Dumraese estate donates to library

David H. Oldham, left, attorney for the Catherine Dumraese Estate, is giving The Reverend George T. Welsch, chairman of board of the Eagle Lake Community Center, a grant of $10,000 who is to be used to purchase additional reference and children's books for the library. Mrs. Dumraese left her estate to be used to help rural Texas libraries. She was a resident of Alieyton for many years and requested that the first grants be in Colorado County. Wintemann library averages about 1,500 new books a year on the regular book budget. The first thing bought was a new set of Britannica encyclopedias.

'Physician for a day'

Dr. Jose M. Ugarte has volunteered to give his time as the "Physician for the Day" for the Texas Academy of Family Physicians in dedicated to serve family medicine, the cornerstone of the healing arts. It is the largest medical specialty professional membership association in Texas. The objectives and purposes of the Academy are: (1) to promote and maintain high standards of family practice in medicine and surgery; (2) to encourage and assist young men and women in preparing, qualifying, and establishing themselves in family practice; (3) to advance medical science, private and public health and to preserve the patients right to free choice of physician; (4) to assure that family physicians can engage in medical and surgical procedures for which they are qualified by training and experience; (5) to assist in providing continuing education for family physicians; and (6) to acknowledge and assume responsible public advocacy in all health related matters.

Dorcas class met January 7

On the afternoon of January 7, the Dorcas Class of the First Baptist Church met at the home of Catherine Clippson, who opened the meeting with prayer. Jane Massey presided over the business session.

Elizabeth Boothe, class teacher, brought the devotional on the subject "Time." She asked members to read quotations concerning this very valuable subject. Two of these are as follows: "Lost yesterday somewhere between sunrise and sunset two golden hours, each set with sixty diamond minutes. No reward is offered for they are gone forever." - Horace Mann, and "Today is the tomorrow you worried about yesterday." - Anon.

Elizabeth then gave highlights from a recent article in the Houston Post concerning time by Dr. Leo Buscaglia. Three quotes from this article are "To learn how to use and live harmoniously with time is one of the greatest arts of living." "Still, we remain so casual about time. It is certainly one of the things we take for granted." and "Perhaps if we were confronted with a situation in which we could experience time running out, we might be more aware of its value."

She concluded her devotional by giving quotations from the article "Time" written by Billy Graham and appearing in the latest edition of the magazine "Decision." Among the words of wisdom cited were the following: "Every morning we have 86,400 seconds before us to spend and invest. Each day the bank named 'Time' opens a new account. It allows no balances, no overdrafts. If we fail to use the day's deposits, the loss is ours." "This minute that we are now living will never be lived again."

Elizabeth taught that the quality of life is more important than the length of life, and "Time is running out for all of us. Be sure that you have given your life to Christ."

During the social hour the hostess served delicious pumpkin roll and spiced tea.

Christian home seminar at First Baptist in Sheridan

Rev. Robert Hessong, pastor of the First Baptist Church, announced that a "Christian Home Seminar" will be held at the church on Friday, January 18 and Saturday, January 19. Friday's hours will be from 7 to 10 p.m., and Saturday's classes will be from 9 to 5. A break will be taken during the morning and also in the afternoon. Each family is asked to bring a sack lunch. Drinks will be provided.

The seminar will be taught by the Son-Shine Ministries of the Dallas-Ft. Worth area. They are a non-profit organization and there is no charge for their programs, services or products, such as tapes and other materials. They now have seminars conducted in Europe, Asia, Australia and the Pacific Island.

The Colorado County Genealogical Society will meet on January 21 at 7 p.m. for its regular monthly session at the Mansfield Library in Columbus.

Following the business meeting, there will be a slide show by Misses Gisela Trojan and Helene Monfort on the historic old city cemetery at Columbus. Members and anyone else interested in genealogy are urged to attend.
