ABOUT TOWN...

•Atilano Cardenas Sr., better known as "Mr. Otto", is back home after a stay at SW Memorial Hospital. He took a fall at his home earlier in the week and ended up having a pacemaker put in. All is okay, as he seems stronger than ever. This week, he was busy planning and celebrating his 89th birthday. May God bless him with many more.

We love you grandpa!

•On Monday, Dec. 7, Esther Contreras of Eagle Lake entered Southwest Memorial Hospital to undergo a quadruple bypass. After five hours of waiting, the family was told Esther had come through like a champ. Family from as far away as Florida came to be by her side. Our thoughts and prayers are with family members and Esther for a speedy recovery.

•In the Headlight last week, the obituary on Edwin Buxkamper was missing one pallbearer. Left out by accident was Ronnie Gold. We apologize for this omission. When we received the copy of the obituary, his name was not included.

•Mrs. Lee Anna (Austin) Ashton left Friday, Nov. 20, on vacation. She spent Friday and Saturday night in San Antonio with her daughter, Loretta, and husband, C.W. Bankston, formerly of Bonus.

Saturday night, she attended a ball in downtown San Antonio, the 77th Annual Potentate and Commandress Ball. C.W. is the Illustrious Potentate. Sunday, Nov. 22, they left for California for a visit and Thanksgiving with her other children, Laura Wright and Walter Henderson and families. While in California, she was the recipient of two great-grandchildren, both born Sunday, Nov. 29, the babies of two brothers and their wives, Torey and Dameon Campbell. Their grandmother is Jackie Hurd Campbell, formerly of Eagle Lake.

Mrs. Austin returned home Thursday, Dec. 3, reporting a very exciting vacation.

Foot Facts

By Dr. Eric R. Tepper, Podiatrist

THE RESULTS ARE IN...

The American Podiatric Medical Association (APMA) recently released a study on Americans' attitudes about foot care. Some statistics may surprise you. As reported in Podiatry Today, one out of ten Americans says his or her feet hurt "all the time." Sixty percent of adults participate in sports (including aerobics, walking, running, and field/court sports) that hurt their feet. Forty-six percent of American adults spend eight or more hours a day on their feet. By far, the most shocking statistic is that 56 percent of the survey's one thousand respondents believe that foot pain is "normal." The last statement is a common fallacy. Foot pain is anything but normal; if you experience chronic foot discomfort or pain, see a podiatrist.

What are you saying about the health of your feet? Do they demand immediate attention or do they just require periodic routine maintenance? Either way, you'll find the foot care you need at our office, conveniently located at Rice Medical Center. We offer compassionate attention to a full range of podiatric problems. Complete foot care for the family begins by calling us for an appointment at 234-5571. I have office hours every Tuesday.

P.S. Problems elsewhere in your body that affect your gait may also cause foot pain. Your podiatrist may suggest ways to avoid adding that stress to your feet.
