stronger penalties.

The employment of a full-time animal control officer in next year's budget was also discussed. The possibility of moving the officer from public works to the police department was considered a possibility.

Police Chief Keith Webb presented logistics for keeping it under public works versus his department.

Council agreed that the magnitude of the dog problem warrants the position.

"With the number of dogs running around, the only way we're going to get a handle on it is a full-time person," said Councilman J.W. Shavers. Webb will check with El Campo on its dog and cat ordinance and animal control procedures, and report back to Council.

Shavers suggested that a reliable truck be equipped and the process of picking up dogs that are in violation of the City's ordinance in regard to dogs running loose be concentrated on immediately. Police Officer Tim Crume is currently assisting with animal control.

In other business, Council:

• Addressed the drainage problem on Hubbards Ferry Road once again;

• Adopted the Colorado County Emergency Management Plan;

• Approved a contract with the Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs Home Program to allow for the renovation of seven houses in the City; and

• Voted to allow City employees to exchange the Veterans Day holiday for the day after Thanksgiving.

Hunter education course still available

Those who played all summer long and now are scrambling to find a hunter education course (HEC) for their children or themselves are still in luck. Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TPWD) has classes scheduled throughout the state this fall.

An automated voice program at TPWD allows callers to access information on the HEC program, including a directory of upcoming courses, by phone, 24 hours a day. To access the program, call 1-800-792-1112 and press 6, then press 2.

TPWD also has several classes scheduled to certify new instructors. Volunteer instructors are needed to teach hunter education.

Every Texas hunter born on or after Sept. 2, 1971, must meet requirements for hunter education training.

If you were born on or after Sept. 2, 1971, and you are:

• 17 year old and older: you must successfully complete a hunter education course.

• 12-16 years old: you must successfully complete a hunter education course or be accompanied by a licensed hunter 17 years old or older.

• Under 12 years old: you must be accompanied by a licensed hunter 17 years of age or older.

Participants must be at least 12 years to take the course.

The program is reciprocal with all other states and Canadian provinces.

The minimum 10-hour course, which must be scheduled over a minimum of two days, focuses primarily on hunting safety, responsibility, ethics, game laws and a number of other topics and costs $10.

Certification is not required to purchase a license, but the person must carry certification while hunting.
