Raider Review

Entertainment R.H.S.

By CHRISTINA SMITH
As the Friday dismissal bell rings, students gather their belongings while deciding their weekend destination. Groups of friends or just couples have their own tastes, but what ever the choice, a good time is sure to be had. With Rodeo season here, students from Rice find time in their schedule to attend the various entertainment shows. Russell Labay, Shanna Brunner, Kim Corman and Tess Taylor attended the Clint Black performance on Sunday Feb. 19th, while Natalie Cordova, Becky Faichtinger, D.D. Valdez and Wendy Valdez plan to see Steve Warner on Sunday, February 25th. Many other students plan to attend other rodeo performances such as: George Strait, Chicago, Bill Cosby, Alabama, and Restless Heart.

Who's zat?

By LAREINA PENGE
This little sweetheart wants to play hide-n-seek. Many students at Rice were puzzled seconds after they were told she was a member of the sophomore class. Daniel Sosa and Melanie Labay looked in the wrong corner and found Shanna Brunner while Heather Abel went to the closet and found Bonnie Benge. Christina Smith peeped under the bed and saw Michelle Owens, and Darryl Anderson didn't have a clue as to where to look. Those who did go to the right corner and looked in the bucket were Preston Broesche, Michelle Owens, Nathan Reyes and Lana Hutchison. They all found Becky Korenek. Becky is involved in U.I.L. and volleyball. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Korenek of Nada.

By JANIE BOTARD
Only three months left until the Class of 90 walks out of the doors of Rice. Although many seniors are not thinking about college, there are some who have their college careers pretty much planned out. Everyone agrees that this summer will be a time for having fun and spending as much time as we can with people we love and care about. When August comes around, most of us seniors will be leaving our friends and families to discover a whole new world, COLLEGE!

Vojacek attends BPA area contest

By ROMALDO CARDENAS
On Saturday, February 3, Kristen Vojacek attended the Area V Business Professionals of America Contest. She is the daughter of Larry and Kathy Vojacek of Eagle Lake. Kristen was accompanied by her sponsor, Mrs. Henrietta Baumgarten. This event was held at Memorial High School in Houston. Kristen competed in the category of Financial Assistant. This category included such competencies as payroll, calculating, banking practices and cash reconciliations. Members of the Rice BPA were proud to have Kristen represent their chapter at the Area Contest.

Rice hosts Spelling Bee

By BECKY FAICHTINGER
Rice High School recently sponsored the 1990 Colorado County Spelling Bee. Competition was held in grades kindergarten - fifth grade and sixth - eighth grade. There were participants from Columbus, Sheridan, Eagle Lake, Weimar, and Garwood. The winner of the kindergarten - fifth grade spelling category was fifth grader Matt Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Miller of Columbus. The runner-up was fifth grader Jessica Muras, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Muras of Weimar. Other participants were Danielle Witte of Eagle Lake and Courtney Garza of Sheridan. Winning the sixth - eighth grade spelling category was eighth grader Rebecca Sosa of Eagle Lake, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sosa. Runner-up was seventh grader Shari Grahmann of Sheridan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Grahmann. Also participating in this event were Rhonda Warschak of Columbus, Shaundra Henderson of Garwood, and Rhonda Bartek of Weimar. Winners of the kindergarten - fifth grade category will compete in the Junior East Texas Bee on April 4, 1990, and grades sixth through eighth grade winners will compete at the East Texas Bee on April 11, 1990. The East Texas Spelling Bee is a Public Service of the Houston Chronicle.

Rice Band members display their talents

By HEATHER ABEL
On Saturday, February 17, twenty-eight members of the Rice Raider Band traveled to Cuero High School for the Solo and Ensemble Contest. In the Class I category, six students received a I rating and qualified to go on to the state competition to be held in Austin later this year. These students were Heather Abel - flute; Rhonda Prazak - alto sax; Welby Horton - tenor sax; Tricia Thomas - tenor sax; Bonnie Benge - trumpet; and Darryl Anderson - piano. Others participating in this category were Heather Abel - piccolo; Delia Valdez - clarinet; Sharra Querner - alto sax; Noble Anderson - piano. Rhonda Prazak, Sharra Querner, Welby Horton and Tricia Thomas made up the sax quartet while Noble Anderson, Brad Baumgarten, Bonnie Benge, Mark Johnson, Bennie Castillo and Darryl Anderson composed the brass sextet. In the Class II category, Jill Janish on flute and Will Adkins on tuba received division I's. Other participants were Lana Hutchison - flute; Pat Lares - flute; Claudia Garcia - clarinet; Melanie Labay - clarinet; Eric Garza - trumpet; Ryan Meehan - trumpet; (Shanna Brunner, Natalie Cordova and Pat Lares) made up the flute trio. In the Class III category, Joy Johnson - flute; Stacey Spanihel - flute; Karl Seaholm - flute; Tara Johnson - clarinet; and Jennifer Wied - clarinet all received division I's. Other participants in this category were Shanna Brunner on flute and Kim Powers on piano. Congratulations to all of these students for a job well done.

Raider Pride

By DARRYL ANDERSON
This week, the faculty committee chose freshman Kim Powers, the daughter of Clark and Vicky Powers of Eagle Lake, as the Student Pride Award winner. When told of her selection, she was very surprised to have won. After being at Rice for over one semester, Kim is now becoming a veteran at the school and says that "everything's going smoothly. The teachers here are great, and I enjoy working for them." Kim especially enjoys working for her Biology teacher, Mr. Streit. She feels that "life makes biology fun and interesting." She says that she "learns a lot from him and he pushes his students where they will try their hardest to get good grades." Kim's favorite class is Algebra I. She likes it because she enjoys "math and working with numbers and variables. It is very challenging." Her extracurricular activities include U.I.L. Informative Speaking, band, basketball, track, and twirling. Outside of school she enjoys twirling, playing the piano, running, and swimming. Congratulations Kim and keep up the good work.

Top Ten Health Frauds
According to a recent report in FDA Consumer, Americans spend approximately $27 billion each year for various unproven health remedies. The top ten frauds according to the report are:

1. Arthritis products such as bee venom and copper bracelets.
2. AIDS cures that have not been tested and approved.
3. Cancer therapies including vitamins and laetrile.
4. Instant weight-loss devices such as skin patches and special earrings.
5. Sex aids promising to enhance libido and pleasure.
6. Appearance modifiers including wrinkle-removing creams and unproven baldness cures.
7. Nutrition products such as wheat germ capsules.
8. Chelation therapies that claim to clear arterial fat.
9. Muscle stimulators sold to remove cellulite and provide face-lifts.
10. Fungus hypersensitivity cures that claim to help rid the body of the Candida fungus.

Life after Rice High School

Wharton County Junior College is a big hit on the list of colleges to attend in the fall. Mikey Hefferman plans to attend WCJC then transfer to A&M where he plans to become a Vet. Jeanette McTear also plans to attend WCJC with no plans, as of now, for afterwards. Holly Casarez plans to stay at Wharton for a year then transfer to A&M with a major in computers. Along with attending WCJC, Linda Gold plans to transfer to the Art Institute of Houston and major in commercial advertising. Majoring in architecture, Glenn Lippert plans to attend WCJC for 1 year then transfer to U of H. Preston Broesche plans to attend WCJC then go to the University of Texas and major in electrical engineering. Ann Drlak plans to get her degree in medical record technology at WCJC. Stephanie Causey plans to attend Wharton for a year then transfer to Southwest Texas and major in accounting.

Several Rice athletes plan to continue their sport careers in college. Lloyd Jackson plans to attend the University of Houston with the hope of playing basketball and major in business. Scooter Davis is planning to attend Blinn unless he receives a basketball scholarship anywhere! He plans to major in x-ray technology. Whitey Dopslauf and Russell Labay both plan to attend SWT and try to play baseball. They plan to major in business. Casey Clipson plans to attend Sul Ross or Friends University in Kansas and play football. After two years, he plans to further his accounting major at Texas Tech. Nick Shorter, Ulab Johnson and Ira Jones, all plan to attend Sul Ross and play football. Blinn Junior College will be receiving three of Rice's finest bandsters, Shara Querner, Brian Center and Scott Williams plan to attend Blinn and major in business. Both Scott and Brian plan to continue their education at A&M after Blinn.

Fashion Clips

By NATALIE CORDOVA
As we adventure through the halls of Rice, new fads and fashions are seen. Many fashions have entered the 1989-90 school year. The latest girl's wear are the Genie pants and the turtleneck shirts. Not only are these fashions in, but their is also the decorative and painted shirts worn with the baggy rolled up or straight legged pants. Many of the students at Rice show their pride by seniors wearing their senior t-shirts and the juniors wearing their class ring t-shirts. We also see some of the students showing their favorite basketball player by wearing Air Jordan's and Michael Jordan sweatshirts. The latest boy's wear are the turtlenecks and the Bugle Boy pants. With this, the guys have many choices of wearing their army boots, loafers, ropers, and leather jackets. This year's fashion jewelry is the gold rope chains, nugget rings and nugget watches. The colors black, white and purple are being worn more and also the old time miniskirts are coming back into style. So we close our fashion review, we take time to recognize each student's personality and attitude as their own style.
