

About Town...

•Winners last weekend in the Go Texan events at the Houston Livestock Show & Rodeo from our area were: women's hay hauling, Vivian and Michelle Spanihel and Rachel Weishuhn, 8th place; boy's horse-shoes, Zac Perry and Rusty Moore, 3rd; girl's horse-shoes, Jennifer Munoz and Stephanie Botard, 8th; senior washer pitchers, Stephen and Doug Bardford, 4th; and photography, Keith Webb and Pam Potter, 5th.

•Another fine performance from a local participant in Houston was Clay Cerny. As we told y'all last week, Clay will be roping each weekend of the Show. This past weekend he took fifth place in calf roping. For someone as young as he is, we think that's pretty special. Congratulations, Clay!

Hear about possible new income

Are you looking for ways to increase your income? Perhaps something in the off-season or winter months? Don't want to travel to get the information. Don't have time to attend all-day seminars at high prices? How about getting this information first hand from the experts?

This is being provided to you for free from people who are interested in helping the people of Eagle Lake. This detail packed open-forum on specifically how you can increase your income right here in Eagle Lake is too important to miss. Mark your calendars now!

On March 28, during the Attwater's Prairie Chicken Festival, there will be professional people from the U.S.D.A. Texas Prairie Wetlands Project; Sam Houston Resource Conservation and Development Area in partnership with U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service, talking about the native Gulf Coast prairie restoration project; as well as private conservation agencies such as the Nature Conservancy of Texas and Gulf Coast Bird Observatory, plus well-known Texas rancher, Laurance Armour from the Pierce Ranch, talking about the Rice Industry Coalition for the Environment, commonly known as RICE.

These people are all coming to Eagle Lake to share the economic benefits of complimentary uses for farming and grazing lands. Are you looking for cost sharing land improvements? How about getting real dollars into your pocket for what you are doing in the management of your land? How about a 50% match on every dollar that you spend to improve the quality of your prairie, whether it be used for grazing or habitat. Do you want to know more?

Make plans now to hear the knowledgeable people talk about this important topic and others on how you can increase your profits.

These people are being invited to talk to farmers, ranchers or anyone who manages land as well as land owners in this area. They will be using the Eagle Lake City Council Room. Diversification is key to the future of farming and ranching.

Look for more in next week's Headlight about who these people are and what they can do for you.

For more information, contact Laura Myres at 409-234-5172.

The Attwater's Prairie Chicken

Festival is scheduled for March 27 and 28 in downtown Eagle Lake.

Other events include a Talent Show, Silent Auction, Fun Run, Kidfish, Petting Zoo, Refuge Tours, games and food for the entire family and a street dance featuring the band "Colorado".

This year's festival will prove to be the best ever! For more information, contact the Chamber of Commerce at 234-2780.

Local Scouts 2nd in basketball

Saturday, Feb. 21, Eagle Lake Boy Scout Troop 334 participated in the First Annual Brahman District 5-on-5 Basketball Tournament.

The Brahman District includes troops from Bay City, Columbus, East Bernard, El Campo, Wharton and Hungerford, as well as several other cities.

In a double elimination tournament, the Eagle Lake boys (The Eagles) were undefeated until they played their last two games, back-to-back.

The second of these games was played, ironically, against the team that the Eagles defeated in the first game of the tournament. This being the Eagles' first loss and the rival team (Hungerford Disciples) having one loss themselves, the Eagles were forced to play their final game (third in a row) after a 10 minute break. The Eagles played aggressively and wouldn't give up.

To all who attended, it was obvious that the boys did their best, yet their strength and energy ran out.

"Congratulations guys... you did a great!" said Scoutmaster Erik Cameron.

Members of Scout Troop 334 Eagles are Harley Alley, Adrian Avila, Adrian Espinoza, Mark Espinosa, Miguel Mendoza and David Ramirez.

Their coach is Scoutmaster Cameron.

Scout Troop 334 Eagles recently brought home second place in a recent Brahman District basketball tournament.

Prom
