Historical pictures of Glidden sought

Members of the Colorado County Historical Survey Commission met July 18 at the Stafford Opera House. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Patti Price, Mrs. Nancy Wooten and Mrs. Susan Rogers. They assisted in serving the covered dish supper.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Hopkins, chairman, presided over the business meeting. She had a request from Mrs. Dorothy Jean Heine of Weimar for a picture of the old section house in Glidden. Mrs. Heine is writing the history of Glidden and if anyone has this or any other picture of historical interest, please contact her at 732-3637.

Mrs. Hopkins then reminded the commission that she has served as their chairman for the past 10 years and that she wishes to step down. She appointed a nominating committee of William H. Harrison Sr. of Eagle Lake, Dr. James Wooten of Columbus and Mrs. Ruth Youens of Weimar.

Following other business, she adjourned the meeting and introduced Sharon Hall who gave the slide program "Columbus — The Essence of Colorado County." The program belongs to the Pilot Club.

The narration was written by Teresa Harbich and voiced by Rev. Bill Huth. Slides were taken by Mr. and Mrs. James Hopkins of Garwood and Columbus. The story starts with the town's first name, Beason's Crossing and continues, mentioning the burning and rebuilding of the town and the old Southern Pacific Hospital, one of the country's best for treating yellow fever. Many historical buildings and markers were photographed to help tell the story.

The program is available to any organization that would like to see it and is an excellent way for teachers to educate students about the town.

Local group return from tour to Yellowstone

Thirty nine men and women, including two teenagers, have returned from a 12 day tour to Yellowstone National Park. The tour, sponsored by the Colorado County Extension Homemakers Council, included overnight visits to Amarillo Canyon City, Colorado, Casper, Jackson Hole Area and Grand Teton National Park, Yellowstone, Cody, New Castle, Wyoming, and Mount Rushmore in the Black Hills of South Dakota. Also visited were Ogallala, Neb., and Garden City, Kansas.

In Jackson the group took a covered wagon trip to a nearby creek where they were served a barbecue supper. While at the camp, two women in the group went to the creek to wash their hands and were attacked by a band of wild Indians, who rode into camp. They were saved just in time by a Mountain man, all in fun of course.

While in Yellowstone the group enjoyed the cool weather and had a snow ball fight. They also enjoyed seeing the many wild animals and flowers. At Mount Rushmore, the group was caught in a hail storm that left the mountains white, giving the appearance of snow. While visiting the site of the ruins of the Oregon Trail on a hill side in Nebraska, the group came face to face with a large rattlesnake which caused quite a bit of excitement. In Wyoming the group toured a hand-dug oil well where they went down into the well having a wonderful time, and are looking forward to another tour next year.

The group enjoyed the many beautiful sights and interesting areas of Yellowstone, including the geysers and Old Faithful.

Members of the group were Margaret Littmann, Gisela Trojan, Eldora Mattern, Vera Jewel Albright, Ruby Lee Stallman, Lola Cetta, Thelma Weaver, Nettie Sweetnam, Edna Carter, Janell Daniels, Elenora Schobel, Bernice Heinsohn, Esther Neumann, Viola and Clarence Warschak, Ottilia and Frank Lesliar, Ewald and Olga Schmidt, Claudia and Jerry Machu, LaVerne Weige, Helen Rives, Susan Rives, Amy Elliott, Erma Each, Annie Gillar, Janak, Richard and Gertrude Muehr, Edwin and Erna Koehn, Edgar and Beatrice Koehn, Donella Pantel, Thelma and Donald Dopplauf and Fay Elliott, who planned and served as the tour director. The group enjoyed having Mark Wilburn, formerly of Columbus, as the driver.

All who went reported having a wonderful time, and are looking forward to another tour next year.
