Hope was born on Christmas

By Revs. Joe and Mercy Fling, Pastors, Living Hope Church

There is no other season quite like Christmas. Christmas evokes feelings of emotion that run the extremes of human experience.

For many of us who were brought up in Christian homes, we recall with joy the opening of gifts, a teenage hayride, or perhaps dressing as a wise-man in the Church Christmas Pageant.

Such memories pale in comparison to the smiles of the children, the joys of giving, and the heightened spiritual awareness that we all feel in this season.

It is as if Heaven were a little closer to Earth at this time.

Despite all the commercialization of the seasonal shopping rush, there remains the one transcendent fact: that at the start and still today, the heart of the matter, amid all the hustle and bustle, there is Jesus Christ, as a newborn baby lying in a manger, the Son of God come into the world as the hope of the ages.

This is our ninth Christmas message to you. Every year we speak from the same heart, the same Spirit, for nothing has really changed since our first message of hope. For today, as 2000 years ago, the world is in need of hope. People need hope.

Wide-spread depression, divorce, drug use and suicide stand as proof that for people without hope, life is often not worth living. People need hope. People need Jesus. Young and old; rich or poor; all races, languages and nationalities need Jesus. We all need hope.

For the teenager with no answers for life, Jesus Christ offers hope. For the married couple in marital distress Jesus Christ offers hope. For the alcoholic, drug addict, abused wife or child, Jesus Christ offers hope.

When Jesus Christ was born in Bethlehem, He brought hope into the world. That is what the Christmas carols tell us: "The HOPES and fears of all the years, are met in thee tonight."

Jesus' life was a life of giving hope. What He left with His church is the message of hope. The hope that you can be what God intended you to be. The hope that your problems are solvable. The hope for a better tomorrow. The hope to be back in union with God. It is the answer that springs eternal in the heart of man.

We have seen over the last eight years the excitement as the world began to turn its heart to God. Everyone from Bill Clinton to John Paul II has picked up on the message of hope since our first message to you.

Hope is contagious. The world needs to see the message of hope for their lives.

Remember at this season, that in the darkest of times, God sent his Son into the world that we might have life. Jesus Christ's birth, remembered at Christmas in so many ways signals the birth of that hope.

Be encouraged at this time to give to others. Choose to be a blessing to others at this time. Christmas is a time for giving. It is a time for love. It is a time for compassion. It is a time for hope.

In this season, we at Living Hope Church wish the love and joy of Jesus Christ on you and your home.

May God bless you in the coming year. We speak of hope to you. God meant for you to have a happy life, to experience love, peace and joy. We wish the best for you.

Have a blessed Christmas and hope in His Spirit throughout the new year.
