Two readers missed the same number of games in last week's Headlight Football Contest, and both said there would be 40 points scored in the Rice-Sealy game which ended 40-0 in favor of Rice.

Therefore, as the rules state, there was a draw between the two and Jeff Pencik, a previous winner, was awarded the $10 weekly first prize. The second place $5 check went to Skip Pustejovsky.

Both incorrectly guessed that Belleville would win over Columbus. However, Pencik guessed TSI would beat Alcorn State.

Raiders better record with 40-0 win

The Rice Raiders walloped Sealy 40-0 in an away game last Friday to improve its district 24-3A standings, but Brookshire Royal continued its winning ways to lead with a perfect district slate.

Rice is now in fifth place in the eight-team league, with a 2-1 district record. Royal leads with a 3-0 record while Waller is second with a 2-0-1 record. LaGrange and the Columbus Cardinals are tied with 2-1 records, and although LaGrange has scored six more points than the Cardinals, their defense has allowed 35 more points to be scored against them.

This Friday night, LaGrange plays at Brookshire, and Rice plays at Waller.

Last Friday gave the Raiders a chance to exercise scoring power, and since it was in such a commanding lead, gave David Morgan the opportunity to gain valuable experience.

The game also saw quarterback Mel Pratt continue to rack up statistics that are making him one of the leaders in the position since the school was formed.

The game was never in doubt after the first kick-off that saw Rice work the ball

22 yards downfield in seven plays. Michael Davis scored from the one and Pratt made the point-after-kick a good one. Pratt also made a 57-yard rushing gain during the series, and did not throw a pass.

Sealy then ran three plays and was forced by our defense to punt. Again Rice moved the ball well, for a 72 yard score in eight plays. Pratt ran it in from the one, but the point after was no good on a bad snap.

When the Raiders got possession again, the official ruled a fumble after a Rice receiver caught a pass but lost the ball when he hit the ground. They got the ball back when Sealy fumbled before they could move downfield. In all, Sealy fumbled nine times, losing six, and Rice fumbled four times but lost only one.

After Rice recovered their second fumble, they scored again before the first quarter ended, when Harborth ran it in from the two, making it 20-0. Less than two minutes later Pratt tossed a 28-yard TD ball to James Amos. Through the rest of the game, Pratt and Morgan shared duties.

G-S team wins again

The Garwood-Sheridan football team continued its winning ways last week, beating Sacred Heart 22-0, according to coaches Bennie Machas and Mike Michalka.

The first touchdown came in the first quarter on a 70-yard run by Johnny Barker. Derrick Stevens made the two-point conversion on a three-yard run.

In the second quarter Stevens scored on another 70-yard run with Barker again scoring the two points, making the tally 16-0 at the end of the half.

Although there was no scoring in the third quarter, Garwood-Sheridan added to their points in the fourth, when Barker made a touchdown on a 85-yard run.

Barker had 135 yards rushing for the game with Stevens gaining 125. Perdue had 31, Lopez 3 and Soto 1.

On defense, Perdue had seven tackles while Bobby Walker had 4, Barker, Grahmann, Stevens and Lopez each had 2. Cash Coble had three tackles.

Garwood-Sheridan recovered four defensive fumbles, which were covered by Lopez, Van Hawthorne, Barker and Perdue.

The team plays Damon this week.

Many enjoy Garwood fair

The Garwood Lions Club members spent a long day Saturday conducting their annual Fair and Carnival, but after the crowds had departed the Garwood School grounds, and the money was counted, the day was termed one of their most successful.

Although a final accounting will not be available for a while, the club raised several thousand dollars to continue its civic projects in the Nada and Garwood areas.

Starting with the parade in the morning, and ending with the raffle drawing after the Fair contest in the evening, the weather was perfect, and the attendance plentiful.

For the parade, chairman Herbert Engstrom said there were 27 units that participated, with the float from the First National Bank of Eagle Lake winning the trophy for the best overall unit. The Rice Raider band and cheerleaders placed second, the unit with a donkey pulling the wagon placed third, and the Darlin Dolls of Columbus were fourth overall. Additional parade winners are listed below.

Tracy Walla of Columbus was crowned queen in the "Fairness of the Fair" contest, according to chairman David White. She is a 15-year-old sophomore at Columbus High School, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Walla. She was sponsored by the Columbus Noon Lions Club.

graduates of the old Garwood High School, coordinated by John Engstrom, who presented several awards during the talent contest.

Tony Richter of Houston was the member from the earliest class. He graduated in 1928. Lester Snow, from the class of 1932, traveled the furthest. He lives 240 miles away, in Granbury, southwest of Fort Worth. Ed Lee and Ernestine Schneider of Garwood won the award for the most children — they have six, and the class of 1965 won the honor for having the most members at the fair — seven graduates.

Engstrom also was master of ceremonies for the talent show, which brought almost a full crowd into the school's gymnasium. Participants were the Beau Parker Band; Shari Webb, Vicky Hernandez, Michele Genz and Melissa Engstrom, performing to the song "My Boyfriend's Back"; Stephanie LaHay, Rachelle Kallina, Andrea Engstrom, and Marilyn Thomas' super strutters; for animal entries: the donkey drawn wagon; for clowns: the adults and children with a wagon, three adults with polka dot balloons, and the clown with a green costume; for vehicles: the Rice cheerleaders, the St. Mary's Crusaders, and the Rice Classroom Teachers Association; for civic groups: the Boy Scouts; for historical entries: the Lehrer Interests in a 1919 vehicle, and the Garwood fire department vehicle; and in the miscellaneous category, the small John Deere tractor pulling children dressed for Halloween, the M&M Candy family, and the woman pulling a wagon with a child.

Participants in the Little Miss and Mr. portion of the day were DeAnn Blair, 6, daughter of Tommy and Linda Blair of Columbus; Chad Kallina, 3, son of Bonnie and Marsha Kallina of Garwood; Brooke Crane, 3 1/2, daughter of Kim and Kentuck Crane, of Nada; Andrea Marie Engstrom, 5, daughter of John and Lydia Engstrom of Garwood; Crystal Lorraine Atkins, 5, daughter of William L. and Julie Atkins of Garwood; Kristi Stienke, 6, daughter of Kathy and Ralph Stienke of Garwood; Delana Smith, 3 1/2, daughter of Mitchell and Patsy Smith of Garwood; Alison Clare Atkins, 6, daughter of William L. and Julie Atkins of Garwood; Stephanie LaHay, 8, daughter of Del and Kate LaHay of Garwood; Jennifer Jobe, 5, daughter of James K. and Frankie Jobe of Garwood; Jennifer Les Krenek, 4, daughter of J.P. and Beverly Krenek of Garwood; and Rachelle Kallina, 4, daughter of Bonnie and Marsha Kallina of Garwood.

United Way halfway to goal

The United Way of Eagle Lake fund drive is progressing well, and has almost reached the 50 percent mark.

The goal this year is $13,925, and as of last Friday, almost $7,000 had been deposited in the organization's account at the First National Bank.

Additional donations were received Monday and Tuesday, and when deposited should push the goal over the 50 percent mark, according to Phyllis Thomas, who with Ernie Sommerlatte, is co-drive leader.

Envelopes distributed by the Rotary Club and Lions Club should be returned to club members as soon as possible, or turned in to a seller at the bank.

The following is a partial list of donors as of October 14:

Balas issued plumbing permit;

Liriope plants needed now

A plumbing permit had to be issued last week to Steve Balas so he could finish his volunteer work on installing the new sprinkler system that the Beautification committee is giving the city as part of its municipal square re-landscaping project.

Last Tuesday, councilman Dub Alley questioned Balas on whether he had a permit to do the pipe work. Balas, thinking Alley was joking, admitted he did not.

After the councilman informed city manager Robert Klockman about the situation, a temporary permit was issued to Balas, at no charge. Balas and Nelson Isenhower volunteered several days work to install the sprinkling system, which also was donated.

With that work finished, according to Elfe Thomas, the landscaping project needs liriope plants to be donated. "We need a lot," Mrs. Thomas said. The plants can be taken to Canaris Nursery, and should have the root system clumped in dirt.

Chamber hires banquet speaker

Ray Stone, who broadcasts the Dallas Cowboys radio report, has been approved as the speaker for the annual Eagle Lake Chamber of Commerce Banquet scheduled in January.

The chamber board gave that approval Monday during its monthly meeting at the Sportsman's Restaurant.

Jo Ann Mahalite suggested hiring Stone, and noted that although his fee is $700, he should encourage more people to attend. Also, the fee includes two footballs autographed by the Cowboy players. One will be sent before January to be raffled off. Stone will bring the second one, and auction it off at the banquet. The board feels those sales will help cover the additional higher fee for the speaker, which in the past two years has been only $200 to $300.

The chamber also agreed to share up to $700 of the cost of a brochure for the Industrial Foundation is having printed, featuring the industrial site on FM 3013 that the foundation will be purchasing. The brochure is designed to present information about the site, as well as the city, and can be used by the chamber as well as the foundation, since the two organizations work closely together.

"In other business, the board learned that Weimar, Flatonia and Gonzales have hired and attorney in Washington to represent their interests in fighting the Greyhound Bus Co. application to discontinue service.

Fatima statue at St. Mary's Church

The Victoria Diocesan Pilgrim Statue of Our Lady of Fatima, brought to this country by a group of parishioners from St. Mary's Catholic Church in Nada, is now in the Nada church and will remain there through Monday.

Special devotions are being conducted each evening at the 7 p.m. Mass and the public is invited, according to Rev. Monsignor Victor G. Schmidzinsky of St. Mary's Parish.

Taiton, a neighboring parish. "The public is invited to pray to the Virgin Mary for Peace and Vocations, and for any other particular need for themselves and country," Father Schmidzinsky said Tuesday.

Bishop Charles V. Grahmann, D.D., blessed the Pilgrim Statue of Our Lady of Fatima on Thursday, October 13, at an impressive ceremony at 7 p.m. in Our Lady of Victory Cathedral in Victoria. In his message, Bishop Grahmann said:

"In this day and time we need to take up the appeal of Our Lady of Fatima for peace, for vocations and for all spiritual and physical needs. "Instead of waiting for years for the National and International Pilgrim Statue of Our Lady of Fatima to come to our Diocese. Her presence will mean many more blessings for the Diocese, the Parish and each individual. No many Dioceses have this privilege and opportunity of a Pilgrim Statue. This will help the diocese of Victoria to become a real dedicated Marian Diocese. "I heartily endorse this Marian Devotion, and whoever would like to have the Statue come to their parish, should feel free to make arrangements for its visit." Father Schmidzinsky

Bishop Charles V. Grahmann, D.D., was photographed last week with the Pilgrim Statue of Our Lady of Fatima, in Victoria.
