Play asks 'What kind of church are you?'

The E. H. Henry Corporation is hosting its first summer drama workshop with Yolantha Harrison Pace of Houston as featured guest playwright, actress and director.

Pace has spent several weeks this summer teaching and directing the "Summer Like Never Before Workshop" of young drama students in a special play entitled "Get Right..." at the Henry Building. In the play, This Little Light of Mine Missionary Baptist Church asks the question "What kind of church are you?"

When asked about the play, Pace said it is about the individual role that each member of a congregation plays in the church. The play challenges the ineffectiveness of today's churches.

Pace had two main goals in writing the play. "First to take a close look at what a church would be like if all the members participated; and secondly to take one of the most popular parables in the Bible, the parable of the Good Samaritan, and present it in a manner that would address pertinent issues today. The priest and the Levite of today's setting become such people as a nurse, a minister and a Texas A&M student."

The community is invited to attend the performance of this production Saturday, July 17, at 3 p.m. The performance is in honor of the E.H. Henry High School reunion being held this weekend in Eagle Lake.

Yolantha is the daughter of Raphael and Elaine Harrison of Eagle Lake and granddaughter of the late Prof. E. H. Henry and Mamie Henry.

Dallas economy in the future," Sharp said.

The City of San Antonio continues to exhibit solid economic growth. The Alamo City had the third largest payment in July, $5.8 million, a 9.3% increase over last July's payment of $5.3 million.

"The transportation and public utilities industries have expanded by almost 6%. San Antonio's reputation as a tourist destination should continue to steer the City's economic growth," Sharp said.

Austin's payment of $4.9 million ranked as the fourth highest rebate, an 18.9% increase from the City's July 1992 payment of $4.1 million and the highest percentage increase for the month among Texas' major cities.

"Austin's solid economic performance continues to be attributed largely to its burgeoning high tech manufacturing industry," Sharp said.

The City of Ft. Worth, with a $3 million rebate, increased by 15.4% from its July 1992 payment of $2.6 million. The City of Arlington's payment of $2.7 million decreased 3.9% from the $2.8 million sent the City last year.

"The Fort Worth-Arlington area is in the midst of a very gradual economic recovery. The recently announced relocation of a large Motorola manufacturing facility to Ft. Worth should breathe new life into the area's sluggish economy," Sharp said.

El Paso experienced employment growth in all segments of its economy. As a result, the July rebate to that city was $2.7 million, up 5.9% from the $2.5 million payment in July 1992.

"The manufacturing industry in El Paso grew 6.5%, adding 2,800 jobs to the City. Maquiladora and other manufacturing activities hold some promise for the continued growth of the El Paso economy," Sharp stated.

Other cities in our area, the amounts of their sales tax rebates this month, along with the change from this month last year are:

Columbus, $28,360.58, -0.68%;
Weimar, $8,404.76, +27.47%;
Sealy, $35,256.22, +16.83%;
Bellville, $12,885.63, -5.86%;
El Campo*, $104,502.67, +55.73%;
and Wharton, $63,660.80, -2.82%.

Year-to-date totals for the above cities are:

Columbus, $217,289.97, +3.18%;
Weimar, $66,586.64, +8.02%;
Sealy, $233,984.95, +1.28%;
Bellville, $115,148.84, +15.78%;
El Campo*, $809,735.78.11, +51.96%;
and Wharton, $534,394.70, +4.41%

On the county level, Colorado County's July check was $30,932.92, down 2.58% from last year giving a year-to-date total of $265,497.74, +3.39%. Wharton County received $73,332.98, -10.00%, bringing the year-to-date to $589,241.00, -2.71%. Austin County received $35,608.24. Year-to-date Austin County's total is $346,184.02, up 8.43%.

*El Campo now collects 1.5% city sales tax giving an inflated percentage of increase.
