In Loving Memory

Of My Husband and Sons Erwin R. Walker, John G. Walker Lance Corporal Danny Lee Walker

We never lose the ones we love. For, even though they're gone, Within the hearts of those who care, Their memory lingers on.

That as your child, "I do love you!"

Don't worry Mama, you done all you could do, You were always there and you were always true, And I thank you Mama so very, very much, If only I could see you now or maybe feel your touch. know of the pain and tears you cried. And the many ways that you tried. I know I didn't make your life a life of too much fun, But Mama, I swear I thank you for all you've done. You've been more than a mother's supposed to be, You've been more than a mother to me. When troubles came about, you were always there, And you showed in every way that you really do care. Of your sweetness and love I can never repay, So at this time I would like to say. Of the many things that I might do.

Every week, when I read your newspaper, i eems to me that crime is going up more and more each day. I wish to help in every way I can to prevent or to help prevent crime in Eagle Lake. Please put this poem in the newspaper.

Listen to some of the thoughts I have had. Of faces I've seen, and how they are sad.

Mostly they try to keep it inside, Looking to be free, but freedom is denied. There's hurt in their hearts and tears in their eyes. The pain in their faces, they can't seem to hide. When a man is like this, what will he do? His freedom is gone, and his life seems too blue. The system we have is a system of sin. The games that are played, are played with men. People are bought and people are sold.

A man's life is worth less than a hand full of gold. I've seen a lot of people play to win, But the loss of the game is loss of man. So what can you do when you're faced to play, In a game where the judges make the rules, their way. There's a room in this place they call the hole.
I've seen a lot of men that have walked in bold. They came out bent, and torn with pain. And the residents wonder if the man is still sane. Well, the time goes by, and I sit in my cell: Looking for the day that I'll leave this jail. Please help me God, just one more time. Get me on the street before I lose My mind... John G. Walker
