Over 400 people enjoy Lions BBQ, golf tourney Sunday

The Eagle Lake Lions Club hosted its 17th annual barbecue and golf tournament this past Sunday, April 26 at the Eagle Lake Recreation Center golf course and picnic grounds. Over 400 people turned out for the barbecue chicken lunch, cooked and served by the Lions Club of Eagle Lake, as many of them took advantage of the beautiful day and enjoyed their meal in the picnic area of the Recreation Center.

The golf tournament again was a success with over 70 golfers from Eagle Lake and surrounding areas in the coastal bend participating. Unfortunately no one won the Ford or Chevy pickup that was being offered for the first hole-in-one. But with over 30 pro prizes offered in the tournament plus other opportunities for all the contestants to win prizes, almost everyone walked away a winner which is what the Lions tournament is famous for. Winners in each flite were as follows:

Championship Flite: Brent Watkins, New Gulf, even par 70, first; Tommy Pilkington, Eagle Lake, 75, second; Gus Seaholm, Eagle Lake, 76, third; Glen Sunderman, Eagle Lake, 78, fourth, and Bob Ashby, Eagle Lake, 78, fifth.

First Flite: Billy Watson, Pecan Grove, 74, first; Frank Kurmby, Bellville, 77, second; Larry Dulany, Eagle Lake, 77, third; Jeff Fmka, Eagle Lake, 79, fourth, and Dickey Williams, Old Ocean, 79, fifth.

Second Flite: B.A. Bickham, New Gulf, 76, first; Gilbert Wilbeck, Eagle Lake, 78, second; Gary Waddell, Eagle Lake, 82, third; J.R. Thomas, Eagle Lake, 82, fourth, and Philip Schorlemmer, Eagle Lake, 82, fifth.

Third Flite: Louis Klare, Houston, 76, first; Rand Wall, Houston, 78, second; Jimmy Sommers, New Gulf, 79, third; Everett Farthing, Eagle Lake, 81, fourth, and Horace Huggnutts, Houston, 81, fifth.

Fourth Flite: James Shumake, Angleton, 85, first; Joe Luna, Eagle Lake, 89, second; Bob McInteer, Eagle Lake, 92, third; Les Krancher, Houston, 93, fourth, and Colorado County Commissioner L.J. "Sonny" Spanibel, Eagle Lake, 93, fifth.

Fifth Flite: Jimmy Wood, Eagle Lake, 95, first; Louis Janik, Rosenberg, 99, second; Forrest English, Eagle Lake, 100, third; Tim Luedecke, Eagle Lake, 101, fourth, and Rod Webber, Wharton, 101, fifth.

In the closest-to-the-hole contest on both Par 3s, DeWight Hadley won on number 4 and Gilbert Wilbeck won on number 5. Each man took home $100 cash for their efforts. Terry Landry won a dozen balls for his high score of 125.

A bit of excitement happened when Eagle Lake Community Hospital administrator Jack Harrell was trying to hit his second shot out of the creek on the par 3 hole number 5, when an unmanned out-of-control golf cart rolled into the creek pinning Jack underneath in the creek bottom. Miraculously, the cart wasn't damaged (neither was Jack) and it took some time and manpower to get the cart out of the creek and Jack out from under it. The Lions Club thanks his wife, Jan, for bringing him a change of clothes so we didn't have to look at his muddy body for the rest of the day. Now you would think that would be enough for one person, but for Jack that wasn't the end of his troubles as he was hit on the head by a golf ball.

The Lions wish to express a special thanks to all who supported its annual barbecue and golf tournament. Especially, Lake Motors and Rice and Ford of Eagle Lake for their support of the hole-in-one contest, Miller's Grocery, the Tee-Up Pro Shop (the Broesche family), and Laurel Holden. The money raised will be well spent in various worthy Lions Club projects and we hope to see everyone back again next year.

State 65 MPH hearing Friday

The state Highway and Public Transportation Commission has scheduled a public hearing to receive public views and comments on proposed action raising the maximum speed limit on rural portions of Interstate highways in Texas to 65 miles per hour.

The hearing is scheduled for 9 a.m. Friday, May 1, in the Greer state highway building in Austin.

The hearing is the first legal step necessary to consider changing the speed limit in Texas. After the public hearing, the commission will review testimony. If the commission decides to change the limit, the order would be filed with the governor.

If he concurs with the order, he will issue a proclamation.

The earliest effective date would be eight days after the filing of the commission order with the governor.

Seal coat projects in county discussed

A pre-construction meeting was held April 8 at the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation district office in Yoakum to discuss plans for the 1987 North Zone seal coat projects. The $973,680.32 contract, awarded to Joe Richards Inc. of Belton, includes work in Austin, Colorado, Fayette, Gonzales and Wharton counties. The contractor has been allotted 35 working days to complete the project.

E.J. Blaschke, supervising resident engineer in charge of construction, said, "A total of 169 miles will be resurfaced to preserve the roads and provide a skid resistant surface for the motorists. The seal coat will be applied in half-widths in most cases to facilitate the handling of traffic. The public is urged to use caution while traveling through the construction areas and be alert for flagmen giving traffic directions."

Work on the contract is expected to begin in June of 1987 and should be completed by the end of July.

Keep replacement heifers healthy

By Leroy J. Hajdik,
County Extension Agent

Whether buying or raising replacement heifers, the health of the beef herd is vital to a successful cattle operation. Heifers can usually be bought for less than they can be raised. Buying replacements, however, increases the risk of introducing disease into the herd and makes genetic progress difficult. On the other hand, raising and breeding heifers creates an extra group of cattle to be managed.

The beef producer must optimize production while preventing losses due to disease and management problems, and usually the best program is a balance between the risk of disease and the cost of protection.

It is impossible to separate a good health program from good nutritional and reproductive programs. Replacement heifers should be between the reproductive efficiency, disease resistance and feed conversion efficiency.

Weaning is one of the greatest stresses put on a calf. Other stressful procedures, such as vaccination and parasite control, should precede or follow weaning by at least three weeks.

A vaccination program should be handled properly, so a cattleman will not lose money. Proper vaccination procedures are a must. This means reading the vaccine label and following instructions completely. Keep vaccines refrigerated, even during use, and keep them out of direct sunlight. Make sure vaccine combinations are compatible. Vaccinate animals at the right age and the right time of year. Do not use disinfectants such as alcohol with modified live virus vaccines.

For specific preventive medicine practices for the beef herd, I recommend consulting a veterinarian.

Calving difficulty

Dystocia is the scientific word for describing a difficult delivery during the birthing process. The most frequently occurs in first-calf heifers — 50 % — while about 25 % of the dystocias occur in second-calf heifers.

Entry of a fetus into the birth canal is described by three terms — presentation, position and posture. Presentation refers to whether the fetus is coming forwards, backwards or sideways. Position refers to whether the fetus is right side up or upside down. Posture refers to whether the head and neck are in proper position or perhaps if the feet and legs are in proper relationship to the body of delivery. Improper presentation, position or posture can result in dystocia.

Calving difficulty, however, is most frequently due to disproportionate size; in other words, the calf being delivered is too big for the birth canal. Delivery of a live calf is a critical factor in the success of any cattle operation. Cows that are calving should be observed at intervals of no greater than 2-3 hours, coupled with proper attempts at intervention. Once intervention is attempted, professional help should be obtained if progress has not been made in 30 minutes.

Eagle Lake woman injured in wreck

A little after 1 a.m. Wednesday morning the Eagle Lake Ambulance Corps and the fire department's rescue van were called to a major accident on Highway 90A West near the first rice dryer as you leave Eagle Lake. A car driven by Lydia Cruz of Eagle Lake had slammed into the rear of an 18-wheeler; she was pinned in the vehicle.

Ms. Cruz was coming from one of her jobs in Columbus and fell asleep at the wheel. The truck she hit was in the process of making a left hand turn into the dryer. The driver had put the truck in neutral to allow another truck to pass. Cruz was behind the passing truck and did not move over to pass as the truck she was following had.

The Jaws of Life were used to free her from the wreckage. She was transported to Eagle Lake Community Hospital with possible fractures in the neck area and additional injuries. Her head reportedly hit the windshield on impact.

Cruz was transported by Life Flight helicopter to a Houston hospital at approximately 4 a.m. Her condition was not available as of press time.

County deputy apprehends murderer

After a 14 hour manhunt, Joe Vargas Martinez, 28, of Wharton, was arrested at 4 p.m. Wednesday, April 29 at a Nada tavern by a Colorado County deputy for the alleged shooting death of Martinez' brother-in-law, Daniel Cantu, 24, also of Wharton.

Deputy Curly Wied was notified by an alert citizen who had heard of the manhunt and matched the reports with the license plate on Martinez' 1973 Chevrolet blue pickup, that Martinez was in the pickup parked outside the bar. Martinez was apprehended by Wied, without a struggle and Deputy Ray Raley assisted Wied in taking him to Judge Hefner in Garwood where Martinez was read his rights. Martinez was transported by Larry Hensley to the Wharton County Jail where he is being held without bond until a trial date can be set.

According to Larry Hendley, detective from Wharton who is investigating the case, Martinez and Cantu had been arguing and eyewitnesses who were neighbors and friends told Wharton County sheriff officials that the two men had been drinking and an argument had started hours before Cantu was shot. Cantu reportedly had told Martinez that he was willing to forgive and forget; however, according to the report, Martinez said he was leaving and that he would kill Cantu if Cantu was still there when he returned.

The witnesses then told authorities that Martinez returned to the house and the gunshot was heard. Wharton Emergency Medical Services was called to the scene and Cantu was transported to the Gulf Coast Medical Center at 2:42 a.m. Hospital officials stated that Cantu was suffering from extreme bleeding and he was taken into surgery at 4:28 a.m. and was pronounced dead there at 6:50 a.m. Preliminary autopsy reports from the Harris County Medical examiner's office stated the cause of death was a gunshot wound to the pelvic area.

Investigators recovered the murder weapon, a 222-caliber deer rifle, in an abandoned pickup in Glen Flora.

The Eagle Lake Ambulance Corps was called to a pedestrian accident at 3:40 p.m. May 1 on Church Street behind the Eagle Lake Police Department. According to the police report, five-year-old Ramon Molina Jr. was riding his bicycle when he turned into the path of an oncoming car. Ramon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Molina Sr., was treated at the Eagle Lake Community Hospital for cuts and abrasions to the face and two broken bones to his left leg. He was kept at the hospital overnight and released Saturday.

Hospital Volunteer Week

Pink Ladies honored with tea Wednesday

The Eagle Lake Community Hospital Auxiliary (Pink Ladies, as they are fondly known) were elegantly honored with a tea Wednesday, April 29 in the hospital conference room from 2 to 4 p.m. in recognition of Hospital Volunteer Week by the Eagle Lake Community Hospital administration. Jack Harrell, hospital administrator, greeted each guest as they registered their presence. Each auxiliary member also registered for a drawing in which the lovely centerpiece of pink carnations, white daisies and greenery was the prize. Mrs. Rose Lange was the lucky recipient.

The attractive refreshment table, covered in blue, held the silver and gold punch and coffee services at either end and an abundance of delicious foods. Assorted party sandwiches, sand tarts, petit fours, cake, fresh fruit, nuts and mints were served, all appropriately prepared by the dietary department.

Mrs. Charles Spalinger, president of the auxiliary; Mrs. T.W. Scott, vice president; Mrs. William Zboril, treasurer, and Mrs. Howard Johnson presided at appointed hours in serving the coffee, punch and tea.

Many compliments were paid to the Pink Ladies from all the hospital employees. Flowers from the respiratory department and candy from the pharmacy department were very pleasant surprises.

Opening ceremonies

The National Anthem filled the air as the flag was being raised during the opening ceremonies of the 1987 Little League this past Saturday. President of the Little League Clark Powers announced the t-ball, minor and major league teams, their coaches and teammates as they lined up around the baseball diamond at the Eagle Lake Little League field. The new season is now underway.

1987 Little League season opened

A cloudy overcast Saturday morning kept the air cool, but the excitement was hot as the Mets and Rangers kicked off the 1987 Eagle Lake Little League opening day activities at 8:30 for a full day of games, food and fun. The national anthem was presented on trumpet by Gilbert Sosa, a member of the Rice High School band, as the flag was being raised. Many items were then auctioned off, bringing in over $1300 to benefit Little League activities.

Clark expresses his appreciation to all who came to the games and enjoyed the day, to all the volunteers who helped before, during and after the games, to all the auction item donors and to the barbecue crew for a delicious meal.
