

Schorlemmer home chosen ‘Yard of Month’

By Bernice Bornstein, Eagle Lake Garden Club

The thermometer read 80 degrees at nine in the morning on its way to a high of 100 as we put the sign in the yard. While most of the crops are wilting and crying for rain due to possibly the worst drought in the history of the area, many yards in Eagle Lake are staying green. This is due to TLC and daily attention of the owners.

The Yard of the Month for Aug. 1998 goes to Janet and Louis Schorlemmer Jr. at 303 W. Center in Eagle Lake.

The Schorlemmers have lived in their home for 27 years and said they have slowly added flowering plants and landscaping through the years.

You may notice that they recently removed a couple of trees and added a wonderful new driveway.

Janet attributes much of the success of her lovely yard to her garden- ing mentor, Sandy Thomson.

Both Janet and Louis especially like the back yard where there is an abundance of fern and flowering plants around the shady yard and covered patio.

You can see a glimpse of the back through a beautifully landscaped “garden gate” between the house and garage.

Louis said the yard maintenance is a “two part process”. “She points the finger and I do the work.”

In reality, it’s a couple endeavor with extra help. Both said that when their boys were small, they kept the yard primarily in grass for easy main- tenance.

Now that their family is grown and gone, they have given more attention to beautifying the yard.

Congratulations to the Schorlem- mers for a very lovely and well kept yard.
