ELHS graduates of '64 celebrate 30 year reunion

The 30 year reunion of the Eagle Lake High School 1964 graduating class was held June 25 in Eagle Lake.

The class gathered for their reunion at Sportsman's Catering Center, the sixth they have had since graduation.

The center was decorated with the school colors of orange and black along with the class flowers, blue and white roses.

Grads were reminded of their senior motto "Not finished, just beginning" and class song "Moon River".

The Eagle, school mascot, overlooked one of the serving tables.

Christine Owen displayed a collection of 11 Eagle yearbooks from 1954 to 1964, second through 12 grades for the graduates.

There were 36 members in the graduating class of 1964, 18 boys and 18 girls with 22 members who started first grade together. There were 16 members present at the reunion with two special guests.

Guest Sue Matthews Weller attended ELHS through her sophomore year and Steve Terrell was with the class through their freshman year.

All members of the class are believed to be still living and only one, Ray Vandewerker, could not be contacted.
