Patrick now sole owner...

Victor Mascheck retires

Victor Mascheck retired June 30 as owner and operator of Mascheck Chevron Service Station. His son, Patrick Mascheck, became sole owner and operator of the station on July 1.

Vic, as he is well known to his friends and customers, bought the station from Paul Marx and began business on June 13, 1960. At that time it was a Gulf Service Station. During these 31 years, Vic not only sold Gulf and later when Gulf changed its name to Chevron products, he also ran a reliable automobile repair service department.

Mr. and Mrs. Mascheck came to Eagle Lake from Fayetteville on January 1, 1950. They have two daughters, Cynthia and Lucy; a granddaughter, Vickie and sons-in-law who live in Houston; and a son, Carl and daughter-in-law who live in Pecan Grove at Richmond. Son Pat has lived in Eagle Lake most of his life.

Vic has no particular plans in his retirement but will help Pat get started and help where he is needed.

As Vic says, Pat was brought up in the service station. After an absence of several years from Eagle Lake, he returned in 1982 and joined his father at the station.

Pat is a graduate of Rice High School, attended Wharton Junior College one year and finished at Texas State Technical Institute in Waco. With his amiable disposition he has made many friends. He serves his customers in a friendly, courteous manner and this is the kind of service he will continue to give.

Pat's years of experience at the service station has well prepared him to give efficient service in the automobile repair department of the station. His desire will be to have satisfied customers.

Best wishes are extended to Vic for a long and happy retirement in good health.

Pat extends a cordial invitation to his friends and customers to come by and be serviced. Best wishes are extended to Pat for a long and successful career in his new business.

Dancers

A group of our young ladies who are dancers traveled to Arlington recently to take part in a national competition.

Carrie Engstrom, Jennifer Krenk, Amanda Engstrom, Leigh Ann Michalka, Nicole Krenk, Shanna Waligura and Dyana Rees were the dancers. They are all students at Beverly Ripple's El Campo Dance Academy.

Our young dancers did very well, earning honors in the competition that included dancers from all over the country. Congratulations girls and keep up the good work!

Community Association

The Garwood Community Association held its monthly meeting to reflect on the Rice Festival and elect new officers. The Rice Festival turned out a big success despite some inclement weather early that morning. Everyone who worked so hard should be pleased with the festival's results. The club also elected new officers.

Gaye Ann Stevens will take over the reins as president. Debbie Lisle will be vice president. Sue Krenk will be secretary and Bea Bittner will return as treasurer.

Last year's officers deserve some high praise for their accomplishments. The strong leadership of Robert and Freda Abell directed the club through a successful term. It's good to have people who will accept responsibility for our community's sake.

Cowboy

Good news is hard to keep a secret. Despite a reluctance to publicize his success, we learned that Clint Krenk did very well last weekend at the youth rodeo in Sequin. It seems that Clint placed first in the tie-down competition and second in breakaway. It's a real pleasure to report on a young man who does so well in such competitive events.
