Candidates forum set for Feb. 21 in Alleyton

On Saturday, Feb. 21, there will be a "Meet the Candidates Forum" at Mt. Mariah Church in Alleyton.

This forum will give you, the voters, a chance to meet and listen to the candidates that will be on the ballot this year.

For the forum the following have been invited: Darlene Hayek and Dale Alexander both seeking the position of County Clerk; Al Jamison, Leonard Peters and James Kearney, all seeking the position of County Judge; Carolyn Easton, Frances Truchard and Chuck Glynn all seeking the position of Justice of the Peace Precinct 3.

Letters have been sent asking the candidates to appear. If you have questions you would like to ask, please feel free to do so.

The forum will start at 2 p.m. and, if weather permits, will be held outside the church.

If the weather is bad, it will be moved inside. After the forum, there will be refreshments served.

Please come out and let the candidates know that our town is interested in who serves us in office.

See you there!

Groundbreaking held for River Oaks

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the Oaks Assisted Living, an affiliate of River Oaks Health Care Center (ROHCC) in Columbus, were held Friday, Feb. 13. On hand for the ceremony were, from left, Columbus City Manager John Brasher; Dr. Cecil Marburger, medical director; Pete Aikin, construction superintendent; Robert and Susan Gay, owners; Mayor Dr. Tom Hancher; Therese Hudec, facility manager; and Jimmie Carter, R.N., ROHCC, director of nurses. The facility will consist of 26 units and have licensing and capacity for 34 residents. The level-B facility will have a 24-hour staff to offer a more independent lifestyle for disabled, handicapped and otherwise incapacitated persons. The facility is expected to be completed by this fall.

What's new at the 1998 Livestock Show?

The first weekend of the Houston Livestock Show & Rodeo, Feb. 20-21, 1998, will have something new for both cattleman and the consumer.

For those who have attended previous Shows, the appearance of the Piedmontese cattle breed should not be classified as new.

This Italian beef breed was introduced into the U.S. in the 1980s and to the Houston Show in 1991. However, this year this breed will be appearing with some new credentials that will excite both cattlemen and consumer.

Piedmontese breeders that will be showing their cattle this year will not only be able to show them to the public, but will be able to offer new information to Show attendees concerning the true merits of this beef breed.

Since the 1997 Houston Show, the National Piedmontese Association (PAS) has received a certified Piedmontese beef program from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

A new marketing entity, Ameri-Pied Beef Inc. of Wooster, Ohio, has been formed to place certified Piedmontese beef in the hands of the American beef consumer, under the name "Better Beef".

Another interesting aspect of this breed of cattle is its heart healthy beef product. Ameri-Pied Beef Inc. and the American Heart Association (AHA) have entered into a contractual agreement that would permit the Heart Association certification mark and statement to be placed on the product, Better Beef — Customized (Side of Beef).

At the present time, the Piedmontese cattle are unique in having the AHA certification on an entire side of beef which is known as Better Beef Customized.

Representatives from Ameri-Pied will be at the Piedmontese display to provide information on how Piedmontese beef will work for the cattleman, consumer, distributor and retailer.

"Hors d'oeuvres have always a pathetic interest for me; they remind me of one's childhood that one goes through, wondering what the next course is going to be like — and during the rest of the menu one wishes one had eaten more of the hors d'oeuvres." — Saki
