Mayor makes Sept. 'Rice Month' in Eagle Lake, too

It's time to celebrate! Celebrate National Rice Month that is, Sept. means it's time to salute Texas rice farmers and the U.S. rice industry for their contribution to agriculture.

National Rice Month began Sept. 1991 after a joint declaration by both houses of Congress and a Presidential proclamation.

The goal of National Rice Month is to increase awareness of rice and its attributes, and to stress the importance of the rice industry on the U.S. and local economies.

Since National Rice Month's beginning, per capita rice consumption in the U.S. has risen three pounds, and it's projected the USA Rice Council's goal of "25 by '95"—pounds per capita by 1995, will be reached by the year's end.

More consumers are recognizing rice's importance. It is important to the U.S. and Texas for many reasons: •U.S. rice farmers are expected to harvest 17.7 billion pounds of rice on 3.1 million acres in 1995, (U.S.D.A.). •Over 90% of the rice consumed in the U.S. is grown domestically. •Rice is the fifth most valuable food crop in the U.S. •U.S. rice producers are expected to export 8.3 billion pounds of rough rice to more than 100 countries in 1995, (U.S.D.A.). •As the fourth largest rice producing state in the U.S., Texas farmers are expected to harvest on 338,000 acres of land in 1995, (U.S.D.A.). •Rice is full of complex carbohydrates and is fat, sodium and cholesterol free.

As a staple of two-thirds of the world's population, rice is the most important food. It helps the U.S. and local economies and it's healthy, too. Since rice is so versatile, it can be served at any meal. So help spread the word and celebrate National Rice Month in your community by saluting Texas rice farmers, joining in the festivities and eating more rice.

Eagle Lake Mayor Robby Cook signs a proclamation making Sept. "Rice Month" in conjunction with the national awareness campaign. Looking on as Cook puts his "John Hancock" to a copy of the proclamation is Davis Waddell, one of many who contribute to the rice production in the area. Headlight Photo by Jeannine Fearing

Lady Raiders lose in Wharton tournament

On Friday, Sept. 8, the Lady Raider varsity traveled to El Campo and ended up losing to the Lady Rice Birds by scores of 13-15 and 13-15.

Though the coaching staff thought the girls played better, mistakes took their toll on the Lady Raiders, even though the girls have team effort and the desire to win.

On Sept. 9 the girls traveled to Wharton for a tournament. Coach Barnes stated there was a lot of good competition there. He thinks the girls can still win some games and likes that the girls don't give up.

The first game of the tournament put Rice against Boling. The girls lost 11-15 and 8-15.

In the second game, they won over Tidehaven, 15-4 and 15-1.

The third game, the girls played the top team, Brazosport, and lost 13-15 and 12-15.

The varsity team consists of Leigh

Jackson, Kristen Stienke, Rebecca Burrow, B.J. Salazar, Jodi Heard, Nikki Chamberlain, Rachelle Kallins, Andrea Machac, Bridget Baird, Adriana Cordova, Amie Smith, Lea Spangenberg and Robin Rucka.

The next game for the girls was scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 12 against Edna.

Lady Raider JV drops games to La Grange, El Campo

The Rice Lady Raider JV team took a loss at the hands of the La Grange Lady Leopards in their district opener on Tuesday, Sept. 5. The match scores were 13-15, 15-8 and 11-15.

Coach Jane Laws said, "We played a good defensive game but our offense was running hot and cold. We've been working on moving with the ball and, defensively, it really paid off. The ladies had several offensive blunders that took their toll on us."

In the game against El Campo on Sept. 8, the ladies played inconsistently. There seemed to be a communication problem.

Laws said, "I think we were already thinking about the football game instead of the task at hand. Even though we lost, we were able to get some things going on the offense.

"Our serving was a little better and our setter did a good job of getting the ball to the attackers."

The JV volleyball team have a season record of 3-4, and a district record of 0-1.

Raider JV ties up little 'Cats'

The Rice Raider JV football team opened their 1995 football season, Thursday, Sept. 7, at Rice Stadium hosting the Weimar Wildcats.

The Raiders fell behind early in the contest as the Wildcats scored on their first play from scrimmage on a 25 yard pass.

The PAT failed and the Raiders trailed 6-0.

The Raiders offense stormed back, scoring on its next possession, as quarterback Pete Rangel scampered 35 yards around the left end to even the game at 6-6.

The Raider PAT failed and the score remained in a deadlock at 6-6.

Neither team managed to score for the remainder of the half.

The second half was a defensive battle which saw the Raider offense plagued by turnovers and penalties, stalling drives and missing numerous scoring opportunities.

The game finally ended with both teams even at six points each.

Offensive standouts for the Raiders were Kendrick Pipkins and Rangel.

Defensively, Josh Godley recorded one interception and Jeremy Gohlke recovered a Wildcat fumble.

The Raiders were a little flat and will try to work out the kinks before they take on the Schulenburg Short-horns next Thursday night at Raider Stadium.

Everyone is urged to come out and support the young men. Game time is 7 p.m.

Local WWI vets to be honored

"Your Service Will Never Be Forgotten" is the theme for the program commemorating the 50th anniversary of World War II being held on Saturday, Sept. 23, in Eagle Lake.

Veterans of WWI living in the Eagle Lake area will be honored guests at the special at in the KC Hall. The public is invited to attend the free admission program at 7 p.m. to pay tribute to those who served our country during the conflict from 1914 to 1918.

Invitations have been issued to local veterans by the sponsor of the event, HEROS (Helping Eagle Lake Remember Our Soldiers).

"We have attempted to contact all WWI veterans living in our area," stated the HEROS committee. "If you or someone you know did not receive a personal invitation, please contact us by this Friday (Sept. 15) at 234-3360.

As a salute to our WWI veterans, the part three of a four-part series chronicling local news during the conflict follows.

In March of 1943, new air raid signals were in effect. Point value for processed food was published often in the Headlight after the law became effective on March 1, 1943, followed by an official table of point values for meat, fats, fish and cheese. S.O. Boothe, local chairman for the 1943 American Red Cross Campaign, assisted by B.H. McElhinney, announced the campaign was off to a good start. The Red Cross continued to furnish bandages under the direction of Mrs. D.R. Wintermann and Mrs. H.C. Fitzgerald. Tin can collections continued, and the Second War Loan Drive started on April 12.

In both the Red Cross and War Loan drives, Eagle Lake exceeded the quotas set. Red Cross $3,180, 92 for the quota of $1,450,000 and War Loan $417,305 for the quota of $135,000. Tests were also given at school to locate potential officers for the army and navy. Gordon Causey made high score on the Navy V-12 test and was scheduled for additional testing.

Part 3 of 4... Local WWI vets to be honored

Appeals for knitters and helpers in the surgical dressing room continued in the Headlight as did the news digest of the Office of War Information, "Town and Farm in Wartime."

In July, Congressman Mansfield announced that he was working to secure prisoners of war to help harvest rice. Rice planters, at a joint meeting of Garwood and Eagle Lake, decided to try to get war prisoners for harvest. By August the labor shortage was acute in the cotton fields, gravel pits, and rice fields; Mexican labor was used to help ease the situation.

The toll of war took effect on Eagle Lake. On Sept. 4, 1943, Johnnie David Hutchins died while saving his crew members on a landing ship during the assault on Iwo Jima, New Guinea.

"Hutchins, although mortally wounded by the shattering explosion, quickly grasped the wheel and exhausted the last of his strength in maneuvering the vessel clear of the advancing torpedo. Still clinging to the helm, he eventually succumbed to his injuries, his final thoughts concerned only with the safety of his ship, his final efforts expended toward the security of his mission."

Eagle Lake continued with the conservation of materials. Since there were no wire coat hangers, people were urged to save pasteboard ones. Conservation of food was urged and directions for canning, use of the pressure cooker and gardening were given.

The Third War Loan Drive was launched on Sept. 1 with the slogan "Back to Attack" to help finance the invasion of Germany. By Oct. 1, Eagle Lake was over the top in the Third War Bond Drive.

The surgical dressing quota was also met by Oct. 15, 1943, with the following ladies receiving credit for their unselfish service: Mesdames Ruby Ahlers, M.L. Anderson, J.N. Bower, Harry Vower, Davis Cauthan, J.M. Chumney, T.P. Doole, I.V. Duncan, F.C. Durbin, C.E. Exvort, E.W. Hanley, Hattie Holman, C.P. Hoyoy, Roger

Killough, R.L. Lange, W.E. Lenhart, A.W. Linke, Joe D. Luna, Roy Mangum, V.T. Matthews, J.H. McCreary, Joe Lee McCreary, F.E. McLain, Horace McRee, Leslie Morris, C.C. Pennington, W.C. Reed, R.H. Reese Jr., Emanuel Roos, G.A. Seaholm, R.S. Simmons, Justin A. Smith, E.M. Smith, Lloyd Spalinger, Clarence Stephens, Hayes Stephens, Mattie Rider Street, J.M. Tate, G.E. Thomas Jr., W.M. Thomas, T.T. Waddell, W. Waddell, Alice Beber, S.S. White, R.P. Wilcox, S.D. Willis, D.R. Wintermann, Cliff Woods, H.H. Yarbery, Misses Louise Waddell, Geutice Butler, Kathryn McRee, Ruth Powers, Alice Belle Seaholm and Edith Turner.

The year 1944 brought appeals to double the American Red Cross War Fund and the appeal to insure that there be a pint of blood for every man in service from Colorado County at the Blood Mobile Unit in Columbus in May.

On the war front in 1944, came the news that Felton Forrest Alley had been killed in action in Italy on Feb. 5. Lt. Jack Larsen, a pilot on a Flying Fortress, was reported missing in action on Feb. 28, but in April, a communication announced he was a prisoner of war in Germany.

Also in April, 1944, the Congressional Medal of Honor was awarded posthumously to Johnnie David Hutchins, and a ship, a destroyer escort, was named for him and launched on May 2, 1944. On May 5, 1944, the report that Lt. Robert W. Brown Jr. was missing in action was changed to state that he was killed in action over Bulgaria on Dec. 20, 1943.

The big news of June, 1944, was the story of the invasion of France by the Allies. Along with this story was the report of General Harry H. Johnson's being military governor of Rome. He was later decorated in Rome with the American Legion of Merit and the Grand Cross of the Order of the Crown of Italy. The news of the summer carried also the information of the deaths of Almasius C. New of Glen Flora and Lt. H.R. Albright, husband of Winifred Kolberg, Lt. Davis Cauthan was reported missing in action, a report later revised to killed in action. Three service men received honors for military actions in the early part of 1944: S/Sgt. Duane M. Braun, the Distinguished Flying Cross as an aerial engineer and gunner on 35 missions and the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf clusters; Fred R. Fmka, the Distinguished Flying Cross for action off the coast of French Morocco in 1943; and Sgt. O.W. Powers for distinguished service in 31 aerial missions. About the same time, Leroy A. Muesse came home with a medical discharge for frozen feet after serving three years in Alaska.

At home, the war prison camp was completed by Aug. 25, 1944, and ready for occupation. A detachment of prisoners were expected there by the weekend to assist in the harvest. Some had already been brought from Rosenberg and were working the fields of A.P. Powers and Ernest Seatholms.

By Sept. 1, 1944, 200 war prisoners and 25 guards were stationed at the local camp, and an appeal soon went out for chairs for the soldiers' (guards) day room by W.H. Albrecht.

HOW TO WRITE AN OBITUARY FOR YOUR TEENAGER.

YOU sit and watch your child sleep. The hospital intercom serves as a constant reminder of where you are. You tuck in the blanket around his feet. He hasn't moved since you last tucked it in, but it gives you something to do. It's been two days since your child's friends carried him into the emergency room. The doctor says it's a losing battle. You're not ready for this.

When the hospital called, you thought it was a minor cut, another broken collarbone. The hospital nurse mentioned inhalants. That was a mistake, you thought. But you soon learned "sniffing" — inhaling household products to get high — was not a mistake. It was a habit. A habit that could've started with over 100 ordinary, everyday products like markers, correction fluid and spray paint. A habit that makes varicella out of soaks, soda cans, lunch bags. A habit that can damage the brain, heart.

Texas Prevention Partnership

Partnership for a Drug-Free America

kidneys, liver. A habit that can even kill the very first time. You stare at your child, and wonder if maybe that wouldn't have been better.

IT IS APPROPRIATE to include the child's nickname if well-known.

It's been 16 hours since your child was pronounced dead. The relatives you phoned didn't know about inhalants. It seems no one did. You haven't slept in two days but somehow, you keep going. Because you have a funeral to arrange. And people to console. And someone from the obituary section is on the phone. They need to know about the child you just lost.

FAMILIES WILL often prefer to have the funeral home handle the obituary.

Could this be your child? We hope not. But inhalant abuse is on the rise. For more information about sniffing, please call 1-800-269-4237

There are signs to look for. You just need to know what they are.

IF YOU DON'T WANT TO LEARN ABOUT OBITUARIES, PLEASE LEARN ABOUT SNIFFING. CALL 800-269-4237

YOUR NAME COULD BE HERE!

WEEK #1 RESULTS

- Bellville 14, Needville 21
- Columbus 13, Cuero 33
- East Bernard 0, Ganado 23
- Rice Raiders 21, Weimar 48
- Sealy 35, Luling 12
- Arkansas 31, S. Carolina 21
- Texas Tech 23, Penn State 24
- TCU 27, Iowa State 10
- Navy 33, SMU 2
- Louisiana Tech 19, Univ. of Houston 7
- Dallas Cowboys 31, Denver Broncos 21
- Houston Oilers 17, Pittsburgh Steelers 34
- Miami Dolphins 20, New England Patriots 3
- Minnesota Vikings 20, Detroit Lions 10
- St. Louis Rams 17, New Orleans Saints 13

Even though the Chronicle never printed a score for the East Bernard-Ganado game, the local sport officianado from our neighboring newspaper, The Banner Press, told us Ganado won 23-0; contrary to the 1-0 record listed by that Houston paper for East Bernard.

I don't know much about Needville, but I thought Bellville would win their game. The rest of the high school games came out about like most people thought.

Oh, what a heart-breaker for Texas Tech! There's nothing worse than losing a close game by a last-minute field goal. That's exactly how my alma mater lost in the quarter finals my junior year of high school. There wasn't a dry eye on any of the La Marque fans that night.

The other game wasn't a surprise. I still haven't figured out how they're going to fill a new stadium or sell the expanded seating at the Dome when they never have a true sell-out as it is.

The best entry of the week was Lila Armstrong of Eagle Lake; she missed three. Like myself, she picked Bellville, East Bernard and Texas Tech to win. In fact, everybody who turned in an entry went with East Bernard. Better luck next week!
