Spring break

Once again it's time for that great week that students look forward to all year long. Yes, spring break is here again and as usual, many Rice students are packing up and heading off to "exotic" places.

Several students plan to have some "fun in the sun" as they head for such places as Port O' Conner, South Padre Island and Galveston. Other students are just "trying to get away from it all" by heading to Austin, Houston and

By ANESSA WILLIAMS

Some of Rice's students choose to take the relaxing route and just "sleep all week" and catch up on their favorite soap. Others choose to make some serious money as they work all week long.

No matter what the location of the Rice student's long-needed vacation, there's sure to be plenty of stories floating around school about "the best spring break ever!"

Foot Facts

CHILLING OUT

Most people know by now that the correct first aid for most injuries and surgical wounds is to apply ice. Remarkably few, however, know how to use ice properly. During the first two to three days after an injury or surgery, ice should be applied frequently to prevent swelling and to help prevent blood from pooling in the area. Do not use an ice bag. Freeze water in moist paper cups, and peel the paper back enough to expose the surface of the ice. Wrap this in a plastic bag, and cover it with a small soft towel or dry washcloth. Rub the covered ice gently on the wound or injury for five to ten minutes per hour. Ice as frequently as you can for the first day or two, but don't use ice on a fresh wound. Icing is especially effective before and after gentle stretching exercises. Never strap or tape ice to your body. Doing so can freeze already damaged skin.

Using ice on your child after a fall is also important but often difficult if they are distressed. Be patient, gentle and firm. Please call my office for further information or for an appointment, at the Eagle Lake Community Hospital at 409-234-5571. I am there the first and third Tuesdays of the month. As a family practice, I offer comprehensive diagnosis and treatment of foot problems, as well as preventative foot care direction.

P.S. You can reuse the same ice block several times.

'Midnight Caller' to debut

By BECKY FAICHTINGER

The U.I.L. spotlight of the week shines on the theatrical troop of the Rice High School One-Act Play. The production "Midnight Caller" is under the direction of History and English teacher, Suzanne Chiu.

The judging of the contest will be based on the way the actors satisfy the competitive, artistic spirit with friendly rivalry among schools, while emphasizing high quality performance in this creative art.

The aims of the One-Act Play Contest are to foster appreciation of good acting, good directing and good drama. Students should also learn to lose or win gracefully, accepting in good sportsmanship the judge's decision and criticism with a view to improve future productions. Another aim is to increase the number of schools which have adopted theatre arts as an academic subject in school curricula.

The aspiring actors in this year's competition are Heather Abel, Welby Horton, Lana Hutchinson, Jennifer Wied, Rhonda Satsky, Jason Dulany, J'Amy McClanahan, Amy Leopold and Kim Powers with their crew of Dustin Hengst, Cesar Housey, Shannon Smith and Rodney Sosa. These students will travel to Bellville on March 18 to perform in the UIL Competition.

Who's Zat?

"Please hurry and take my picture! I am getting tired of having this fake little smile!"

This little cutie didn't fool too many people at Rice. This adorable little child is still as cute as she was when she was a baby.

Irma Perez, Bryant Williams and Natalie Cordova had no idea who she was. Leticia Perry thought the little smiling sweetie was Michelle York. Shannon Wesselski guessed Leticia Perry. Amy Leopold and Sheri Sunderman thought she was Evelyn Washington. The correct guessers were Scott Garrett, Bianca Cantu, Eddie Fields and Becky Faichtinger. They all knew this sweet and crazy girl was Terria Edwards.

Terria is a Sophomore and is a member of the JV Basketball team. Terria is the daughter of Mrs. Gennal Colson of Eagle Lake.

Warning for teen smokers

By NATALIE CORDOVA

The U.S. Public Health Service's Office on Smoking and Health presented the first round of their annual public service announcements about the hazards of smoking.

The Public Health Service counted approximately 3,000 teenagers smoking each day in the United States, over one million annually. The most recent information from the Surgeon General's Report is that among high school seniors, 18% of the boys and 19% of the girls are smoking regularly. Also, nearly 90% of people who smoke, started smoking before their 21st birthday.

For eight years now, the U.S. Public Health and Human Services, have been preparing ads, and student editors and faculty advisors have been generous in donating space for them. These ads that are delivered send a valuable message and can be worthwhile reminders that smoking is harmful to your health.

Televisions installed

By MANDY LUEVANO

In order to upgrade the possibilities of learning and maintain the substance of technology, 17 nineteen-inch Magnavox televisions have been installed in various classrooms at the high school. Whittle Communications, who also sponsors a series of informative bulletin boards called "Connections", has installed the T.V.'s so that the students can be better informed about current events and important world issues.

The T.V.'s consist of two channels: "One" is a 12 minute span of current, up-to-date issues that affect our world. Young people who may not have the opportunity to watch the news at home are provided a chance at school. The educational channel consists of lessons in Foreign Languages, the Social Sciences, Language Arts and Current Events.

Each teacher is given the opportunity to preview the programs to see if the subject matter is relevant to their subjects. They are then given the option to let their classes view one of the two segments. The T.V.'s have also been installed in Columbus, Louise and El Campo, compliments of Whittle Communications.
