BLOCK PLAQUE ATTACK

Plaque is to teeth, what a 300-pound linebacker is to a quarterback. Decay-promoting bacteria that normally live in the mouth adhere to the tooth surfaces and form sticky, colorless masses called dental plaque. Plaque accumulates around and between the teeth and in the pits and grooves of the chewing surfaces of back teeth.

The bacteria in plaque convert sugar in the foods you eat to acids. These acids eat away the hard tooth enamel (demineralization) and start to form cavities. The sticky plaque enables bacteria and the acids they produce to remain on the tooth surface instead of being washed away by saliva. The longer plaque is allowed to remain undisturbed on tooth surfaces, the greater is its ability to produce acid from sugars.

Block plaque by 1) Brushing and flossing thoroughly at least once a day to break up plaque's bacterial colonies and 2) Avoid sugary foods. The game plan should be to remove plaque before it hardens into a deposit called "calculus" which can only be removed professionally.

Presented as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of JOHN B. MYRES, D.D.S., 704 S. McCarty Avenue, Eagle Lake, 234-3525.

Living Hope VBS a big success

Living Hope Church concluded their 1996 Vacation Bible School on Friday, June 10, with an African bazaar.

Pastors Joe and Mercy Fling, who directed the week-long program, were ecstatic in their description of the program, "We tripled attendance over last year and had no major mishaps."

About 105 children and 25 adult workers were involved on the "Kingdom of the Son" program. The teachings centered around the Lord's Prayer with decorations, songs, games and crafts with an African Safari theme.

Pastor Joe Fling praised his workers, "We planned on a big increase in the number of children this year. That is, we planned for 50. When we had 78 by the third day, we relied on talented volunteers to rise to the occasion. We started the week with five classes and had to improvise two additional classes to handle the crowds. It was great!"

Teachers and workers included Trine Alvarado, Debbie Lewis, Maria Diaz, Cherrie and Gloria McCain, all of Eagle Lake; Frances Geib from Wharton; Donna Ellis, Orchard; Anita Murrillo, East Bernard; Lori Moore, Sheridan; and Sarah Rivera of Garwood.

Lola Valdez, Gloria Foster, Jody Murrillo and Bart Catlett handled refreshments and helped out anywhere and everywhere needed.

The week concluded with an African bazaar on Friday. This two-hour party at the end of the program included food, balloons, face painting and lots of games. Many parents turned out to see all the activities that the children had been involved in during the week.

The bazaar was coordinated by Rhanda Latimore.

The Missionary theme this year was Francis Suza who oversees 120 house churches in Kenya and Uganda. Living Hope has provided support to Suza for four years. The offerings given by the children in nickles and dimes totaled over $200 and will be sent directly to Suza.

Pastor Fling entertained the children with mission stories, dramatizing stories of David Livingstone, Robert Moffett, Don Richardson and Jim Elliot, as well as Living Hope supports such as Suza and Hector Montalvo.

The Flings wish to publicly thank all who worked in the Vacation Bible School and everyone in the community who entrusted their children to Living Hope this year.

"It was a joy to have them. We think that good memories were made and many drew a little closer to God this week. When the children turn out like this, there is Hope."

Hengst receives music degree

World renowned jazz guitarist Pat Metheny congratulated David Dustin Hengst, son of Pam Hengst of Eagle Lake, after presenting him with a bachelor of music degree at the 1996 Berklee College of Music Commencement Ceremony on May 12.

Hengst received a degree in music production and engineering — a major designed to equip him with the necessary skills to thrive in the competitive music industry job market.

Metheny, who received an honorary doctorate of music, delivered a heartfelt commencement address to some 500 graduates, focusing on his love of music and experiences over a 20-plus year career, including a brief stint teaching at Berklee in the 1970's.

Also on hand to receive an honorary doctorate was rhythm and blues diva Patti LaBelle, who expressed her hopes that the graduates be "as blessed as I have been."

Founded in 1945, Berklee is the world's largest independent college of music and the premier institution for study of contemporary music. Berklee has a multicultural enrollment of over 2,700 students, 40% of whom are international, representing 75 countries.

EMS Unit 803 is growing

Pictured above are the newest members of EMS Unit 803 of the Colorado County Emergency Medical Services, from left, Pat Flores, Kurt Sunderman and Dawn Horndt. Thanks to several area residents who saw the need for more certified personnel to help with crew shortages, the service now has three new EMTs, and the possibility of another three receiving their EMT certification in the near future. These people gave 120 hours of very hard classroom work, hospital rotation and hands on skills, plus taking that final state test. The weeks of waiting and study paid off. The crew members of 803 wish to congratulate and welcome aboard these new EMTs. Headlight Photo by Carol Cardenas
