Who's zat at Rice? Speech class goes to court

By BECKY FAICHTINGER

Well this girl is sure getting into the swing of things isn't she? She's ready to hop on and take off. These little freshman eyes sure did fool everyone, but there were some that knew who's anxious little face this was.

Those not along for the ride and guessing wrong were Ann Driik and Dawn Hornet naming April McMillan. Brent Mathis thought it was Jenny Wied, and Anessa Williams guessed Tara Johnson. Tressa Sewell was definitely stunned having no idea who's innocent little smile this was. Despite all these wrong guesses, there were many that were definitely "in the swing". Guessing right were Glenn Lippert, Janie Board, Sher Sunderman, Welby Horton, and Tammie Hinze who all new that this little girl ready to swing was no other than Chantelle Chabreck. Chantelle is the daughter of Breck and Nancy Chabreck of Sheridan.

By JANIE BOTARD

On Monday, April 2nd, Mrs. Tommie Lynn Holden's speech class went to court. The students went to observe court procedure and to recognize legal terminology, protocol, and jury selection. Mrs. Holden said, "Both judges Schraub and Crane were helpful in explaining court procedure and the sentencing process. Each judge expressed the belief that visiting court and seeing the judicial system at work was valuable."

Easter eggs closer

By HEATHER ABEL

The time for Easter has come again. In the stores you already can see the familiar chocolate Easter bunnies, candy-coated eggs, stuffed animals, and Easter cards that are this holiday's trademark. On April 15, Egg-Day will roll around once more.

Rice has four days off for the upcoming holiday, which means time to visit family and friends, explore the religious aspects of the holiday, travel, or just hang out at the beach. This also means some well-deserved R & R for students and teachers alike.

No matter where you go or what you do, the annual staff wishes you the best Easter yet!

U.I.L. competition held

By ANESSA WILLIAMS

First place honors went to Vicky Hyeck with Sharna Overner receiving fifth place and Trino Maldonado, sixth.

Also in Spelling, Trino Maldonado took top honors with Laura Rodriguez placing second and Joshua Graham placing fourth. In the Newswriting category, Darryl Anderson placed first and Christina Smith received fourth place. In Typing, Amy Leopold received first place with Dawn Piccolini placing third. In Editorial Writing, Anessa Williams received first, while in Headline Writing Heather Abel received first with Brad Baumgarten taking third.

Fourteen students are eligible to compete at Regionals on April 21 in Kingsville. Best of luck to these students.

Maldonado's soil essay wins 1st

Trino Maldonado, a senior at Rice, tied for first place in the district Soil and Water Conservation competition. Maldonado, his sponsor Lillian Gohlke, and other winners were honored in Columbus at the Soil and Water Conservation Awards Banquet on March 29 at the high school cafeteria.

Maldonado received a first place trophy and his entry is now entered in regional competition.

Rice FFA elects officers

By LAREINA PENCE

On Thursday, March 29, 1990, the 1990-91 Rice FFA officer elections were held. The results were as follows: Rachel Weishuhn, president; Thomas Gold, vice president; Sher Sunderman, secretary; Chad Sunderman, treasurer; Lareina Pence, reporter; Jason Eggemeyer, sentinel; Louis Mahalic, student advisor; Jesse George, chaplain; and Aaron Machac, parliamentarian.

These officers will take their office on April 10, 1990 at the annual Rice FFA banquet. Congratulations to the 1990-91 Rice FFA officer team.

Batter up!

By CHRISTINA SMITH

It's a fly ball out to left field and who is there to catch it - no one other than "Mighty" Casey Clipson. Casey is a senior this year and plays left field for Rice's Varsity Baseball team.

Casey stated, "The team has potential in becoming a great ball club if we keep up the hard work." Casey feels the teams' defense is their strength, but they seem to have trouble with having one bad inning in their games. However, with the help of their coach, Monte Cain, the intensity of the game is keeping up.

Besides baseball, Casey also plays football and runs track at Rice. After graduation he plans to attend Friendship University in Kansas. Casey is the son of Richard and Kay Clipson of Eagle Lake.

Results. Nutri/System.

Nutri/System clients rated Nutri/System more personalized to their needs than dieters rated other weight-loss programs.

Nutri/System custom tailored the weight loss program to me and helped me lose 112 lbs. The counselors helped me discover my body's true weight. They pointed out that all my meals were not equal. I was hungry for real food! I was aware of the problem they helped me overcome by teaching me better eating habits. Now I get a lot more energy and a lot more confidence. I haven't had this in 10 years.
