Information about your changing telephone service from Paul Johnson, Manager-Community Relations

Information Age booms in Texas

You've heard how during the Industrial Age people had a tendency to settle near major waterways and railroad hubs. Well, these days, it seems people are moving to the areas with the most efficient, up-to-date telecommunications systems. We've reached a period of time known as the Information Age.

How does the Information Age affect us as Texans and our working environment? We feel the economy of Texas will be greatly influenced by this revolution in telecommunications technology, possibly much in the same way as it was by the construction of roads and highways. At the core of this revolution in telecommunications, are businesses in Texas that are knowledge-intensive or what's known as high-tech industries.

These industries include businesses such as finance, research, education, medicine, electronic development and other business services. Many of you may have worked for or now work in one of these growing fields. These knowledge-intensive industries require a sophisticated telecommunications network. Just looking at the high-tech industries located in Texas gives you an indication of the telecommunications needs our customers demand.

An investment partnership

As you can probably imagine, keeping service at high levels and meeting customer needs, requires substantial investment. That's why Southwestern Bell Telephone is investing more than $1 billion in Texas this year, the eighth consecutive year our company has invested more than $1 billion in the state.

We want you to know that Southwestern Bell Telephone is committed to Texas and plays an important role in the overall economy of the state. For example, as of the end of 1984, we operated in 450 cities and towns statewide and served more than 80 percent of the state's telephone customers.

At the same time, we had a work force of 34,248, and we paid approximately $680 million in taxes.

Positioning company for the future

The primary reason we make such an investment in Texas is because of customers like yourself who want and expect quality telephone service in Texas.

And as technology changes our environment and lifestyles, it will be even more important to maintain the traditional quality of service. As customers of tomorrow, you will expect things like shopping without leaving home, electronic mail, banking by telephone and a host of other services — some which are not even invented yet.

We at Southwestern Bell Telephone want to be in a position to provide those services. By continuing the investment and community partnership with Texas, the future will be here before you know it.

Invest a little, save a lot.

(Low-cost and no-cost ways to cut summer electricity bills)

When the temperature soars, so do energy bills—unless you wage a determined campaign to keep air conditioning costs in line. If your home is air conditioned, your cooling system uses more than half the electricity you buy every summer—so direct most of your efforts toward making that system more efficient.

Here are some steps you can take to reduce energy use.

• Have a qualified technician clean and check your air conditioner preferably before the hot season starts.

• Set the thermostat at 78°.

• Clean or replace the filter at least once a month. Clear obstructions away from the outside unit.

• Eliminate air leaks. Wall light switches and plug-in sockets allow a surprising amount of costly air infiltration. Seal them with the inexpensive gaskets you can buy at most hardware stores. Caulk all cracks and holes. Install weather stripping around windows and doors.

• Keep direct sunlight out of the house with shades, awnings, draperies or blinds. Plant trees and shrubs for additional shade.

• Use your electric fans to stay comfortable with the thermostat at a higher setting.

• If you're in the market for a new air conditioner, select a model with an Energy Efficiency Ratio of 8 or higher—and make sure the unit is correctly sized for your home.
