CLUB/ORGANIZATION NEWS

Alpha Delta Phi

Jeri Lou Shindler's home was the setting for the Alpha Delta Phi meeting Feb. 17. Sheila Mathis gave the program entitled "Life Is Laughing at You" and members discussed the many times they had lost or misplaced things and not found them until months later.

President Mary Kay Cook called for the minutes and then read a thank you note from Sheila Mathis. Tray favors for the hospital were made by Service Chairperson Sheila Mathis for February.

Program Chairperson Charlene Rodgers reminded members of the next meeting March 2, at her home with a guest speaker for the program. President Cook gave a report on the Western Dance. Rosebud girl Sue Canaris reminded members of important upcoming dates and thank you were said. The Teen Dance to be held March 13 was discussed. It will be at the Community Center. They also discussed sponsoring the window painting contest for the Wildflower Celebration. President Cook reported the Lady of the Year nominations need to be in by next meeting.

The members enjoyed refreshments and a social following the meeting.

March 2, the Alpha Delta Phi Sorority met in the home of Charlene Rodgers. Mary Ann Wood and Pam Mossbarger from the Parent Aide Program provided the program. President Cook read communications and reminded the members of the recycling program in Eagle Lake. Also the hospital's 50th anniversary celebration and the participation in the Wildflower Celebration are coming up.

Program Chairperson Charlene Rodgers reminded members of the next meeting March 16 at Jennifer Obenhaus' home with Jennifer having the program. Rosebud girl Sue Canaris reminded of upcoming dates and thank you were said.

The teen dance for grades 6-8, March 13, is scheduled. Lady of the Year was voted on and the rules for the window painting contest were presented to members. Following the meeting, members enjoyed refreshments and a social.

American Legion to dispose of flags March 24

The W. Cherry-M. Perry Post #108 of the American Legion in Eagle Lake will hold its quarterly meeting Tuesday, March 24, at 7 p.m. The officers of Laker Printing will be the site for the Tuesday night meeting. All members as well as interested veterans are invited to attend.

Commander Fred Frnk says the meeting's agenda will include discussion of officers for 1993.

At the close of the meeting, the Legionnaires will hold a ceremony to properly dispose of unserviceable United States flags. Any persons who have flags to be disposed of, are invited to bring the flags to Laker Printing before 5 p.m. March 24.

Inventions

Third grade: Isam Brisco, Eric Kasper and Tracy Lynn Whisman; Fourth grade: Joel Baggett, Joan Jubela and Daxton Brisco.

U.D.C. Shropshire Upton Chapter #361

The Shropshire Upton Chapter #361 of United Daughters of the Confederacy met March 12, at the home of Mrs. Dan Thornton in Eagle Lake.

Mrs. Betty Jo Rutta, president, presided. The meeting opened with the ritual and salute to the flags, followed by the reading of the minutes from the last meeting.

Mrs. Margaret Litzman gave the treasurer's report. A memorial was given by Ilse Miller in memory of her mother, Lilly Ilse Miller, and her aunt, Ella Ilse. Both ladies were charter members of this chapter.

Mrs. Millycent Crane reported the Children of the Confederacy will meet March 28, in Brenham. Refreshments will be served in the home of Mrs. Harriet McElreath, the sponsor of the Children of the Confederacy.

Mrs. Sarah Uzzi gave the historian's report. In the president's last report she told of the last living son of a Confederate soldier in Kansas, Ray Miller. His father was Gerrard Polaskie, Co. E, 12 North Carolina Infantry. He was 16 when he served and was at Appomattox when General Robert E. Lee surrendered.

Mrs. Wanda Schock and Mrs. Joyce W. Gordy were voted into membership.
