Homemakers Reflections

By Peggy Braden
County Extension Agent

Not another diet!

So you've tried the grapefruit diet, the Scarsdale diet, the low carbohydrate diet, the Beverly Hills diet, not to mention a score of others you can even remember. And still that bikini is stuffed into the darkest corner of the closet, safely tucked away from painful sight and reminders of diets that promised the moon and delivered the craters.

If gimmick diets have left you irritable and hungry with little or nothing to show for the agony, why not return to the basic equation of weight loss? To lose weight you must lower caloric intake and increase physical activity. It's not glamorous, but it's effective.

The biggest stumbling block to dieters is simple hunger. And it trips up even the most determined dieter at one time or another. But wait! Who says dieters must relegate themselves to dietary boredom and suffer the pains of hunger mere minutes from the table? Why not partake of a little steak and keep the hunger pains at bay for hours rather than moments? Believe it or not, three ounces of broiled, trimmed top loin contains only 182 calories. And those three ounces of lean meat are stuffed with nutrition like protein, iron, zinc, thiamin, niacin and vitamin B-12.

It's a dieter's paradise and today, it's more convenient than ever before. Beef Nutri-Facts, sponsored by the Beef Industry Council, can be found in almost ever retail grocery chain in the nation. Thirty-two different cuts of red meat are conveniently tagged with nutrition and caloric information. Support materials such as low-calorie recipes are also available.

The best part is that you don't have to go to Peking to look for an obscure food item or enroll in a culinary college to learn how to prepare it. Just throw it under the broiler and succulent, savory steak is only seconds away from the plate. It's perfect with just a little salt and pepper. If you're cutting down on salt, try a little squeeze of fresh lemon.

Balance out the meal with selected foods from the other three food groups and enjoy! Beef really is good news for people who eat!

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

Wallis pastors attend seminar in California

Rev. and Mrs. McKinney, pastors of Wallis Bible Church, spent an exciting two weeks in California from Feb. 1-14 where they attended their third doctoral seminar at Fuller Theological Seminary located in Pasadena. Fuller is the second largest seminary in the U.S. and draws ministeries from many denominations and backgrounds. There were 46 class partcipants, all in full time ministry, representing 20 different groups from Australia, Canada, Nor-way, South Africa and many states.

The Doctor of Ministry program seminar was Church Growth I, covering the principles and proced-ures of church growth. Research and case studies from growing U.S. churches were were also covered.

There were two professors teaching the seminar. Dr. C. Peter Wagner, recognized as the leading speaker and author on American church growth; and Rev. Carl F. George, an advisor to church leaders in over 68 denominations.

The class sessions were very informative and at times intense. We discovered that most of the fastest growing churches in the world are Charismatic and Pentecostal.

The ministers were required to do field research on location at a dozen of the largest, fastest growing churches in the Los Angeles area. The McKinneys chose to report on Cren-shaw Christian Center, located on the former campus of Pepperdine Uni-versity. They attended one of the three Sunday morning services and then had a two hour personal inter-view with the pastor, Dr. Frederick K.C. Price. He is clearly the key to the tremendous growth of the congregation (300 members in 1973; 14,700 in 1987). He gives great emphasis to faith and the charismatic gifts of the Holy Spirit. This is one of the largest and most affluent black churches in the country.

The McKinneys have been pastoring Wallis Bible Church for three and one-half years. In September of 1986 the congregation moved in their new sanctuary three miles north of Wallis on Hwy. 36.

About town...

•In last weeks hospital news, the hospital inadvertently stated Debra Stovall and baby boy as being patients in the hospital and it should have read Dolica Stovall and baby boy.

•Kenneth and Jean Abel just returned from a business/pleasure cruise to the Bahamas visiting Freeport and Nassau.

Columbus Livestock Market

The market continues to strengthen with prices and demand reaching levels not seen in several years. At last week's market, steer and heifer calves and yearlings were strong to $3 a hundred higher in all areas. Packer cows were strong to $1 a hundred higher on approximately 75 head, says George Hagan and Don McAlister.
