FTA'er of the month

By HEATHER ABEL
This month, two Freshmen have won the FTA'er of the month award. The winners for the month of January are Joy Johnson and Melanie Labay, who certainly have done their share to win this award.

Joy attended the Christmas meeting, brought two extra dishes for the dinner, brought a gift for her secret pal, voted for the December FTA'er of the month, and selected two teachers and gave them Christmas gifts. Melanie attended the Christmas

Meet the Lady Raiders

By BECKY FAICHTINGER
This week, the Lady Raider spotlight is shining on junior Rita Kaye Rhodes. Rita wears jersey number 33 and plays the position of post for the Lady Raiders this year.

Rita feels that the team is doing real well, but needs to keep working hard and have positive attitudes. Rita stated that "we have a lot of motivation, and we work together as a team, but our weakness is a lack of depth in each position." Rita also stated that "Needville is going to be our toughest opponent but I feel we have the ability and potential to beat them."

Who's zat?

By JANIE BOTARD
Don't get this little monster upset or he might turn into the "Incredible Hulk". This tubby cheeked, green creature made the guessers ooh and ahh.

Even though it wasn't hard to figure out the face under the green, there were incorrect guesses. Brian Center, a little shaken up by this "scary monster", said it was Robert Lujan. Gabriela Garza screamed in horror and guessed Gonzalo de la Garza. Rachael Hoffman was scared speechless and came up with no guess.

Whitey Dopslauf, Charlotte Korenek, Jaime Marquart and Raymond Ford all knew this "terrifying" monster had to be Norman Botard.

Norman, known as Bobo by his friends and family, is the son of Norman and Janet Botard of Sheridan. He is involved in J.V. basketball varsity baseball and tennis.

Effectively Reduce Blood Pressure

Many of America's 60 million hypertensives take prescription medicines to help control their blood pressure. These medicines work in a variety of ways to keep the pressure at a reasonable level. Some medicines dilate blood vessels, causing a drop in the pressure. Other types inhibit special nerve receptors located in the brain. A third category includes medicines which reduce blood pressure by affecting either the amount of blood pumped out of the heart or the amount that is pumped back to the heart.

Another category of medicines that effectively reduce high blood pressure are called ACE inhibitors. These medicines prevent the formation of angiotensin, a substance which tends to raise the blood pressure. ACE inhibitors such as captopril and enalapril have received a lot of attention because of their high degree of effectiveness, especially when taken with diuretics. The overall low incidence of side effects for ACE inhibitors is low.

In a study of over 600 men with high blood pressure, those treated with an ACE inhibitor had significantly higher "quality-of-life" scores (e.g., work performance and general well being) than did those receiving other types of medicines.
