Former resident heads outpatient clinic in Houston

Marine Medical Services, Inc. (MMS) announces the association with The Milby Clinic as its Houston facility in a growing network of outpatient clinics serving the maritime industry in major US ports and throughout the world.

Dr. William U. Giesel, formerly a resident of Eagle Lake, who is board certified in occupational medicine, will remain as Milby's Medical Director and sees this new association with MMS as an opportunity to enhance the services his clinic has provided the Port of Houston since 1945.

Dr. Giesel attended Eagle Lake High School before the Big War, going to school with Raymond Thomas, John Canaris, Lee Barnett, the Sealhorns and more. His parents were doctors here from 1937 until 1945.

San Diego based MMS was formed in early 1983 as a means to provide and coordinate health care for the Merchant Marine, a need that has existed since the US Public Health Service closed their Maritime Clinics several years ago.

Currently staffed full time by four physicians, a dentist, and several rotating specialists, Milby offers a wide range of medical, dental, x-ray, lab, and physical therapy services in the areas of maritime and industrial medicine. Family care is also provided.

MMS president, Anthony J. Rippo, M.D., stated "It was the commitment to quality medical care Milby has displayed over the years that attracted us to Milby. We are pleased that Milby will be part of our unique health care delivery network. The Milby Clinic is located at 215 Milby St., and inquiries regarding hours and services may be directed to the clinic at (713) 225-0463.

Girndt takes part in Australia's Anzac Day

Navy Petty Officer 2nd Class John L. Girndt, son of L.M. Girndt of Rock Island, recently took part in celebrations honoring Australia's Anzac Day holiday.

He is currently serving as a member aboard the nuclear-powered guided missile cruiser USS Texas, which was in Brisbane, Australia for rest and relaxation after a six-month deployment to the Western Pacific, Indian Ocean and the Persian Gulf.

Anzac Day, often compared to America's Memorial Day, commemorates the valor and sacrifices of the Australia-New Zealand Army Corps during World War I. The day coincides with the anniversary of the Battle of Gallipoli, the first modern use of amphibious warfare in which Anzac troops took the brunt of the fighting and suffered heavy casualties.

During the celebrations, Girndt and others took part in a wreath laying ceremony and participated in Brisbane's Anzac Parade. He and his fellow crewmembers were then hosted at an Anzac Day Luncheon, sponsored by the Australian Returned Servicemen's League.
