Raider Reivew Continued

Who's zat?
By LAURIE ABEL
Who's that little girl that is posing so pretty for the picture? Few students knew the real identity of this little cutie. The only clue given was that she was a junior girl.
Bonny McMurrough and Dionne Glover were both fooled by this picture. They thought her to be Prisca Cantu. While Pepe del'Garza knew it had to be Christine Delgado, Patty Ann Stephens was sure it was Sylvia Garza. Jesse Casanova was completely baffled by the picture.
Sally Strube, Camille Mitchell, Joey Mansfield and Suzanne Corman knew, without a doubt, that this little girl was none other than Tonya Castro. Tonya is a member of the Raider Band and active in the Business Club.

OEA fund raiser results

By STEPHANIE OWENS,
Reporter

The Rice OEA Club has successfully completed its fund raiser for the 1987-88 school year. The three top sellers of the club were as follows: Katrina Carson, who received the $15 cash prize for the most sales; Sylvia Garza, who received the $10 cash prize, and Lynette Banks, who received the $5 cash prize. Congratulations to these members on their hard work.

The members of the Rice OEA would like to thank its supporters who helped to make the fund raiser a successful one.

FHA'er of the month chosen

By DIONNE GLOVER

Holly Casarez, daughter of Nick and Debbie Casarez, will go down in the Rice High School history books as the first FHA'er of the month. This ambitious sophomore was unanimously selected as FHA'er of the month because of her hard work and innovative projects.

Holly showed good leadership qualities, worked on the Power of One award which recognizes FHA members' birthdays, created a poster to increase membership, worked in the concession stand, attended the Columbus alcohol abuse meeting, and devised a transportation project for Garwood students.

Holly feels very proud to have been named FHA'er of the month. She plans to continue to work hard in FHA and to run for an FHA office next year. She would like to inform students that

Meet the Rice Raiders

By SUZANNE CORMAN

This week the Raider Review continued its interview with the senior members of the Raider football team.

Twaymon Boone is the son of Mrs. Veronica Daniels of Garwood. He is 5'10" tall and weighs in at 223 pounds. On Friday nights he sports jersey number 70 and plays defensive tackle.

Twaymon had a few comments about the situation of the Raiders this year. He said, "This year the team did not play the way people expected us to. We had a few injuries which, I think, was one of our main weak points. We would have had a more successful season if our injuries had not been so severe. I wish the Raiders better luck next year."

After leaving Rice, Twaymon plans to enter the Marines, serve for four years, and then go to school to better his education.

Albert Lopez, of Garwood, is 5'11" and weighs in at 245 pounds. On Friday nights he fills the position of guard and "zips" around in jersey number 65.

Albert feels that the Raider team has stuck together even though things didn't go quite the way they had planned. He said, "I think that the fans deserve a hand. We didn't give them much to cheer for, but they stood behind us like true Raider fans. The coaches deserve alot, too."

"It hurts alot not to be district champs and not to go to the playoffs. It seems especially bad when you are a senior, but at least we gave it our best shot."

After high school Albert plans to attend UTI in Houston.

Both Twaymon and Albert have been an asset to the Mighty Raider team since "day one." These boys, as well as the whole team, should be commended for their hard work.

Friday, Nov. 12: roast beef, mashed potatoes and gravy, English peas, cherry jello, hot rolls.

Monday, Nov. 16: beef and cheese tacos, pinto beans, dill pickles, lunchroom doughnuts.

Tuesday, Nov. 17: steak fingers, rice and gravy, mixed vegetables, pink applesauce, hot rolls.

Wednesday, Nov. 18: barbecue on bun, French fries, catsup, tossed salad, banana pudding.

Thursday, Nov. 19: fried chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, buttered spinach, assorted jello, biscuits.

Friday, Nov. 20: fried pie, baked beans, celery and carrot sticks, pineapple bit bits, hot rolls.

The beginning of the end

By PATTY STEPHENS

Wednesday, October 28 marked the first step of the seniors' journey toward graduation. On this day Mr. Davidson's government classes were overrun with excited seniors ordering invitations, memory books, caps and other high school keepsakes. Once again the Ballour Company gave the seniors a variety of items to choose from.

Marsha Hoffman took a little time to collect her thoughts. "It's hard to believe that we are now in the position of the people we looked up to as freshmen. This year is going to be an adventure," Brian Balas also added his feelings when he said, "I will be glad to graduate and move on to college, but it will be sad to think that these high school years will be over."

Dionne Glover summed up the thoughts of most seniors when she said, "I'm looking forward to the beginning of my college life, but I'll be heartbroken the night of graduation when my high school days end."

A few seniors were asked how they felt about being one step closer to graduation. Leslie Sunderman said, "I can't believe that just 3 years ago I was a freshman and in a few short months I'll be graduating. I'm excited, but also scared." When Jose del'Garza was asked this thought provoking question he said, "I'm happy I'm finally going to graduate from a good school, but I'm also sad because I will miss my friends and favorite teachers."

When asked how he felt about Rice High School, he said the school is nice and the students are friendly, which makes him glad that he's a part of it.

FHA is not only for girls, but for anyone who is dedicated to do his or her best.

Surviving the bumps and bruises of band

By RENEE BALAS

Every week the band directors of the Mighty Raider Band choose four band members who they feel have shown outstanding work. This week the directors chose the seniors of the band. Each senior band member received a band-aid "for sticking with it for four years," said director Debbie Harhat.

This year's senior band members include Lynette Banks, Cathy Castillo, Elaine Contreras, Suzanne Corman, Jose del'Garza, Lara Dupre, Cindy Garza, Dionne Glover, Leslie Glover, Sharon Harborth, Kelley Jarvis, Jennifer Mader, Kamille Mitchell, Jason Priemeyer, Gary Sosa, Patty Stephens, Sally Strube, Leslie Sunderman and our outstanding drum major Marsha Hoffman.
