Macha reunion held in East Bernard

The 18th annual Macha reunion was held at Riverside Hall in East Bernard on Sunday, March 10. Approximately 165 attended.

A variety of covered dishes was served at 12:30 p.m. President Fred Macha of East Bernard presided at the business meeting. Other officers were Henriette Jalowy and Albert Smalstra, also of East Bernard.

Recognition was given to the following: youngest person present, Amanda Dirba, six months old daughter of Bill and Janet Dirba of East Bernard; oldest man, Albert Pustovsky of Eagle Lake; oldest lady, Lydia Petrash of Wallis; couple married longest, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pustovsky of Eagle Lake, 62 years; couple married most recently, Terry and Donna Macha of Rosenberg, traveling longest distance, Willie and Irma Bednarz of Slaton, near Lubbock. Also recognized were those celebrating 25th and 50th anniversaries. Six deaths in the Macha family were reported.

The 1986 reunion will be held in March in Wallis. Officers will be Dennis and Dottie Macha of Orchard, president and secretary, and Gerald and Barbara Macha of Rosenberg, vice president and treasurer.

Garden Club met March 12 at Rutledge home

The Eagle Lake Garden Club met March 12 at the home of Mrs. Henry Rutledge, the hostess, with nine members present. Mrs. Marshall said the prayer. Mrs. Rutledge, vice president, opened the meeting. Minutes were read and corrected. The treasurer, Mrs. Phillips, reported a balance of $121.79.

In February, the meeting was hosted by Mrs. E.R. Mooney and Mrs. Esther Sunderman at the home of Mrs. Mooney.

Fifteen plates were fixed and delivered to shut-ins. Those delivering the plates said they enjoyed visiting those who received plates. A card of thanks was read from Oneta Runk.

The April meeting was discussed and members decided on a sightseeing trip going through industry to Brookshire where they will have lunch at the Cotton Gin. The group will leave at 9:30 a.m. from Mrs. Mooney's home. Tulle, Eleanor and Sophie will take their cars.

The meeting adjourned and refreshments were served.

Study Club hears program on museum

Eagle Lake Study Club members and guests assembled in the library conference room on Wednesday, March 13 at 2 p.m.

Mrs. David Winterman began the brief business meeting with the election of new officers. The ladies chosen to fill administrative positions for 1985-86 are: Mrs. Joe Traxler, president; Mrs. Arthur Anderson, first vice president; Mrs. Ray Cumberworth, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Wilson, recording secretary; Mrs. Bill Wegenhoff, treasurer; Mrs. Herman Boothe, reporter. Mrs. Robert Wilson read a note of appreciation from Mr. and Mrs. David Winterman thanking the study club for the flowers commemorating their 50th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Nellie Larson was welcomed into the club as a new member.

Rollin Baker, Ph.D., presented the program for the day, "The Prairie Edge Museum." Mr. Baker reviewed the spectacular development of the museum during the past two years. He encouraged people to come, enjoy and view the museum remembering that possibly they too may have a possession that would be a worthwhile contribution. He stressed that gifts or loans of any old, historical articles from the area would be welcomed.

The final program of the professional series, "A Medical Review" by Dr. R.R. Thomas and "An Educator Evaluates Today's College Degree" by John H. Matthews will be Wednesday, April 10.

Portable heater features

Portable heaters can generally help save energy when you use them strategically in one room or a small area, but not all types of portable heaters are appropriate for every room.

Radiant heaters provide fast spot heating within their area of radiation, but are not intended to warm a whole room. Convection heaters are best for distributing heat evenly throughout a room, but they are not good spot heaters and the process of heating all the air in a cold room can take some time. Radiant convection heaters both spot heat and warm the air, but not quite as effectively as the other types.

Blanca Ramirez to wed Eloy Velez

Vitamins & minerals: use & misuse

Before you reach for that bottle of vitamin pills again, don't you think you should know more about what you're taking?

The easiest way to describe vitamins is to say that they are chemical compounds of an organic nature. This means they come from living things - like the plants and animal products that make up our diet.

Shortages of vitamins are not a concern for most of us. If we eat a reasonably sound diet, because we require them in only tiny amounts. We need only a fraction of an ounce of all the vitamins combined from the entire amount of food we eat in a day to maintain good health.

Vitamins promote good health by assisting the major nutrients

- proteins, carbohydrates and fats to do their jobs. The fat-soluble vitamins, A, D, E and K, must be accompanied by fats in order to be absorbed into your body. Once there, they move about slowly and tend to settle into fatty tissue waiting to be used.

The water-soluble vitamins, C and the B-complex, enter the body freely, move easily and are expelled if not used immediately.

What do these points mean for you? First, that the water-soluble vitamins must be replenished regularly since the body does not store them. If you take megadoses of water-soluble vitamins - like vitamin C - you just waste your money. And if you take megadoses of fat-soluble vitamins - especially A and D - they will be stored in your body and can produce poisonous build-ups.

Second, taking vitamins will not give you more pep. Vitamins contain no energy. What they do is to allow those major nutrients to do their jobs, one of which is to provide you with energy. And whether you have vitamins in minimum amounts - or in megadoses, the energy outcome is the same.

So don't attempt to rely on vitamin pills as a substitute for a well-balanced diet. If you eat properly, there is no nutritional advantage in taking vitamins.

In addition to the multitude of vitamin supplements on the market, health-conscious consumers are also being urged to take minerals. But do we need to be concerned about our intake of minerals?

Minerals are essential for good health and growth. It's also important that people get their minerals in just the right amounts.

Some minerals, such as calcium, phosphorus, sodium, chloride, potassium, magnesium and sulfur, are needed in relatively large amounts. In this case, a "large" amount ranges from milligrams to one gram. Other minerals, called "trace minerals" are needed in small amounts. Iron, manganese, cop-

Birds are singing, flowers are blooming...

Time for your air conditioner checkup!

It's the season, all right! Spring is the ideal time to have your air conditioning system cleaned and tuned, so it will operate at top efficiency during the long summer ahead.

Preventive maintenance now could prevent costly breakdowns later on, when you'd really miss the cool air.

Just as important, an air conditioner in good working order uses less energy—and helps you save money on electricity bills. Dealers say that units two or more years old may be operating at only 50 percent of normal efficiency if they have not been properly serviced. That means you could be spending twice as much as you should to run the unit.

Call a qualified technician today and schedule a check-up for your cooling system. And if you'd like to know more about saving money on air conditioning, ask for a free booklet at your CFL office.
