Foot Facts

By Dr. Eric R. Tepper, Podiatrist
ARE YOUR FEET COVERED?
It isn't a question of shoes and socks. The coverage your feet need is health care coverage. If you are over 65 or collecting disability benefits or have end-stage renal disease, you may be eligible for Medicare benefits. Social Security recipients are automatically eligible for Medicare, Part A, which covers hospitalization. Medicare, Part B, which covers doctor bills and other medical expenses is voluntary. After you've met the deductible, Medicare covers 80 percent of the "reasonable charges" for medically necessary foot care and out-patient surgery. However, definitions are sometimes vague. Your doctor can tell you what's covered. If you have a private insurer, check your policy or call the administrator. HMO's often do not include foot care for patients unless they happen to be diabetic. Regardless of how it will be paid for, foot care is a medical need. Don't cheat your feet!
Unfortunately, an alarmingly high number of folks are not covered by either private or public health care plans, and many of them work full time! Please call my office for further information or for an appointment, at the Eagle Lake Community Hospital at 409-234-5711. I am there the first and third Tuesdays of the month. I offer your entire family high quality, professional and sensitive service.
P.S. Whenever you have concerns or questions about your feet, consult your podiatrist. We're here to help.

Sciatica: Pain of the Back, Hip, and Legs

Sciatic pain occurs more frequently in men and involves pain of the legs and lower back. Sciatic pain can result from pressure on the sciatic nerve, the largest nerve in the body. Actually there is more than one sciatic nerve. These nerves branch out from the spinal cord to the buttocks, the sex organs, and the lower extremities. Any condition that affects the sciatic nerve that runs down each leg can cause pain all the way from the lower back to the toes.

Typically, sciatica is sensed as a burning pain that shoots down the hip along the back of the thigh. Coughing, sneezing, or trying to bend the back may worsen the pain. The pressure on the sciatic nerve is thought to occur when one of the discs of the back bone breaks and presses on one of the roots of the sciatic nerve. A narrowing of the opening in the vertebrae from arthritis of the spine is another cause of sciatic pain.

Treatment of sciatica consists of bed rest and limiting movement of the extremities. Heat from a heating pad or hot water bottle applied to the hip and legs may provide some relief of pain. Nonprescription pain-relievers such as aspirin, ibuprofen, and acetaminophen may be helpful. If the pain persists, treatment of underlying causes may be necessary. Surgery may be required to correct an abnormal spinal condition.
