Owners to discuss leasing opportunities.

This year's directory features nearly 500 private landowners with about 750 leases covering more than 4 million acres.

The listings specify the county where the lease is located, the number of acres, the type of games and amenities available, as well as other pertinent information. Telephone numbers and addresses for the landowner are also included.

"The Clearinghouse is a joint effort of TDA and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department," Perry said. "Through this program, we promote Texas recreation potential, as well as provide some type of additional income to farmers and ranchers."

"The hunter's directory is an extensive listing of Texas landowners who lease their land for hunting and fishing," Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry said. "It is designed to put hunters in direct contact with landowners to discuss leasing opportunities."
