About Town...

"Catherine Berger was thoughtful enough to share with us a letter received at the Eagle Lake Police Department recently concerning Officer Jack Knox. The letter was from two ladies from Houston who encountered Knox at a gas station/food mart near the 610 Loop when their Suburban overheated "without warning". They stated, "Not only did Mr. Knox take the time to help us with the car, he spoke to our sons (five of them) about his partner (Osh). The children loved it!"

"All too often we are quick to point out negative qualities of people and we just wanted to recognize Mr. Knox for his kindness and thoughtfulness. Please send our thanks to him again." Isn't it nice to know we have people like that watching out for us here, in Eagle Lake?

Senior rings arrive

By Rebecca Burrow

March 16, ended months of anxious waiting for the arrival of senior rings by the Class of 1996. Rings were ordered from Balfour in October 1994, marking roughly five months until delivery. Styles and prices ranged from traditional to extremely elaborate.

For the past few weeks, juniors have been getting classmates and friends to "turn" their ring, a tradition for senior rings. After obtaining 96 signatures, the year of graduation, a special someone "locks" the ring in place by turning it in the opposite direction. This is to ensure good fortune and a bright future to members of the Class of '96.

Wesley Leopold, Chad Wesselski, and TJ Buzak think hard about their senior ring design.

On March 28th, the FFA Chapter of Rice High School held a meeting to vote on FFA officers for the coming year. 1995-96 officers are as follows: President, Clint Krenk; Vice-president, Michelle Spaniel; Secretary, Amy Obenaus; Treasurer, Neal Mahalich; Reporter, Stephanie Thompson; Sentinel, Cody Cery; Student advisor, Kyle Korenek; Historian, Brooke Krenk; Chaplain, Jenny Hajoovsky; and Parliamentarian, Brent Schneider.

The FFA members are busy preparing for their banquet which will be held on Thursday, April 20, at 7:30 in the high school commons.

On Saturday, April 8th, Michelle Spaniel, Justin Rogers, Frances Mrkwa and Chad Fucik were scheduled to participate in the area livestock judging contest to be held in College Station.

Once everybody found out he was from Garwood, there was no doubt about who this loveable boy could be. Yes, it is no other than Kyle Korenek. Kyle is very involved in FFA and played football. Out of school he likes to go to dances, hang out with his friends, go to rodeos, and someday wants to ride broncos.

Kyle is the son of Lawrence and Jennifer Korenek. He also has two sisters and a brother. Through the next three years of high school Kyle just plans to take it easy and rodeo.
