Alpha Delta Phi Sorority

On Jan. 21, the sorority met in the home of Charlene Rodgers and enjoyed a salad supper before the business meeting.

President Mary Kay Cook presided and read thank yous from Mrs. Helen Farris and Vicki Powers.

Program Chairperson Charlene Rodgers reported the next meeting place. The next teen dance is set for March 13.

Rosebud girl Sue Canaris reminded members of upcoming dates and thank yous were said. They discussed sponsoring window painting in downtown Eagle Lake during the Wildflower Celebration. The members voted for the 1992 sweetheart to be presented at the Western Dance Feb. 8. Charlene showed a video on Beta Sigma Phi followed by a social time and dessert.

The Sportsman's Restaurant was the setting for the Alpha Delta Phi meeting Feb. 3. President Mary Kay Cook opened the meeting and the minutes and treasurer's report were given.

Program Chairperson Charlene Rodgers reported the next meeting will be Feb. 17, at the home of Jeri Lou Shindler with Sheila Mathis in charge of the program. Members were reminded of the Western Dance on Feb. 8 with a social time beginning at 8 p.m.

President Cook reported on rosebud for Sue Canaris and reminded members of important dates. Members discussed the next junior high dance to be held March 13. They also discussed the window decorating during Wildflower Celebration. Thank yous were said.

Jeri Lou Shindler presented a program on Music Trivia while members enjoyed dessert.

Newly formed Catholic Youth meet

The Catholic youth group had their first meeting the evening of Feb. 16 at the home of Breana Wood.

Mary Ann Wood opened the meeting with a prayer. Following the meeting, the group enjoyed a scavenger hunt, meal and burping contest. Travis Polach let out a thunderous roar and won first place.

The youth group will meet again Sunday, Feb. 23, then go to St. Phillips in El Campo for a volleyball tournament.

Columbus FFA

The Columbus FFA Show is scheduled for March 6-7. It will be held at the FFA showgrounds.

Visitors will notice some changes this year. In addition to extensive work by students and advisors on remodeling the pens, a junior show will be featured along with an ag mechanics show.

Poultry judging will begin Friday, Mar. 6, at 4:30 p.m. Parade line-up is at 9 a.m. Saturday, with judging at 9:30 and the parade officially stepping off at 11 a.m.

Barbecue will be sold at noon at the showgrounds and the sale will begin at 2 p.m. If anyone would like to enter a float in the parade or would like more information, contact the FFA at 409-732-5746.

Many of the FFA students will be representing Columbus in Houston and San Antonio this year. The AG mechanics entries will be going to Houston Feb. 14-16. At the same time there will be students showing or judging in San Antonio, Feb. 13-15, according to teachers/advisors Doug Ullrich and Dean Fuchs.

County conservation poster, coloring and essay winners honored

Theodore Schultz, chairman of the Colorado County Soil and Water Conservation District's Environmental Education Committee, announces the winners of the coloring, poster and essay contests that were recently judged.

Two new categories of district competition were added to the contest this year. One is a special education class for coloring and posters, and essay division. The other is the poetry form for the essay division.

Again this year, the total number of entries, 2014, exceeded that of the previous year. There were 1210 coloring entries; 530 posters and essays, including poetry, numbered 274. The coloring sketches were furnished by the district for kindergarten through third grades.

Winners in the coloring contest were: Kindergarten, Abby Youens, Weimar Elementary; first grade, Codi Bittner, St. Michael's in Weimar; second grade, Olivia Ann Cardenas, Eagle Lake Primary; third grade, Johana Lopez, Eagle Lake Primary.

Special education coloring winners were: elementary, Jamie Lee Gonzales of Eagle Lake Middle School; junior high, Roba Martinez of Weimar Junior High; high school, Rex McCloud of Rice High School.

The title for the poster contest was Resource Conservation. Winners in the elementary division were: first place, Jennifer Christ of Eagle Lake Middle School; second, Jay Glueck of St. Anthony's in Columbus; third, Ginger Case of Eagle Lake Middle School; fourth, Billy Macauley of St. Michael's in Weimar Junior high winner was Kinde Mikan of St. Anthony.

Special education poster winners were: Lindsey Fuchs of Columbus Elementary; Carrie Burris to Columbus Junior High and Rex McCloud of Rice High School.

The essay and poetry contest title was Soil and Water Conservation. The essay winners in the elementary division were: first, Doug Bradford of Columbus Elementary; second, Kyle Grohman of St. Michael's; third, Ginger Case of Eagle Lake Middle School and fourth, Amanda Beck of Columbus.

The junior high division essay winners were: tied for first, DeeAnna Antosh of St. Michael and Monica Puente of Columbus Junior High; second, Brian Froebel of St. Anthony; tied for third, Reed Smith of Columbus and Ramon Rodriguez of St. Anthony; in fourth, Del Frnka of St. Mary's in Nada.

The high school winners of the essay contest were: Katri Shaller of Weimar High in first place and Pam Baron of Columbus High in second. The special education essay winner was Corey Bishop of Weimar Junior High.

In the poetry division, the elementary winners were: first, Angie Leopold of St. Mary's in Nada; second, Dawson Kaiser from Columbus; third, Eric Bacus of Weimar.

Junior high poetry winners were: in first place tie, Darnell Fontenot of Weimar and Jay Yeakel of St. Mary's; second, Chad Westelski of St. Mary's; third, Holly Wick of St. Michael; and fourth, Jeremy Stevens of Garwood.

High school winner in poetry was Brooke Garcia of Weimar High School.

Special education poetry winners were: Gloria Williams of Columbus elementary and Edmond Irving of Weimar for junior high.

The directors of the Colorado County Soil and Water Conservation District will sponsor the annual awards banquet at the Columbus High School Cafeteria on March 26 at 7 p.m. The students, parents and teachers will be recognized and honored at the banquet.
