During the wintermonths, one out of every two persons will experience cold. The common cold is actually a group of illnesses that can be caused by any one of more than 100 different viruses. While most symptoms of a cold are confined to the head, nose, and throat, cold viruses can cause problems in the lungs as well. Since most colds are not serious threats to one's health and often last no more than a week to ten days, self-care measures are important. Bed rest, extra fluids, humidification of the air, Nonprescription medicines also may play an important role in over-
