New chairman named to ASC committee

Secretary of Agriculture John Block has named a new chairman and members to the Texas State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee. Harold W. Thomas, of Eagle Lake, was named chairman and Allan R. Anderson, of Raymondville, George W. Eller, of Panhandle and Jerry D. Harris, of Lamesa, were named as members. The Committee administers Federal farm programs in Texas.

Thomas has been a farmer and rancher for 50 years in Colorado County. He presently has 800 acres in rice and is managing partner in a 300-head cow-calf operation. He served on the Texas ASC Committee as a member, 1972 and as chairman in 1976.

Anderson has been farming full-time since 1975 and has a 3,900-acre row-crop farming operation in Willacy, Cameron and Hidalgo Counties. He is a graduate of Texas A&M with both Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Agricultural Economics.

Eller has been farming in Carson County for 38 years and currently has 1,700 acres in cropland, wheat and grain sorghum, along with cattle. He is a 25-year member of the Carson County Farm Bureau.

Harris farms 7,000 acres in Dawson and Gaines Counties with his son and son-in-law. He raises cotton and milo and has interests in cotton ginning, warehousing and merchandising. Active in many producer organizations, he serves on the Board of Governors of Lubbock Christian College.

Worth L. Matteson III of DeKalb will continue to serve as a member of the Committee.

Pilot Club holds presentation on Lifeline

More than 50 people turned out last Sunday for the public viewing of the new Lifeline system being installed in Eagle Lake by the Pilot Club here. After a short presentation, members of the club held drawings for prizes donated by area businesses.

Club members emphasized that the units, which are installed in homes of the elderly or handicapped, cost $500 each, and are being paid for with donations and fund raising projects. One such project scheduled this week is the Chicken Spaghetti supper that will be on Friday in the Community Center.

The units include a small button worn by the person, that signals a larger unit attached to a telephone. When the button is pressed, the unit signals a base unit at Eagle Lake Community Hospital, where action is taken.

The Pilot Club would like to thank the following businesses for donating door prizes for last Sunday's Lifeline presentation:

Connie's Crafts and Gifts, Custom Shoppes, Duncan & Son, Eagle Lake Dairy Delite, Eagle Lake Drugs, Eagle Lake Farm and Home Supply, Eagle Market, Eagle Lake Sewing Center, Eagle Tractor, Eagle

Lake Veterinary Clinic, Farris 1912, Furniture Shoppe, Gifts of Distinction, Henry's General Hardware, J&D Furniture & Office Supply, Jo Ann's Department Store, Johnny's Sport Shop, Lake Crest Flowers, Lake Lumber, M&M Wilcox Minimax.
