Visitor Reader brightens day at 'My Friends House'

This past rainy-day Monday at "My Friend's House" was brightened immensely by Linda Balas, a member of the Eagle Lake United Methodist Church and a Visitor Reader-Volunteer for the preschool child care program at the church.

More than sixteen ladies from the community are currently volunteering one hour each month to read a story or two to the children at "My Friend's House".

More important than the stories shared are the hugs and fresh imagination which each lady brings to the children. Visitor Reader Volunteers come to read on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons.

"We are so grateful for these gracious ladies like Mrs. Balas who are committed with us to enriching the lives of these little ones during their preschool years," says Robbin Clippson, Director of "My Friend's House".

"Our Visitor Readers time is scheduled right after naptime to fill a special need for some extra hugs and snuggles in the story corner," Clippson continued.
