"55 Years Have Passed"

We came into the world together and for years never apart, We laughed, and cried and maybe hadn't talked But knew each other's feelings; it came from our hearts.

We've stuck together, through thick and thin, and there's been miles between us, but in our mind, our thoughts are never far apart, the senses and feelings remain the same; we've known each other for 55 years. Others tried to keep us apart, but made us closer in heart.

I can't help recall time we shared, through these years we've done it all; And it's so great to be a twin because you're blessed with your very best friend. When the time came and we needed each other, someone bigger than you or I had it all arranged, and by your side, I'll only be a short trip away.

Happy Birthday
"Love You More"

"An Ordinary Man"

In a small Texas town there was a man who was thought of well.

The tallest shrine couldn't recall the memories he left us all.

He never wanted no recognition, but take a look about our City.

As a child, I can recall a great gift... a community hall.

Then came scholarships to those in need and in his heart there was no greed.

His lovely wife must not have minded, she stood by him all the time.

They built and gave for all to share, a library beyond compare.

A hospital came, seemed like overnight, and they furnished rooms out of sight.

No other could stand so tall, for one little town they gave their all.

Their dreams will forever live, for they were so blessed to give.

One month a year, the crowd came with smiles and tears, laughs and cheers. What a surprise to look in the skies and see the helicopter arrived. Old Santa came out of the blue to see the kids he all knew.

Words cannot say enough, but we thank God he gave you both to us to live in our city.

Thanks from all of us in Eagle Lake
