Who's Zat?

By: Roxanne Ripper
There was a question roaming about Rice High School this past week. Everyone wanted to know who this cute young lady was. The only clue given was that she is a member of the senior class.

Those who did not guess correctly were: Kristine Carpenter and Joe Lang, who thought it was Cathy Lanyon; Doug Baumgarten said it had to be Stacey Holden; Robby Pavlu incorrectly said it to be Lisa Corman; Larry Taylor knew it had to be Monica Pieprzyca; Steven Simcik figured it to be Renee Dierschke; and Billy Cook said it had to be Connie Prazak.

Those who guessed correctly were: Renee Dierschke, Albert Tomchesson and Carl Brown. They all knew it had to be Lori Hoffmann. Lori is active in Cosmetology and a member of the Rice High School Student Council. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leopold of Napa.

Student Council has first meeting Class officers elected Meet the Raiders

By: Stacey Holden
On Wednesday morning, August 31, the Student Council representative elections were held. Although there were several candidates from each class, students were only allowed to vote for six from their respective class. The six that received the most votes from each class were named the 1983-84 Student Council representatives.

The representatives are as follows: freshmen: Lisa Drik, Melissa Engstrom, Lesley Matthews, Debra Soto, Delores Soto, Elizabeth Young and Carol Kornek; sophomores: Laura Appelt, Valerie Benge, Susan Kalua, Beverly Rucka, Stralecia White, Audrey Williams and Tina Grahmann; juniors: Kristine Carpenter, Bertie Garcia, Rachelle Hunt, Becky Kutzer, Michael Sibley, Jon Wunderlich and Derrick Williams; and seniors: Lisa Corman, Rhonda Cotton, Lori Hoffmann, Stacey Holden, Missy Huvar, Connie Prazak and Roxanne Ripper.

Congratulations are extended to these students for their accomplishment.

The election of class officers was held on Thursday, September 1. Four students from each grade were chosen to fulfill the offices of president, vice president, secretary/treasurer, and reporter.

The results of the elections are as follows:
Senior class officers: Stacey Holden, president; Cory Shorter, III, vice president; Rhonda Cotton, secretary/treasurer; and Renee Dierschke, reporter.
Junior class officers: Derrick Williams, president;

Susan Gold, vice president; Rachelle Hunt, secretary/treasurer; and Kristine Carpenter, reporter.
Sophomore class officers: Beverly Rucka, president; Valerie Benge, vice president; Stralecia White, secretary/treasurer; and Laura Appelt, reporter.
Freshman class officers: Elizabeth Young, president; Lisa Drik, vice president; Carol Kornek, secretary/treasurer; and Delores Soto, reporter.
We wish all these young leaders a very successful year.

Determination, self discipline, guts, lots of hard work and sweat are a few of the things it takes to be a football player. To reach success, it takes a team effort. Two of the many valuable players on the Rice Varsity squad are Delbert Jarvis and Michael Davis. Delbert, a 6'7", 175 pound senior, plays the positions of tight end and cornerback. When asked how he felt about the team Delbert answered, "I think if we stay together, we'll get a lot farther than last year. Our team is really progressing." Delbert is the son of Mrs. Furma Jarvis.

mined this year, but the team would benefit by seeing more spirit and encouragement from students and fans. Let's all try to do our best to give them full support.

New student

By: Vickie Hernandez
Rice High School has another new addition to the student body. This former student of Lamar Consolidated Independent School in Rosenberg is Monica Lopez, daughter of Raul and Mariela Lopez. Monica, a junior, enjoys cooking, sewing, bike riding and cruising. Out of all of her classes, she likes American History and Algebra 3-4 the most. And when asked which teachers she likes most and why, Monica replied that she likes Coach Faldyn, teacher of American History, the best because he is an interesting teacher and makes learning fun. Monica also said that she likes the friendly people and the easy going atmosphere at Rice.

Student Council representatives elected

By: Lisa Corman
On Wednesday, September 7 the Rice High School Student Council held their first business meeting. President: Cory Shorter, III, called the meeting to order. Then he welcomed each member, and discussed the council constitution.

This year the Rice Student Council is vice president of the CVASC. President Shorter stressed that everyone should be proud of this honor and do the job. The next order of business was the election of the 1983-84 officers. They are as follows: Cory Shorter, III, president; Sheila Dabney, vice president; Roxanne Ripper, recording secretary; Missy Huvar, corresponding secretary; Stacey Holden, treasurer; Lisa Corman, reporter; and Kristine Carpenter, historian.

Next on the agenda were committees for the Thursday night football game. President Shorter stressed everyone is expected to help in the concession stands during freshman and junior varsity home games.

Homecoming festivities were discussed. The goal for this year is to make sure everyone is happy with the activities and that the Raider spirit is evident all around the school. It was stressed that committees must work together in order to get things done and be a successful council.

President Shorter said he felt that it would be a great year if everyone was willing to do their share and work together.

The meeting was adjourned.

Good luck to the Student Council in their activities throughout the year.

Play tryouts to be held September 20

Any high school student planning to join out for a school play scheduled for December 5, should pick up a reading script this week, counselor Doug Wright said Monday.

Tryouts for the play, called "The decline and fall of Wilbur's empire," will be held Tuesday, Sept. 20 in the high school meeting room, after school. Cast selection will be held Sept. 23. Rehearsals will begin the following week.

Stacey Holden nominated for senate youth program

Stacey Denise Holden, a senior at Rice High School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holden of Eagle Lake, has been nominated from the Rice School District to compete in the United States Senate awards youth program.

As a nominee, she will compete with others in Texas to be one of two delegates selected to attend a week in Washington learning about government.

Miss Holden is president of the senior class.

The program was created by the U. S. Senate, and funded not by tax dollars but by the William Hearst Foundation. In addition to the trip to Washington, scheduled January 29 to February 4, the delegates also will receive $2,000 scholarships. Two alternates also will be selected from each state.

Natural Gas Water Heating

A sure source of refreshment.

A natural gas water heater is one luxury everyone can afford. And one that no modern home should be without. It uses primary energy three times more efficiently than an electric water heater. And that saves you money all year long.

When it's time to buy a new home, or to replace your existing water heater, make sure you insist on dependable efficient natural gas.

The Gallery's
Toy
Sitting

Suzanne Corman

You can have a lovely Gallery portrait made and...

— save the cost of the regular sitting
AND — participate in a worthwhile Christmas project to help underprivileged children!

All you do is...
make your appointment for September
AND bring a new toy!

The photography session is not limited to children only — it can be of a group, individual or couple.
The toys will be given to Santa through Beta Sigma Phi women's organizations in Eagle Lake and Columbus. These ladies help distribute the toys to children throughout Colorado County whose Christmas might be lacking without your help!
Appointments are scheduled as calls are received, so call early for a time convenient to you.
