High school teacher going up against Gramm

High school teacher, city councilman and "everyman" Victor Morales will stand against Republican U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm in the Nov. general election.

Political analysis said Morales' runoff victory on a shoestring budget (less than $15,000) over U.S. Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas, was nothing more than anti-incumbent sentiment; others said it was widespread desire for new leadership; still others - who didn't mind insulting voters' intelligence - said it was the similarity between Morales' name and that of Attorney General Dan Morales that pulled votes like magic.

But the nominee's popularity among Hispanic voters is indisputable.

"There's no question that Victor Morales is going to have a lot of appeal to Hispanics in the general election," Tom Paulken, chairman of the state Republican Party, told the Houston Chronicle.

All eyes are on the Democratic Party to see if it will work as hard to support Morales as it would have Bryant to unseat two-termer Gramm, who has $3 million to start his campaign.

The Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, led by Sen. Bob Kerrey, D-Neb., met with Morales last week in Houston to discuss plans to spend up to $1.6 million on his campaign.

Morales told the Chronicle he would contrast his military service with Gramm's draft deferments and show the discrepancy between Gramm's attacks on government and the fact that the senator has enjoyed government benefits from high school and college education to government payroll checks as a university professor and lawmaker.

But Morales said he would not criticize Gramm for missing votes in the Senate during his failed presidential candidacy, because he missed many Crandall City Council meetings while on the campaign trail himself.

Perot Calls for Political Reform

Dallas billionaire H. Ross Perot, the leader of the Reform Party, came to Austin last week and called for an end to the Electoral College, limiting the cost and length of campaigns and mandating weekend voting.

Speaking to a standing room only crowd at the University of Texas, Perot went through a laundry list of changes he believes would improve America's political system and get the Reform Party on the Texas ballot in Nov.

Perot also called for banning congressional candidates from receiving campaign contributions from sources outside their district.

Judge to Hear Insurance Suit

State District Judge Amado Abascal of Zavala County will hear class action lawsuits against Allstate Insurance Co. and Farmers Insurance Co., alleging the companies overbilled Texans for auto insurance coverage.

As many as 4 million current and former policy holders could be affected in the lawsuits, which seek more than $100 million. Farmers insures about 1.2 million drivers in Texas; Allstate insures about 560,000.

Plaintiffs' attorneys estimated the overcharges of $57 million over the last 10 years for Farmers customers; $52 million for Allstate customers.

The Dallas Morning News reported the key issue in the case is the practice of "rounding" bills, under which insurers round their premium bills up or down to the nearest dollar so they do not include any cents in the total.

Meanwhile, Texas Insurance Commissioner Elton Bomer has planned a hearing on recommendations by two administrative law judges who are proposing a new benchmark auto premium.

The commissioner should make a decision on the recommendations by midsummer, his spokesman Lee Jones said.

Though no proposed benchmark amount was publicized, insurance

Warnkens to celebrate 50th anniversary

Rev. and Mrs. J. Warnken

The children of Rev. and Mrs. J. Warnken, along with members of the Lone Oak Baptist Church, are planning a reception in honor of the couple's 50th wedding anniversary. The gathering will be held Sunday, April 28, in the Lone Oak Baptist Church, where he is pastor.

J. Albert Warnken, a native of Yoakum, and the former Helen Reese of Eagle Lake were married on April 28, 1946, just two months after he was honorably discharged from the U.S. Navy in World War II, having served over three years, finishing up with a 21-month tour of duty in the South Pacific. Warnken was awarded three Air Medals for his service as a turret gunner in twin-engine bombers.

The Warnkens graduated from college together, at the top of the class, in 1956 from East Texas Baptist College in Marshall. He also attended Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

J. Albert was called in to the Gospel Ministry in July 1952. He was licensed and ordained by the First Baptist Church of Eagle Lake. The Warnkens have served faithfully in the ministry since that time.

Pastorates in Oklahoma and Texas included the Tom Baptist Church, Lassater; First Baptist Church, Cumby; Director of Association Missions for Fannin County in Bonham; First Baptist Church, Queen City; Mims Memorial Baptist Church, Conroe; First Baptist Church, Valliant; First Baptist Church, Nixon; Memorial Baptist Church, Grapevine; First Baptist Church, Sayre; First Baptist Church, Jacksboro; and the Lone Oak Baptist Church.

He has served as an Evangelist in many revivals in Arkansas, Louisiana, Utah, Ohio, Texas, Oklahoma and the Philippines Islands.

Warnken has served on various committees, including the Pastor's Advisory Board of East Texas Baptist University and the Board of Directors for the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma. He was chairman for several years of the Baptist Student Union Committee at the Sayre campus of Southwestern Oklahoma State University-Sayre campus.

The Warnkens have been at the Lone Oak church since Jan. of 1988, and though they consider themselves to be retired, much progress has been made at the small country church. The fellowship hall has been more than doubled in size and four new classrooms have been added as well as construction at the church.

Mrs. Warnken is a retired Elementary school teacher. She taught at Nixon, Conroe, Honey Grove, Bonham and Grapevine schools in Texas, and in the Valiant and Sayre Public School systems in Oklahoma.

Rev. Warnken continues to serve in the leadership roles of the Sayre Ministerial Alliance and is the author of Parson to Person a weekly devotional column in The Sayre Record newspaper.

When the couple resided in Sayre during their five-and-a-half year pastorate, Mrs. Warnken taught elementary school and later became the librarian at the Sayre Public Library. She was so employed when the new library was built.

During their stay in Sayre, he led in the Together We Build Program in the construction of the existing First Baptist Church plant. Many new programs were started during the Warnken's tenure at First Baptist, Sayre, and attendance and baptisms were continually on the rise.

The couple has two children, Sheryn Ruth Warnken, former librarian in Sayre for many years, is presently a librarian at the William S. Key Correctional Center; and a son, Paul Albert, who resides in Jacksboro where he is an officer at the Wackenhut Correctional Center.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend the reception from 2-4 p.m. Sunday, April 28. The couple considers your attendance a most cherished gift and respectfully requests no others. The Lone Oak Baptist Church is located six miles west and one mile north of Sayre.
