

Scruggs in concert at ELPS

Joe Scruggs will be in concert at Eagle Lake Primary School Wednesday, April 23 at 7 p.m. in the cafeteria. Scruggs has been performing for children and families across the U.S. since 1984.

Scruggs' musical background can be traced to his childhood days and involvement with the Methodist Church choir.

He was heavily influenced by the folk singers of the 60s and enjoyed playing his guitar whenever possible.

In 1983, when it became apparent to Joe that he wanted to make a commitment to producing quality children's music, he called on longtime friend and marketing whiz, Pete Markham, to go into business.

Pete listened to the songs Joe had already recorded (from what was to eventually become the "Late Last Night" album) and immediately agreed to join in the venture, moving to Austin from Los Angeles, Calif.

Targeting both the educational and family entertainment realms, Scruggs and Markham have built up an amazing following across the nation.

In addition to the many requests he received for city-wide family shows, Joe regularly performs for the National Association for the Education of Young Children, International Reading Association, Southern Association on Children Under Six and various other teacher's organizations across the U.S.

Whether he addresses the fear of the dark, the ability to think up imaginative excuses or the enjoyment of simple things in life, his words and music will always find a responsive home within his listeners' hearts.

Scruggs began writing family-oriented songs to help his wife with her work in the kindergarten classroom.

Her stories of the children's concerns and activities - as well as the contributions of his children - ensure that he will never be at a loss for material.

Joe's music has earned four prestigious Parent's Choice Awards.

His two videos are also both award winners. The newest video, Joe Scruggs in Concert, was chosen as a winner of a 1993 Notable Children's Video Award from the American Library Association.

Admission for the Primary School concert will be $1 for school age children; $2 for adults; and age three and under are free of charge.
