America's best-loved media personality and bestselling author turned fifty this year. Not surprisingly, his thoughts have turned to the subject of getting older.

Aging is no laughing matter, but Time Flies will change all that. Bill Cosby brings his warmth, wisdom, and wit to a subject that seems to be on everyone's mind these days. It's about time-and the shifting way we view the world at different stages.

Time Flies is lighthearted, richly detailed, highly personal, yet at the same time universally appealing. It's a book for all time-and for all ages.

Garwood/Nada Community News

By GEORGIA MICHALKA

The 40th edition of the Garwood Lions Fair was held on Saturday, October 10. For the second year the day's activities were held at the Nada Community Center. A large group of enthusiastic trail riders opened the festivities with a jaunt from Garwood to Nada. During the afternoon, fairgoers enjoyed the usual fun rides and games. As evening arrived so did many hungry patrons. Their hunger abated thanks to delicious hamburgers grilled by the Garwood Volunteer Fire Department. Later the crowd moved inside to dance to the music of Roy and Ann Glaze. During the dance, the lucky winners of the raffle were announced as follows: Ernestine Schneider, first, $1,000; S&R Farms, second, $300, and Vic and Dorothy Hyek, Ben Waligura, The Duck Blind, John Roach, Harold King, Ben Johnson and Kathy Stienke, $100 each.

On September 27, Ernie and Florence Genz were honored by their children, Michelle of Huntsville and Kevin of Waco, on the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. A Mass of Thanksgiving was held at 5 p.m. in the St. Mary's Catholic Church of Nada. Bishop Hugo Gerbermann officiated with Msgr. Victor Schmidtzinsky serving as celebrant. Bishop Gerbermann had served as celebrant 25 years ago at the wedding. Suzanne Labay of Nada sang several lovely hymns and was accompanied on the organ by Susie Orsak of Louise. The altar was flanked by two large arrangements of gladioli, mums and gerber daisies.

A reception at the Bucksnag followed the mass. Guests were registered on the spacious veranda of the grand old hotel. Elaborate flower arrangements lent an air of beauty and celebration to the reception area. The wedding cakes were baked and decorated by Ruby Hoffman and Kathleen Schindler. The candlelight confection was adorned with fresh flowers while the chocolate cake displayed a boot design and also depicted the couple's cattle brand.

The Genz's nieces served cake to the guests. The houseparty was made up of Diane Bures, Debbie Kana, Fae Popp, Yvonne Morton, Patricia Orsak, Alice Wiggins, Carol and Lisa Bartlett. The Magnolia Room of Columbus served a delicious supper of turkey and dressing with all the trimmings. many of the guests and friends spent a delightful evening looking at old pictures which brought back wonderful memories of days past.

The members enjoyed refreshments of taco salad, chili con queso dip, chips, pralines and cold drinks. The meeting ended with the closing ritual.

Memorial donations made in the name of a deceased loved one are used to purchase books for library patrons. In giving a memorial, you are not only saying a loved one will be remembered, but also are opening many wonderful doors in the form of books for children and adults. Columbus stops Raiders 21-13

The "new" season for area high school football opened last Friday with the Columbus Cardinals the victors over the Rice Raiders 21-13. The Cards and Sealy share the first-week undefeated spot in the standings.

The fact that it was the first game of District 23-3A competition may have been the difference in the teams' performances, compared to the five pre-district games. The game was a real fan-pleaser. There were few mistakes on either side, and there was no reason for anyone to leave until the game was over.

There was a difference between the first and second halves though as Rice appeared dominant in the first two quarters. At half time the Raiders lead 13-7.

But, the second half belonged to the Cardinals who came out firing in the third quarter. They racked up 14 more points in that stanza, taking the lead and never relinquishing it.

In the scoreless first quarter, the Raiders received the opening kick and except for four downs by the Cardinals, Rice held the ball for the entire 12 minutes. Rice's first possession consumed nine plays but the tough Cardinal defense kept the ball in Raider territory. At one point the Raiders rammed the ball across the mid-stripe with Cardinal Brock Hajdik saving the Columbus defense. However, the Raiders were called for a penalty, negating what would have been a long gainer.

With the punt to Columbus, the Rice defense became just as tough, allowing the Cards to move move ahead eight yards on one play, but back nine yards in two others. Quarterback Craig Pflughaupt had to yield with the Cards punting. To help Columbus, Rice was called with a 15-yard penalty moving the ball back to their own 35.

This time the Raider offense got it together, keeping the ball on the ground for the most part, picking up three first downs. Raider QB Kevin Long made a connection for his only completion of the night. It was a well thrown pass for 29 yards.

On the first play in the second quarter, Long ran the ball into the endzone from the Columbus one. The Scott Ripper PAT was good.

The second Cardinal possession could have ended with another four snaps, but on fourth and four when Columbus was punting, the Raiders were called with their third penalty of the night. It gave the Cards their first down of the night and another chance.

Surrounded by a pack of Raiders, Pflughaupt kept his cool and fired downfield to connect with Roy Glover for an 18 yard gain. From the Raider 40, the Cards then moved another seven yards on one of the many runs by prolific Brian Chavis. Pflughaupt tossed another connection but the official measurement showed the Cards missed the first down by the length of the ball.

The fourth-and-a-foot measure didn't bother the team though as Chavis took it the last nine yards with 7:06 remaining on the clock. His PAT kick was good, tying the score at 7 each.

A little more than a minute later the Raiders pulled back into the lead. Three plays after receiving the Columbus kick-off, Rice's Douglas Tillman took the ball in from the five. This time Ripper's kick didn't make it through the uprights, making the score 13-7.

The teams traded possessions again, and when Columbus got the ball with only a few minutes remaining, they went to work. Pflughaupt got on the passing route again, connecting with Tyrone Whitehead on one play. The Raiders managed one sack, but still the Cards moved the ball down to the Raider 23.

From there Pflughaupt tossed one into the end zone for his only interception of the night. It was snared by Raider junior Tiger Pratt.

Columbus wasted no time getting back in the action as the momentum swung to the Cardinals. Pflughaupt engineered a ten-play, 65-yard drive that ended with Glen Peikert taking a one-yard run in for the score. Chavis kicked another good one and with 6:52 remaining in the quarter, the Cards lead 14-13.

The Cardinal defense then became as tough as their offense, holding the Raiders to one first down before forcing a punt. That snap was almost over the punter's (Kevin Long) head but he still got it away. Starting out from the Raider 45, the Cardinals wasted no time. They moved the ball down to the Raider 11, then Pflughaupt scored on an 11-yard keeper. Chavis made his third extra point kick of the night, posting the final score 21-13.

The Cards take the win, and a first-week tie in the standings, into their second district game this Friday night, hosting the winless Hempstead Bobcats in a 7:30 p.m. game. Rice, now 1-4-0, 0-1-0, host Bellville, 3-2-0, 0-0-1, in a 7:30 p.m. contest in Raider Stadium.

The Raiders spent the better part of last Friday night trying to keep Bryan Chavis from advancing the ball for Columbus. They weren't very successful as Chavis was instrumental in the Cardinal's 21-13 victory.

Meitzen second in 12-gauge shot after 46 tie for first

Eagle Lake sportsman Johnny Meitzen has completed the first week of competition in the World Skeet Shoot in San Antonio. After the regular round of shooting in the 12 gauge division, Meitzen, a Class A shooter, was one of 46 tied for first place.

The competition to determine the winner in that division ended under the lights with Meitzen taking second place. Officials noted it was the first time that a Class A shooter had come that close to beating a Class AA or Class AAA shooter.

In other competition, Meitzen has earned nine first place awards, three seconds, a third, a seventh and one tenth place finish.

The competition continues again this week with another round of shooting before the final overall winners are known.

Of note, Meitzen, owner of Johnny's Sport Shop, shot 99 out of 100 with 20 gauge, 97/100 with 28 gauge, 93/100 with 410 gauge, and 96/100 in doubles.

Rice Raider Eighth Grade undefeated

Last Thursday, October 8, the ELMS eighth grade Raiders were again unstoppable as they soundly defeated the previously unbeaten Columbus Cardinals 30-0.

The brings their record to a perfect 4-o for the year. It was another fine effort by all the players, both offensively and defensively.

Offensively the Raiders were led by several fine performances by the following individuals: (as well as a great offensive line) Reggie Donner with one touchdown run of 15 yards and a 2 pt. conversion pass. He had seven carries for 37 years; Jesse Scott with one touchdown run of 33 yards and 10 carries for 124 yards; O'Neil Tillman had one touchdown run of 60 yards and seven carries for 102 yards; Merrill Tillman is credited with a 2 pt. conversion run and five carries for 17 yards; and Kevin Jackson with a 2 pt. conversion pass from Donner.

It was another outstanding defensive performance by the Raiders as they held Columbus from scoring. The defense stopped the Cardinals several times in critical situations. Jesse Scott was the leader on defense with numerous tackles and a 50 yard interception for a touchdown. Lupe Rodriguez, Gonzalo DeLaGarza, Donner and O'Neil Tillman also had stellar games on defense. Robert Parker and Patrick Weeks also had fine games.

Congratulations to all the players for a fine game. Keep up the had work as we strive to win district and stay unbeaten.

Bellville travels to Eagle Lake to take on the Raiders this week, Thursday, October 15. Game times are 5:30 p.m. for 7th grade and 7 p.m. for 8th grade. Come out and support your team as they are having an exciting year.

Seventh Grade gets shortended by Cardinals

Last Thursday, October 8, the 7th grade Raiders faced off against the Columbus Cardinal team, but came out on the short end of a 28-18 score.

Offensive standouts were Deshannon Cotton, who ran for all three scores, George Hernandez and Roland Hemphill.

Defensive stars were Joe Belmares, Broderick Stevenson, Michael Cerda and Valentin Serda.

Sheridan/Garwood loses to Louise

The Sheridan/Garwood Raiders football team had a tough contest against Louise last Thursday, October 8. Louise won the game with-out much interferance from the Raiders with a final score of 44-0.

Matthew Gallagher lead the defensive team with 10 tackles. Mark Ybarra was credited with eight. While Clifton Linnemier, John Carey, Andrew Castenado and Aaron Machac each had five. Raymond Ford recovered a Louise fumble.

Offensively, Norman Botard and Jesse George accumulated 11 rushing yards. Machac had nine yards and Will Atkins had seven.

Crop production estimates impact on Texas

Projections of 1987 U.S. crop production have changes as a result of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's estimates released the middle of September.

Production estimates for corn, sorghum, soybeans, wheat, cotton and rice for 1987 were all reduced from expectations a month earlier, says Dr. Edward G. Smith, marketing and policy economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

USDA's 7.14 billion bushel 1987 corn production estimate was below the range expected by analysts, as was the 1.96 billion bushel 1987 soybean production projection, Smith says.

"The result should be reflected in some firming of the grain price complex; however, any substantial price enhancement is tempered by the overall supply/demand position of the feed grains," he says. Even with an expected 14 percent decline in feed grain production from 1986 and an expected two percent increase in use, the unsold stocks are expected to remain at levels representing about 7 months of demand, he notes.

"Texas is projected to produce 140 million bushels of corn and 157 million bushels of sorghum in 1987," Smith says.

The 1987 cotton crop is projected at 12.8 million bales, down less than 1 percent from August, Smith explains. Texas and Oklahoma upland cotton production is currently estimated at 3.88 million bales, an increase of 9 percent over the August 1 projection reflecting favorable August growing conditions in the Southern High Plains of Texas, he notes.

"Cotton industry watchers are keeping an alert eye on the Lubbock area, because although the foliage looks good, the crop is late and needs a good September and a late freeze if it is not to repeat last year's crop disaster," Smith says.

The 1987 wheat production, projected at 2.11 billion bushels, is down less than 1 percent from the August estimate, Smith notes. "Little action is seen in the wheat market, but it could benefit from bullish corn and soybean reports," he adds.

Texas rice growers are expected to produce 15.1 million hundredweight in 1987, down 17 percent from 1986. Total U.S. 1987 rice production, expected to be 126.8 million hundredweight, is 6 percent under 1986.
