Business seminar for women landowners

You are wanted if you are a woman landowner who is interested in learning about writing leases and saving taxes. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service will hold three, 2-day workshops at the following locations: Corpus Christi, June 13-14, Holiday Inn Airport; Wichita Falls, June 24-25, Sheraton; Amarillo, June 27-28, Fifth Season, East.
Many Texas women find themselves thrust into land-owning situations for which they have very little training or background," says Wayne A. Hayenga, Economist and Attorney with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Frequently a woman is 'in charge' of property upon the death of her husband or after inheriting land." The entire 2-day workshop will be an opportunity for women to explore income generating and tax saving opportunities for their farms and ranches.
The first day of the seminar will be concerned with minerals under the land. Suggestions on wording in new leases will be given as well as some tax savings hints. Also, since most women who inherit land don't want to operate it themselves, a special session on farm and ranch leases will be held. Items to include in a lease, both of an economic and legal nature will be addressed. Many owners are concerned about the "fairness" of a lease. A method to develop a "fair" and "stress-free" lease will be explored, as well as suggested guidelines and standards for women landowners to use to evaluate tenants.
Topics as how to run your business, should it be a corporation or partnership, will be addressed for both income tax and estate planning considerations. Many farms can have income taxed at only 15 percent if the owners want the farm to expand.
Estate planning for both married couples and single people will be addressed for landowners. Estate tax rates on amounts over $600,000 are from 37% to 60%. This indicates why many women that want to look at the special tools to change farm valuation in an estate, explore trust tax saving possibilities and look at other tax saving estate tools.
There will also be a discussion of planning ideas to make estate administration easier.
The seminar leader will be Wayne A. Hayenga, of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. He is an economist and attorney with extensive experience in tax planning as an advisor to farmers, ranchers and agribusiness firms.
The registration fee of $60 per person includes all seminar materials and lunches for both days.
For registration information contact your Texas County Extension Agent or Wayne Hayenga or Carol Sabo at the Agricultural Economics Department, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843-2124, Phone: 409-845-2226.

County burglaries solved with arrest by Waller County Sheriff

A subject recently arrested in Houston identified Charles Henry Robinson as the person who had pawned merchandise from the two burglaries. Sheriff Bill Esterling asks residents to be on the look out for a silver 1-ton pickup (not a dual-wheel) which was seen occupied by two black males wearing western hats. The driver of this pickup has been identified in a line-up by two witnesses as being Charles Robinson.
Evidence in these cases is "coming together" since the arrest in Houston, according to Esterling.
