousins, Mikki, Kelly, Michael and Matthew of Bay Town; great grandmother, Granny Tuttle, great aunt, Gay Stephens and cousin Tina from Garwood. Also, guests from Bay City, Wharton, Lissie, Garwood and Eagle Lake came to help Keith celebrate this happy occasion.

John Mader attends principal's conference

John Mader, principal of the Garwood school, was among the selected elementary school principals from across the state to attend a "shirt sleeve" conference hosted by the educational administration segment of the Department of Education at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos April 6-7.

The conference was held in Wimberley and provided an opportunity for participants to interact with S.W.T. faculty, visiting consultants and each other regarding current issues in school administration.

GREAT ACCIDENT STORIES

Actual Quotes from Insurance or Accident Forms from across the Nation:

To avoid hitting the bumper of the car in front, I struck the pedestrian.

I saw the slow moving, sad-faced old gentleman as he bounced off the hood of my car.

The telephone pole was approaching fast. I attempted to swerve out of its path when it struck my front end.
