

1993 Colorado County Fair... Wrap-up

Ora Tesch of Sheridan showed the grand champion plant in the golden age division this year. Her Pony Tail cactus was something to behold.

Sarah Mann, daughter of David and Claudia Mann of Eagle Lake, took the Best of Show in the senior youth, division II, of the Colorado County Art Show.

The reserve champion turkey, exhibited by Andrew Koch of Columbus, was purchased by Cullen Ranch of Columbus, represented by Ronald Polasek, for $799. Also pictured is Heidi Heinsohn.

The grand champion turkey, exhibited by Jeff Kahlden of Weimar, was purchased by Glazier Foods of Houston, represented by Henry Beken, for $800. Also pictured is Dana Ramsey.

The reserve champion rabbit, exhibited by Jennifer Fuchs of Columbus, was purchased by J.W. Faltsek Paving of El Campo, represented by H.O. "Butch" Strunk, for $650. Also pictured is Julia Birmingham.

The reserve champion heifer, exhibited by Kenneth Reck of Columbus, was purchased by H-E-B Pantry Foods of Columbus, represented by Steven Theis, for $2,700. Also pictured is Julia Birmingham.

Livestock Photos
Courtesy of The
Banner Press
Newspaper

The reserve champion lamb, exhibited by Frances Mkrwa of Eagle Lake, was purchased by David R. Wintermann of Eagle Lake, represented by T.J. Smith, for $1,049. Also pictured is Colorado County Membership Queen Heidi Heinsohn.

The grand champion goat, exhibited by Stacey Noska of Frelsburg, was purchased by Industry Telephone Co. of Industry, represented by Gaylen Ackley, for $600. Also pictured are Mason Marek and Dana Ramsey.

The grand champion lamb, exhibited by Chad Emmel of Weimar, was purchased by Industry Telephone Co. of Industry, represented by Gaylen Ackley, for $1,050. Also pictured are Mason Marek and Colorado County Fair Queen Dana Ramsey. Total sales for 1993 were $80,314.67.

The reserve champion goat, exhibited by Mark Noska of Frelsburg, was purchased by Brookshire Bros. of Columbus, represented by Ronnie Reveal, for $599. Also pictured are Shelly Reveal, Colorado County Junior Fair Queen Julia Birmingham and Amy Edwards.

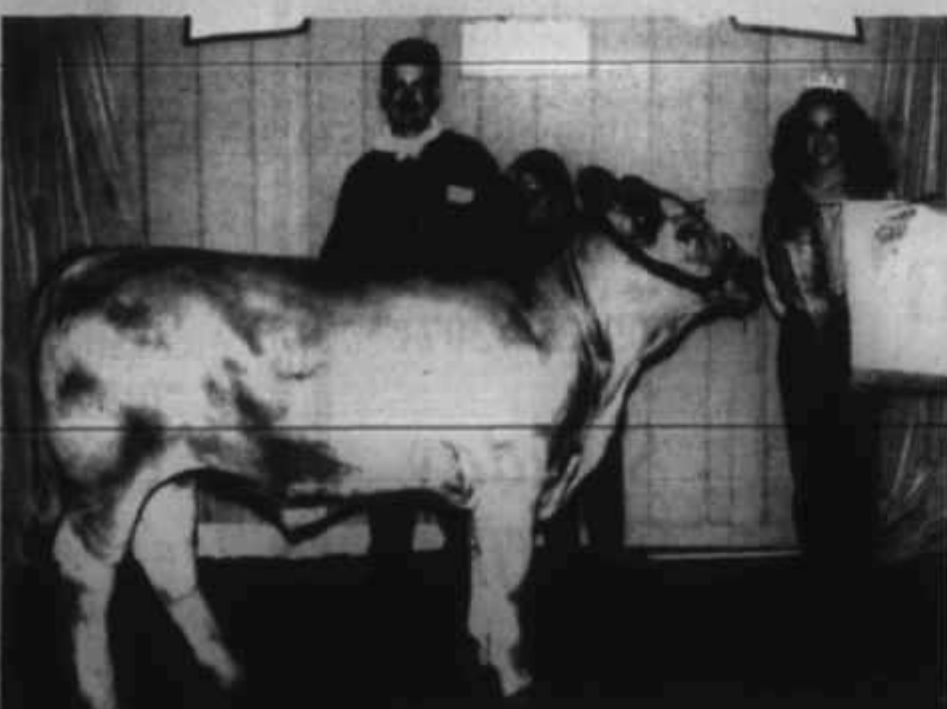

The grand champion hog, exhibited by Julie Sodalak of Bernardo, was purchased by Industry Telephone Co. of Industry, represented by Gaylen Ackley, for $1,000. Also pictured are Mason Marek and Dana Ramsey.

The grand champion heifer, exhibited by Sarah Jane Fuchs of Weimar, was purchased by Sammy Barr of Pasadena for $5,250. Also pictured are Dana Ramsey and Connie and Hannah Barr and Kelley Rabon.

The grand champion steer, exhibited by Brian Emmel of Weimar, was purchased by Calvin Bruce Fields of Katy, for $3,400 per pound, totaling $3,563.20. Also pictured is Linda Fields and Heidi Heinsohn.

The reserve champion steer, exhibited by Robin Shavers of Eagle Lake, was purchased by H-E-B Pantry Foods, represented by Steven Theis, for $2.95 per pound, totaling $2,876.25. Also pictured is Dana Ramsey.

The grand champion rabbit, exhibited by Dyan Rees of Garwood, was purchased by Trill Environmental Response Inc. of Altair, represented by Lester Crane, for $950. Also pictured is Julia Birmingham.

The grand champion broiler, exhibited by Jeff Kahlden of Weimar, was purchased by Henry and Beth Beken, Bob and Sharon Huette, Ken Kram Insurance, Bugman of Weimar—Donnie Head and Seifert & Son, all of Weimar, and Schulenburg Livestock Auction, represented by Henry Beken, for $600. Also pictured is Julia Birmingham.

The reserve champion broiler, exhibited by Jay Glueck of Bernardo, was purchased by Henry and Beth Beken, Bob and Sharon Huette, Ken Kram Insurance of Weimar—Donnie Head and Seifert & Son, all of Weimar, and Schulenburg Livestock Auction, represented by Henry Beken, for $599. Also pictured is Dana Ramsey.

The reserve champion hog, exhibited by Del Frnka Jr. of Eagle Lake, was purchased by H-E-B Pantry Foods, represented by Steven Theis, for $800. Also pictured is Julia Birmingham.

Wrap-up... 1993 Colorado County Fair

Winners in this year's Texana division were, from left, front row, Julie Sodalak, grand champion junior youth; Lora Weishuhn, reserve champion junior youth; Erica Trojacek, grand champion primary youth; Jacey Nawara, reserve champion primary youth; back row, Elizabeth Schoellmann, grand champion golden age; Evelyn Barrett, reserve champion golden age; Susan Matzke, grand champion adult; and Dorothy Wicke, reserve champion adult.

Winners in this year's art show were, from left, front row, John Wooten, elementary reserve best of show; Danielle Whitehair, best of show pre-school; Gideon Obenhaus, elementary best of show; back row, Rita Addicks, reserve best of show adult beginner; Barbie Hatten, best of show adult beginner; Sarah Kearney, senior high reserve best of show; and Chris Waddell, senior high best of show. Not pictured are Peter Barchfield, reserve best of show pre-school; Sarah Mann, junior high best of show; and Carl Raetzsch, junior high reserve best of show.

Winners in this year's canned products division were, from left, Bernice Heinsohn, grand champion golden age; Luci Sklar, grand champion adult; Virginia Fritsch, reserve champion adult; Lora Weishuhn, grand champion golden age; and Dorothy Wicke, reserve champion adult. Not pictured is Linda Aurich, reserve champion golden age.

Winners in this year's favorite recipe division were, from left, Alaina Pavlick, grand champion golden age; Mildred Schultz, reserve champion golden age; Luci Sklar, grand champion adult; Madeline Haltermann, reserve champion adult; and Nicole Noska, grand and reserve champion senior youth.

Winners in this year's farm produce division were, from left, Alaina Ponitzsch, grand champion golden age; Bernice Heinsohn, reserve champion golden age; Luci Sklar, grand champion adult; Rita Addicks, reserve champion adult; and Lora Weishuhn, grand and reserve champion junior youth.

Winners in this year's baked goods division were, from left, front row, Amy Edwards, grand champion junior youth; Julia Birmingham, reserve champion junior youth; Jacey Nawara, grand champion primary youth; back row, Evelyn Barrett, grand champion golden age; Alaina Ponitzsch, reserve champion golden age; Dorothy Wicke, grand champion adult; Rita Addicks, reserve champion adult; and Nicole Noska, grand and reserve champion senior youth. Not pictured is Timothy Berman, reserve champion primary youth.

This beautiful set of horses pulling an old fashioned stage coach were part of Saturday's parade. They are known as "The Hitch" and are sponsored by Kennedy Sausage in Weatherford, Texas. Riding the stage are Kenneth Williams and Bill Smith.

Winners in this year's floriculture, silk arrangements, division were, from left, Dorothy Wicke, grand champion adult; Theresa Galvan, reserve champion adult; Lora Weishuhn, grand champion junior youth; April Nawara, reserve champion junior youth; and Nicole Noska, grand champion senior youth.

Winners in this year's floriculture, plants, division were, from left, front row, April Nawara, grand and reserve champion junior youth; Lora Weishuhn, grand champion most unusual container; back row, Ora Tesch, grand and reserve champion golden age; Barbara Frause, grand champion adult; Dorothy Wicke, reserve champion adult; and Nicole Noska, grand champion senior youth.

Winners in this year's floriculture, specimen, division were, from left, front row, April Nawara, grand and reserve champion junior youth; Jacey Nawara, grand and reserve champion primary youth; back row, Viola Warschak, grand champion golden age; Marjorie Brune, reserve champion golden age; Dorothy Wicke, grand and reserve champion adult; and Nicole Noska, grand champion senior youth.

Winners in this year's decorated baked goods division were, from left, front row, Jennifer Skutca and Lora Weishuhn, tie for reserve champion junior youth; Krista Becker and Erica Trojacek, tie for grand champion primary youth; Lauren Trojacek, reserve champion primary youth; back row, Beverly Pinner, grand champion adult; Brenda Skutca, Phoebe Frause, and Josephine Peters, three-way tie for reserve champion adult; Rachael Pinner and Heather Pavlick, tie for grand champion junior youth.

Winners in this year's clothing division were, from left, front row, Delores Bartek, grand champion golden age; Bernice Heinsohn, reserve champion golden age; Lilla Mae Aschenbeck, grand champion adult; Virginia Fritsch, reserve champion adult; and Nicole Noska, grand champion senior youth.

Lynda Appelt, past president of the Colorado County Fair, was the lucky one chose to ride "Tumbleweed" in this year's parade. The longhorn, a regular at the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, is owned by Ralph Fisher from Barker, Texas.

Winners of this year's youth high point awards were, from left, Nicole Noska, first place senior youth; April Nawara, second place junior youth; Lora Weishuhn, first place junior youth; Jacey Nawara, second place primary youth; and Erica Trojacek, first place primary youth. These awards are sponsored by San Bernard Electric Coop and the Colorado County Extension Homemakers.

Winners in this year's needlework division were, from left, Dorothy Neundorff, grand champion golden age; Ora Tesch, reserve champion golden age; Beverly Morris, grand champion adult; Gladys Ulbricht, reserve champion adult and Nicole Noska, grand and reserve champion senior youth. Not pictured is a representative of the Eagle Lake Middle School whose entry won grand champion in the Junior youth division.

Winners in this year's handicrafts division were, from left, front row, Lora Weishuhn, reserve champion junior youth; Erica Trojacek, grand champion primary youth; Kristi Becker, reserve champion primary youth; back row, Edna Urban, grand and reserve champion golden age; Ellis Hatten, grand champion adult; Gladys Ulbricht, reserve champion adult; Nicole Noska, grand champion senior youth; Not pictured are Misty McCloud, reserve champion senior youth, and Roxann Halfmann, grand champion junior youth.

Dorothy Neundorff, left, was chosen as top quilter in the county in the Go-Texan quilt competition. Pictured with Neundorff is Beverly Morris of Sheridan whose two quilts each won best of division and Elizabeth Schoellmann of Nada whose entry also won a best of division. Neundorff's quilt will go to Houston to compete in the 1994 Livestock Show and Rodeo.

Winners in this year's collective hobbies division were, from left, front row, Stacey Noska, grand champion junior youth; Roxann Halfmann, reserve champion junior youth; Clinton Halfmann, grand champion primary youth; Stacy Markwardt, reserve champion primary youth; back row, Ellis Hatten, grand champion adult; Judy Hatten, reserve champion adult; Rachel Matthes, grand champion senior youth; and Nicole Noska, reserve champion senior youth.