Raider Review

Students back stand

By VICKI DARDEN
As is with all political issues in this country, the U.S. decision to perform an air raid on the African state of Libya last Monday created intense amounts of concern as well as a number of conflicting opinions. Most students at Rice have become quite concerned with the issues at hand. Perhaps from feelings stimulated in the home environment, especially from the fact that high school aged males are closely affected by the draft law, students at Rice are outspoken on the issue of U.S. defense against terrorism.

The most frequently voiced opinions of high school students concerning this American defense tactic are of strong support toward the President, his advisors, and his decision. Nevertheless, it is evident in the tone of many students that a growing concern for the safety of the free world remains under a greater threat than before. And the students most aware of the stimulants and results of the situation basically believe that the decision was as it had to be; furthermore, regardless of the immediate consequences, our country will be regarded as a stronger, more respected nation in the future because of our stand against unwarranted aggression on the part of Khadafy.

As has been voiced many times since the action, American self-respect, more than the appeasement of evil or the safety of detachment and withdrawal, is the majority of the American people. Through this act, we as a nation have illustrated to the world that appeasement only adds fuel to ruthless aggression. The entire world

Playschool to be held at Rice

By LAURA APPELT
The playschool conducted by the Rice Home Economics Department will be held this year May 5-16. Playschool is held in order to give students an opportunity to work with children, and activities offered include indoor and outdoor play, music, games, exercises, art, snacks, learning activities, and story time. There will once again be two sessions - 8:25 to 11 (morning session) and 12 to 2:35 (afternoon session). Children ages three to five who are not yet in kindergarten may attend and a cost of $3 per child will be used to cover snacks and supplies. Enrollment is limited to fifteen for each session, and those children who were enrolled last year will get first chance at enrollment this year. Homemaking students will then have the opportunity to enroll family and friends. If any spaces are available after that, enrollment will be open to the general public.

Student Council meeting held

By SUSAN KALUZA
On Monday, April 14, the Rice High School Student Council met at 6 p.m. in the Commons. Beverly Rucka, president, called the meeting to order. The first area of business was the meal for the Academic Banquet on May 12. The council decided on turkey and dressing which will be catered by Staff's of El Campo. The second area of business was the Powder Puff football game which will be held on Wednesday, April 30, after school. The council will be in charge of the nominating and voting for Powder Puff cheerleaders, king, and the names of the teams. The council also discussed the volleyball tournament sponsored by the F.H.A. It was decided that the Student Council would not participate, but give $20 to the F.H.A. which will be donated to the March of Dimes. Many ideas were discussed for the Student Council project. Among those were boards displaying the names of the varsity basketball boys and girls in the gym, flowers or hedges around the brick wall outside
