L.J. Johnson, Sr.

Sept. 8, 1945 to April 23, 1991

It has been one year now (Tuesday morning, April 23, 1991) and the tears seem to be endless. At age 45 you departed this life. At the time, you left behind a 35 year old wife who loves you so deeply; a 15 year old son that was turning 16 in six weeks; a 13 year old son and a darling little girl at age 18 months old.

Your CB friends miss hearing the name "Beaver Skinner", your roping friends, Buck (your horse), and all your family and friends miss you deeply. Oh! Let's not forget all the bulldozers that you have operated. We will never forget you. God is taking care of you now.

LaTrinita didn't get a chance to be with you very long, but through me she will learn a lot about her father. You were here for her first birthday, but not the second one, but through good memories from her first birthday, I made it through by reliving the first birthday when you were here.

Clock of Life

...it wound but once
and no man has the power to tell just when the hands will stop,
at late or early hour.

Now is the only time
you own.
So live and toil with will.
Place no faith in your tomorrow,
For the clock
may then be still.

Your loving wife always,
Evelyn J. Binkley Johnson

ADMINISTRATOR'S NEWS

Recently many surveys have been conducted which illustrate that three out of four Americans would support publicly funded financial assistance for long term care for all elderly individuals. Support for federal financial assistance has increased from 72% in 1990 to 74% in 1991.

Fifty percent of those involved in these surveys indicated that the federal government should be the primary source for payment in long term care. Thirteen percent stated the state government should be the source while only 2% stated the individual should be responsible for his/her own care.

Many of those involved in these surveys stated that they would be willing to have taxes increased by $200 per year to fund a federal assistance program.

In 1991, only 17% of the respondents expected to need long term care, which was a decline from 1990 when 22% thought that eventually they would need long term care.

Over 50% of the total respondents stated that they would purchase long term care insurance if the premiums would average $400 per year.

In the United States, only 1% of the total population has long term care insurance. This is an option that should be considered as many will not qualify for public assistance whether it be federally or state funded.

Meet the Raiders

By Patricia Lares

Our Meet the Raiders this week is 18 year old senior Norman (Bobo) Botard. Bobo wears number 16 and is the starting pitcher for the varsity baseball team.

He enjoys baseball as his favorite sport and fishing, hunting, and partying as his hobbies. Bobo's favorite teachers are Mrs. Holden and Coach Cain, while his favorite subjects are art and tutorial.

Bobo's expectations for the Rice baseball team this year are "winning district hands down and making a trip to Austin for the first time."

As a senior and returning player he was asked what he believes he will contribute to the team, and he said, "I will contribute leadership, talent, and I will do what it takes to win."

Bobo is the son of Norman and Janet Botard from Sheridan.

Rice A.E. goes to art festival

By Shannon Wesselski

The Rice Alternate Education students participated in the "Fourth Annual Very Special Arts Festival" at the Town Plaza Mall in Victoria. This event was sponsored by the Gulf Coast Region 3 Education Service Center, Victoria ISD and Gulf Bend Mental Health and Mental Retardation Agency.

The festival provided an opportunity for the physically and mentally handicapped students, clients and adults to participate in workshops, stage performances, displays and demonstrations. All was related to art, music and drama with the theme: all the world's a stage. Six hundred participants represented all counties in the Region 3 area.

The Rice students demonstrated their skills in an art workshop by making and decorating musical instruments. They also attended a music workshop where they learned to read music and play their homemade instruments. The students from Rice were awarded first place ribbons in the art contest, participation ribbons for their square dance routine in the stage performance and were recognized for their great effort in the t-shirt painting and name tag decorating contests. The Rice students participating in this festival were Socorro Cano, Doyle Holland, Sidney Lira, Misty and Rex McCloud and Larry Morgan.

Meet the Lady Raiders

By Jennifer Wied

This week's star Lady Raider is Senior Bonnie Benge. Bonnie is a member of the Rice varsity girls track team. She participates in 330 hurdles, 100m hurdles, 880m relay and shot put. she is unhappy to see the season come to a close for she knows that she will never be able to compete in varsity track again.

Bonnie came in fifth in 100m hurdles and fourth in 880 relay at district. Bonnie said, "My highlight of the season was the fellowship which I shared with my teammates."

Bonnie is the daughter of Sandra and Major Benge of Eagle Lake.

Who's Zat?

By Vicki Drlik

"I wish someone would hurry and pitch me a ball so I could work on my batting average." When it came to guessing this ball player's identity, many people struck out.

Terria Edwards hit a foul ball when she guessed Will Atkins. Matt McGaughey and Kevin Jackson took a walk when they guessed Louis Mahalitic. Sam Mader, Clay Cerny and Josh Grahmann got kicked of the game since they had no possible idea.

Jason Brunner got hit by the pitch when he guessed Todd Mascheck. Tweet Ford hit a fly ball when he guessed Chancey Pence.

The lucky players who hit grand slams were Bobo Botard, Steven Polach, Shannon Smith, Connie Soto, Ashley Cranek, Shane Glaiser, and Jesse George. All knew this star player was Shane Laake.

Shane is a player on the varsity baseball team and is a junior. Shane is the son of Harvey and Connie Laake of Sheridan.

Brunner awarded student pride

By Bonnie Benge

The student pride winner for this week is Shanna Brunner. When asked how she feels to receive this award Shanna says she feels honored. Shanna is involved in many activities at Rice such as cheerleading, basketball, Student Council, and vice president of the Senior class. Arthritis Treatment: The Pyramid Approach

There are two major types of arthritis. Osteoarthritis is a condition in which there is a gradual wearing away of cartilage, the cushioning material at the ends of bones. When cartilage deteriorates, bones tend to rub together. Osteoarthritis occurs with aging as the result of long-term wear and tear on the joints. Rheumatoid arthritis, on the other hand, can occur at any age. It is a swelling and inflammation of the synovium, the thin lining of the joints. The result of both arthritis types is pain, inflammation, and swelling.

A new approach to the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis is being promoted by some health authorities. The approach, which is referred to as the pyramid approach, is described in a recent issue of Postgraduate Medicine. At the base of the pyramid (first treatment steps) is education, physical therapy, occupational therapy, and high doses of salicylates (such as aspirin).

To these first measures physicians may add anti-inflammatory and antirheumatic medicines, usually in a step-wise fashion. Such medicines include nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory agents, low-dose prednisone, hydroxychloroquine, gold salts, penicillamine, methotrexate, cyclophosphamide, high-dose steroids, and finally, the experimental agents.
